A LONG CREEK friend of ours remarked recently that a neighbor of his was a Jack-of-all-trades; could do anything. "Or anybody," rejoined a bystander.

NEW YORK, New Jersey and Kentucky are going through a hard political battle. Kentucky is likely to change front this year and elect the republican candidate.

THE Chicago Tribune finds that a great many congressmen and senators favor recognition of the Cuban revolutionists as soon as they have formed a de facto government.

EXCELSIOR, Mystic and Columbia lodges, K. of P. of Portland, have consolidated under the name of American, No. 1. This will give Portland one very strong organization.

MEXICO has just completed a shipment abroad of $250,000 in Mexican coins. Some little 2x4 goldbug across the water evidently finds some good use for "cheap money."

IT is rumored that Queen Victoria doesn't look with favor upon the new woman. It is a well known fact that her eldest son doesn't look with favor upon the old woman.

SENATOR HILL'S "personal liberty" is an odd piece of goods, says the Inter-Ocean. Last fall the people of New York played the same game and David failed to reach the goal.

SOUTH CAROLINA was one of the thirteen original states while Montana is but a youngster, yet the former spent only $552,000 for schools while the latter expended for that purpose $700,000, for the year 1894.

COL. HENRI WATTERSON'S address to the "boys who wore the blue," down at Louisville, was a master effort. Some exchange wants to know where Mr. Watterson fought. It matters not. He is a thorough patriot and that is enough.

THE meeting of the blue and gray at Chickamauga was most successful, and the various monuments were turned over to the government. The "Yankee huzzas" and "rebel yell" were both there, however, in unison and with one common purpose.

THE Jewish New Year, 5656, began last Thursday, and the Fast of Gedaliah, though occurring on Saturday, the 21st inst., was celebrated on the following day. Saturday next, Sept. 28th, is the Day of Atonement, all observed by orthodox Hebrews the world over.

IT is a noteworthy fact that the gold-money people are not circulating many copies of the Horro Harvey debate. What is the matter with that debate? On the other hand, the friends of silver are sending out thousands of copies, broadcast. May not this fact be taken as an indication as to who was ahead in that famous discussion of "sound, honest money?"—Spokane Review.

THE managers of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight say that the mill will come off as scheduled, while the governor of Texas has an entirely different opinion. It now remains to be seen who is really at the head of governmental affairs down in the "Lone Star state," and we are inclined to believe that in this instance the man who warms the gubernatorial chair will get called holding a bob-tailed flush.

IT happened that a lawyer was called in judgment before his fellows to show cause why he should not be disbarred, the allegation being that he had uttered a truth. To the manifest surprise of those present he admitted his guilt, but proved that he had merely combated a malicious statement that a lawyer may be honest. Then his accusers wrung his hand, joying that the code of ethics was scathless; and he in the end became great among them.

IN Morrow county it is stated that there has not been a term of circuit court held for twelve months. Court convened there a few weeks ago, a grand jury was impaneled and returned 5 true bills, and there was a docket sufficiently long to require 2 or 3 weeks of court to clear it away, yet court was adjourned without trying a case. We have seen no explanation offered yet. What's the matter?—Malheur Gazette.

There were no cases ready for trial, hence no need of two or three weeks of court. This should be highly satisfactory to the taxpayers.

BRAN IS NUTRITIOUS. A Michigan Man Tells Why He Considers It the Cheapest Food.

The feeding of coarsely ground wheat, bran and all, is in some measure an advance on the value of bran feeding, mixed with other foods. But there cannot be too much insistence on the value of bran mixed with other foods. Mr. W. C. Rockwood, in a recent contribution to the Michigan Farmer, refers to the subject:

Bran is one of the very best of the grain foods for all kinds of live stock. In fact, its value is not half realized. Too many farmers and stock breeders think of it only in connection with bran mash, more as a medicine than anything else. They consider it to be useful as a laxative, and cooling to the system; but there its value ends. In reality it is of more value to the stock raiser than any other single food for all classes and conditions of animals upon the farm. It holds no rank perhaps as fat producer, that is, not strictly speaking. In actual sound, healthy bone and muscle growing elements it is rich; and animals in thrifty, growing condition will always be fat to a certain extent, yet to an animal for the shambles something besides bran would be necessary without doubt.

After years of feeding all kinds of grain feeds, both home grown and purchased, to all kinds of stock which are usually kept on a farm, I have come to regard bran as a necessity, and consider it cheap at almost any figure. Without doubt it commands a higher price in market than it should, in view of the present low price of wheat, but in my estimation it is still the choicest feed a man can buy. I have made it one of the principal parts of the food for my pigs from weaning time until they are sold—with the exception of a few weeks finishing off on corn. I feed it to all breeding hogs, being especially good for sows suckling pigs. For young stock it is the starchy, mixed partly with something else, perhaps, such as ground barley or oats.

For the horses it is excellent as a part of their rations at any time, and while not sufficiently heavy of itself for hard work, is good when fed with other grain. It keeps the bowels in good condition and there will be no trouble with colic.

Some farmers feed straw to their horses in winter with corn meal as a grain food. Such horses get colic frequently, but if bran is given in connection with it there is no trouble, as the bran acts as a preventive of impaction in the stomach and bowels.—Prairie Farmer.

EXEMPTION FROM LABOR OF ANY KIND is apt to make one "tired." Such a condition exists in certain parts of our force, and unwillingly the head works to that degree necessary to cause the "taper" to make marks on the paper in imitation of trying to write editorials, and it is to be hoped that unwittingly the Gazette's readers may be induced to believe that real effort is being put forth, though in truth it is farthest from the fact.

HEPPNER'S business men are yet putting forth much energy in trying to increase their trade. "Grand stand finishes" and "brass band concerts" will not accomplish this, and Heppner's business fraternity know it. First of all there must be good roads leading into the metropolis from the interior, and these must be kept in good repair without toll being charged. Then merchants must have plenty of goods to sell at close figures and the public must be made aware of it through that greatest of all advertising mediums—the newspaper. There must be entertainment for both man and beast. Heppner has learned well the lessons of the past and profited much by the early experiences of the pioneers in the business arena, and today Heppner has good roads leading to it with no tolls anywhere, and in every department sells at such figures as to defy competition of neighboring towns. This year's trade is gratifying and bids fair to increase with the opening of the new year.

Some of the gold standard papers contend that the "silver mania" is losing ground. Right now when there is a lull in the political field, very little is said either way but there is a deal of thinking being done all over the country. There is the Inter-Ocean, however, one of the greatest newspapers of the Middle West, that is battling away at the same old rate for the rehabilitation of silver. It is evident that the cheapness of products is caused by the increase in the purchasing power of gold, brought about by the use of the single standard, and this will not be lost sight of, though Cleveland may club the party leaders into betraying their followers, leading them into the camp of those who operate on Wall and Lombard streets, or the republican politicians smother the honest sentiments of the party at large.

The gold-bug organs jumped with joy and greedily gathered inspiration from the alleged interview wherein Senator Vest, of Missouri, was supposed to have renounced his free coinage views and gone over to the ranks of the opposition. The "I-told-you-so's" had not ceased exulting over the matter when Senator Vest came out and plainly stated that he was where he always stood in the matter of free silver coinage and that the so-called interview was the invention of some newspaper writer. Since then the breeze has not blown so strong on the sails of the gold-bug craft and new devices are being invented to increase it from some other quarter.

Right now Westerners are rejoicing much over the appointment of that old Indian fighter, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, to the position of commanding general of the army, vice Gen. Schofield retired. This must not be construed as evidence that any living person has any sort of feeling against the sturdy old soldier who gives up his place on account of old age, but since the change had to occur, it is conceded that none were more worthy of following in the footsteps of Washington, Scott, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Schofield than Gen. Miles. As a boy of 23 years, a volunteer officer, he wore the stars of a brigadier general, and besides distinguishing himself in the West in later years, covered himself with glory during the rebellion.

Clarence Zebary returned from Long creek races Saturday, having left while the races were in full blast. Tom Dawson, Lytle Morris and John Morgan returned Tuesday afternoon.

Bob Wattenberger and his mother returned Monday from a week's visit with Mr. Oscar Thompson, an old friend and former neighbor, at his place on Butter creek, 25 miles beyond Heppner. They brought home with them 800 pounds of choice fruit from Mr. Thompson's orchard, a sample of which, in the form of nine mammoth Hungarian prunes they presented to the Journal force. Mr. Thompson has 16 acres of fruit trees, 10 acres being in prunes. He finds a ready market for his goods, fruit at a sound and good price for dried.

FOR RHEUMATISM. Paine's Celery Compound A Sure Specific. No Well-Informed Person Suffers From It. The Disease No Longer An Incurable One. Greatest of All Remedies Prescribed by Doctors. A Long, Brilliant Record of Remarkable Cures.

Neuralgia and rheumatism—two disorders no longer incurable.

Physicians today get rid of rheumatism and neuralgia, as they do sleeplessness, melancholy, hysteria and other results of nervous exhaustion, by building up the system and supporting its delicate nerve parts by the use of Paine's celery compound.

Paine's celery compound attacks the disease by getting the system back to its properly nourished condition. It stands alone in the history of medicine. It is a certain specific for the cure, not only of rheumatism, but also of all diseases due to impoverished nerves and blood.

The close connection of well-fed nerves and brain with health, is the solid rock upon which Paine's celery compound stands. The thousands of men and women all over the country who have been cured of rheumatism once and for all, by Paine's celery compound, have made good all that the medical fraternity first predicted for it.

That it restores health and strength to the body made weary, listless and despondent from nervous debility, needs no proof today in thousands of homes.

The list of those it has freed from rheumatism is a long one. It contains a host of well known men and women at home and abroad. Every city and town in the United States and Canada is represented.

Paine's celery compound was first prepared by Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college. Ever since its first appearance it has been the recognized nerve and brain invigorator among medical men. Its constant use by physicians, where an active treatment is urgently needed, speaks volumes for its efficiency in diseases of nervous origin.

Strength, buoyant spirits and freedom from pain comes with its use.

Notice. There will be a meeting of the G. A. R. Post and Woman's Relief Corps the last Saturday of this month, Sept. 28th, at 1 o'clock p. m., in the town of Heppner. All members are requested to be present. By order of the commander, T. J. LEAGUE.
