

NOT A DRAWING CARD.

The gold craze is dying out—and here is the evidence. The "Sound Money League" of Cincinnati, impressed by the "great debate" in Chicago, engaged Hon. Roswell G. Horr to deliver a speech, or lecture under its auspices in this city.

The meeting was at Odd Fellows hall and the Enquirer says:

"The attendance did not exceed thirty persons, and the paucity of numbers and sea of empty seats at Odd Fellows' hall was a surprise, in view of the recent noted debate between Mr. Horr and Mr. Harvey in Chicago on the money question. As no one of prominence was present, Mr. Horr had to introduce himself by inviting the stragglers in the balcony to come down stairs, so that he could have his hearers bunched, and a mighty small bunch it was."

If the lecturer had been Harvey instead of Horr, with such a result, the wires all over the continent would have sung with the "dying out of the silver craze," and even the ocean cable would have throbbled the news to London. But not a word will be sent over the wires. Why object then to the other construction that the "gold craze is dying out?" Such a silver failure has not been recorded even in Boston or New York. Goose sauce is gander sauce—always.—Baker City Blade.

THE need of independent free silver coinage by the United States is apparent. Without it there can be no parity except comparing gold with gold. All other things are at a discount.

H. HARDIN, the democratic candidate for governor down in Kentucky, has defied the edicts of the packed convention which declared for Clevelandism, and stands for free silver.

JUST now the authorities from one end of the country to the other are using every effort to stop prize fighting. The big Dallas fight is off, so far as that town is concerned, and it is not known where the combatants will fight now.

HON. JOSHUA PATTERSON, of Tennessee, democrat and member of congress, declares that President Grover Cleveland, like the prophets of old, is inspired. However, he neglects to point out that most of Mr. Cleveland's recent inspirations seems to have originated with the bond syndicate.—St. Louis Star-Sayings.

DESPITE the mock declarations of the goldbug orator that money is plenty, the common-sense people of this republic refuse to believe it. When everything is conducive to prosperity, the harvests yield bountiful and all the natural conditions of trade plainly most flourishing, and yet there is not a reasonable and sufficient volume of money in which to barter trade. No plausible misloading argument can explain the cause of it.—Chas. Nickell.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The Courier-Journal and Salt Lake Tribune are having quite a tilt, in a good-natured way. Even the sarcastic Waterson has no business to monkey with the Salt Lake Tribune which is one of the best edited papers in the United States.

The American Protective Tariff League is sending out a well prepared pamphlet on "Tariff Facts" and is intended for speakers and students. It is well worth perusing.

Heppner should not for a moment forget that it is necessary to keep rustling for the interior trade. It should be very careful indeed that The Dalles does not head off our Parish creek road project, which they will endeavor to do, if possible. This road is needed and then if The Dalles can offer as good a road to their place, and as short a road, it is a fair field and it will get its share of the trade.

Next spring Heppner should endeavor to get the inland telephone people to extend their line to Heppner. In this manner Heppner can reach the interior, as well as the Valley and upper country. Mr. Hopkins, of Spokane, wrote this paper some months ago that he intended to extend his line into Heppner next spring and he should be encouraged to do so.

Secretary Carlisle and the administration packed the democratic convention down in Kentucky, but Hardin and Blackburn are still making their respective canvasses on the silver side of the fence. The facts are that Kentucky is strong for silver and that accounts to some extent for the withdrawal of Gen. Banker from the senatorial contest. He stood no chance when it came to the people and he knew it. Gen. Hardin ignoring the dictates of the bosses did no more than Cleveland in 1892 when he evolved a little platform of his own.

Henri Waterson is supporting the democratic ticket down in Kentucky, so he says, but it takes a good deal of mouth work and long editorials to make the people think that Henri is real active with his Courier-Journal for Hardin. It will end in the election of Judge Bradley, so say republicans who ought to know, and some democrats too. If Bradley is elected Clevelandism is to blame for it, for Kentucky is surely democratic unless the tariff issue has made a great many changes.

Cotton has gone up a little from local causes and a great many gold bugs are making capital out of the fact that silver has not advanced much of late, but they studiously ignore the fact that silver made a strong advance earlier in the season. They also ignore the fact that even though cotton was now worth a dollar a pound in gold, that every dollar received for it only buys half what it ought if full bimetalism was in vogue. Gold has appreciated one hundred per cent, and debts have become just twice as hard to pay as they should. This is plainly evident and the whipping Satan around the stump to call attention from the real gist of the issue won't blind the voters. "Coin's" figures, year in and year out, will hold water, and even the great Roswell G. Horr had to, or did, admit it.

The latest is "government of a syndicate, by a syndicate and for a syndicate."

A Heppner boy with his "Pa" down at Portland equiried as to what grows in a beer garden. The old man applied some more pounded tea and said he believed it was "the head."

Weak and Nervous Describes the conditions of thousands of people at this season. They have no appetite, cannot sleep, and complain of the prostrating effect of warmer weather. PORTLAND EXHIBITION.—For the Oregon Industrial Exposition which opened at Portland on the 5th inst., the O. R. & N. will make a rate from Heppner and return at $4.50. Tickets will be put on sale on the 10th inst., and the limit is extended to Sunday, Oct. 10th. However, on every Tuesday during the Exposition, excursion tickets to Portland and return will be sold at $3.00 for the round trip, including two tickets of admission to the Exposition. On the excursion of the 10th inst., two tickets of admission are included. The limit of time is the same for the Tuesday excursions as for the special excursion of Oct. 10th.

"It is the best patent medicine in the world" is what Mr. E. M. Hartman, of Marquette, Oregon, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "What leads me to make this assertion is from the fact that dysentery in its worst form was prevalent around here last summer and it never took over two or three doses of that remedy to effect a complete cure." History of Grain.

We have received a copy of a unique publication called H. M. Green & Co.'s "History of Grain and the Grain Trade of the World." It is printed in colors and illustrated with a picture some 6,000 years old, from the tombs of Thebes, representing the ancient Egyptians elevating their wheat into granaries. There is also a thrilling song in hieroglyphics, with the translation of each character. The book covers the prehistoric chapter of the subject. Egyptian, Chaldean, Assyrian, Babylonian, Persian, Indian, Chinese, Phoenician and Carthaginian historians are quoted. There is a very rare description of land caravans and sea caravans. The history of wheat in Greece, Rome, Antioch, and among the Scythians, Celts, Gauls, Germans, Goths, Scots, Britons, Irish, Africans, Mound Builders, Peruvians, and American Indians, finishes the first part, or Ancient History of Grain. The part called Modern History deals with Venice, the Arabs, carrying of wheat to the New World, the Philippines, the Dutch, Antwerp, and the great modern European and American cities. There is an index covering all the matters contained in the book. It is the publishers' desire to present a copy of the work to every miller, grain dealer and interested party in the United States, and all such wishing a free copy should address H. M. Green & Co., Bialto Building, Chicago Ill. The Liverpool Corn Trade News has spoken of this book with admiration, and it has also received abundant testimonies to its merits from such crop experts as S. T. K. Prime and the Secretary of Agriculture. It reflects great credit on the intelligence of its authors, and the grain trade in general will feel no uncertain pride in receiving from their own ranks a work which is at once commercially brief, and is not the less notable for its erudition.

There can be no pleasure or happiness for persons whose liver or kidneys are unwell. They are weak, sick and irritable, and find it burdensome to perform work of any kind. What they need is a thorough treatment with Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm. This remedy is recognized by many of the best medical authorities as without a peer for the cure of diseases of the kidneys or liver. It rapidly drives out diseased conditions, restores health and strength, vigor and cheerful spirits. Price $1.00 per bottle.

The Ladies' Home Journal Invests.

What is generally conceded in Philadelphia to be one of the most desirable building sites in the city has just been purchased by The Ladies' Home Journal. The property is located at Sixth and Walnut streets, which means that it fronts on two of the most beautiful squares in Philadelphia, the famous Independence Square on the east and Washington Square on the south. The land acquired includes five properties. On May 1st, next, the houses thereon will be torn down to make room for a building costing $250,000, to be solely owned and exclusively occupied by the Journal. The building will require two years in its construction.

Mr. G. G. Strong, principal of the public schools at Anderson, Cal., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have found it an excellent remedy for lameness and slight wounds." Lameness usually results from a sprain, or other injury, or from rheumatism, for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially intended and unequalled. It affords almost immediate relief and in a short time effects a permanent cure. For sale by Sloan-Johnson Drug Co.

$1800.00 GIVEN AWAY TO INVENTORS. $25.00 every month gives away to any one who applies through us for the most meritorious patent during the month preceding.

IT'S THE SIMPLE, TRIVIAL INVENTIONS THAT YIELD FORTUNES. Such as the "eye-winder" which can be made with a nail and does not need the patentee's help, "nose-grip," "collar-button," "back-lack," "huckle-stopper," and a thousand other little things that make any one who has a way of improving, and these simple inventions are the ones that bring large returns to the inventor. Try to think of something to invent.

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS. Patents taken out through an inventive agency in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the best newspaper published in America in the interests of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advise, free of cost, the inventor each month which way his year's patent, and hundreds of thousands of copies of the "National Recorder" containing a sketch of the matter, and a description of his invention, will be sent through the United States among business and mechanics, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.
