

OFFICIAL SEMI-WEEKLY PAPER Heppner Gazette.

FREQUENT AND CONSTANT Advertising brought me all I own.—A. T. Stewart.

THIRTEENTH YEAR

HEPPNER, MORROW COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1895.

WEEKLY NO. 46 SEMI-WEEKLY NO. 92

SEMIWEEKLY GAZETTE.

PUBLISHED Tuesdays and Fridays THE PATTERSON PUBLISHING COMPANY.

OTIS PATTERSON, Editor A. W. PATTERSON, Business Manager

At $2.50 per year, $1.25 for six months, 75 cts. for three months.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application.

THIS PAPER is kept on file at E. C. Duke's Advertising Agency, 14 and 15 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, California, where contracts for advertising can be made for it.

O. R. & N.—LOCAL CARD.

Train leaves Heppner 10:30 p. m. daily, except Sunday. Arrives at 6 a. m. daily, except Monday.

WEST BOUND PASSENGER LEAVES JUNCTION 1:30 a. m.; east bound 3:30 a. m.

Freight trains leave Willows Junction east at 7:25 p. m. and 8:47 a. m.; going west, 4:30 p. m. and 5:56 a. m.

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY.

United States Officials. President... Grover Cleveland Vice-President... Adlai Stevenson Secretary of State... Richard S. Olney

Governor... W. P. Lord Secretary of State... H. R. Kincaid Treasurer... Phil Metahan

Major... Thos. Morgan Captain... O. E. Farnsworth Lt. Colonel... C. H. Patterson

Justice of the Peace... E. L. Frelund Constable... N. S. Whetstone

J. F. Moore, Register A. E. Higgs, Receiver LA GRANDE, OR.

B. F. Wilson, Register J. H. Robbins, Receiver

MEETS AT LEXINGTON, OR., THE 1st Saturday of each month. All veterans are invited to join.

SECRET SOCIETIES. HAWKINS POST, NO. 10. G. A. R.

MONEY LOANED. First Mortgage Improved Farm Property Negotiated.

LUMBER! WE HAVE FOR SALE ALL KINDS OF UN-DRESSED LUMBER, 12 sizes of Heppner, of what is known as the SCOTT SAWMILL.

IF DELIVERED IN HEPPNER, WILL ADD $3.00 PER 1,000 FEET, ROUGH. CLEAR, 17.00

L. HAMILTON, Prop. National Bank of Heppner.

WM. FENLAND, ED. R. BISHOP, President, Cashier.

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

COLLECTIONS Made on Favorable Terms. EXCHANGE BOUGHT & SOLD

HEPPNER, OREGON. Ontario-Burns Stage Line

AND BURNS-CANYON STAGE LINE

H. A. WILLIAMS, Prop. ONTARIO-BURNS

Leaves Heppner Daily at 6 p. m. and arrives at Ontario in 42 hours. Single Fare $7.50. Round Trip $18.00

BURNS-CANYON. Leaves Heppner daily, except Sunday. Returns at Ontario City with Heppner-Morrows stage.

God Accompanions for Passengers.

Such ills as SORENESS, STIFFNESS, and the like, ST. JACOBS OIL WIPES OUT Promptly and Effectually.

Waverley Bicycles Are the Highest of all High Grades. Warranted superior to any Bicycle built in the world, regardless of price.

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT ... IS ... PAYING MILLIONS A MONTH To persons who served in the wars of the United States—or to their Widows, Children, or Parents.

THOUSANDS ARE ENTITLED UNDER THE NEW LAW To receive a pension, who now do not. Thousands under the new law are entitled to an increase of pension.

FACTS ARE ... FACTS!! YOU CAN BUY $20.00 worth of dry goods and groceries and then have enough left over to purchase a No. 1 Crescent Bicycle.

WESTERN WHEEL WORKS, CHICAGO AND NEW YORK. THE PATTERSON PUB. CO., Heppner, Oregon.

THE INTER OCEAN Most Popular Republican Newspaper of the West And Has the Largest Circulation. TERMS: DAILY (without Sunday) $6.00 per year DAILY (with Sunday) $8.00 per year

EIGHT MILE NOTES.

Our school is getting along nicely, Miss Bessie Fitzwater, teacher.

Nov. 12th we had our first snow. The ground was covered for a short time but it soon melted.

Several of the young people gathered at C. E. Jones' last Friday evening and had an enjoyable time.

Case Faqua is still keeping bachelor's hall. Judging from his pleasant countenance he seems to be satisfied.

There was a sale at the Evans place last Saturday. Rev. Swift cried the sale. Mr. Evans is much pleased with his new home near Dayton, Wash.

We are sorry to hear of Mr. Kahler's leaving this part of Oregon. They are liked very much in this community.

Grain is not so much injured by the drouth and grasshoppers in some localities as was feared but still it is not doing well, by any means.

Henry Adkins and wife were in this neighborhood on a short visit a few days ago. Annie Sawyer went with them to their home near The Dalles, Mrs. Adkins' brother, Chester Saling, also accompanied them.

Rev. Galloway was expected to preach at Eight Mile school house last Sunday but as he did not make an appearance it was decided he did not receive the letter giving him an invitation to come.

Mrs. Beymer has had the sympathy of this neighborhood during her illness and she is glad to hear of her getting better.

Mrs. Warren is convalescent. Her sickness did not last long but was very severe. They were strangers here having but recently moved in the neighborhood, but fortunately her husband's relatives lived here which made it seem more like home to her.

The Oregon Agriculturist has a great deal to say in regard to snobbling. We would like to hear the opinion of some Morrow Co.'s farmers on the subject.

It would be interesting to hear their views. Another subject we would like to hear farmers talk about is fruit trees not bearing.

The "Michigan Farmer" says if a tree is growing vigorously and is old enough to bear fruit out two of the large roots in the fall or in the spring before they are leveled out.

Has any one tried it? We all would like to hear from some of the fruit growers in Eastern Oregon.

Eight Miles, Nov. 13, 1895.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Campdown, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call a physician.

Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief.

It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by Slocum-Johnson Drug Co.

Democrats are not going to fight because Mississippi went "Democratic." There was not much democracy in the Mississippi campaign this year.

Last year was a republican year. This year is a republican year. Next year will be a republican year. The democratic reaction didn't arrive Tuesday. There wasn't any to arrive.

Stout Beggar—Gimme a quarter, will yer? Old Gentleman (nervously)—This sounds more like—a demand than—a request.

Stout Beggar—Is dat so? Well, all you've got ter do is ter see dat de supply is equal to de demand. See?—Harlem Life.

Recounteur—Did it ever occur to you what a charming conversationalist Dummer is? Tetterwau—Well, I don't know; not particular. Why?

Recounteur—Oh, he is, decidedly, exceedingly good company. He hasn't the ghost of a memory, you know, and you can tell stories to him over and over again, and he enjoys them every time as much as at the first telling.—Boston Transcript.

"Sister" passed me yesterday," said small sister who was entertaining big sister's young man.

"Indeed?" "Deed she did. But I got even with her. I went up to her room and changed the tags on her engagement rings, and now she does not know which is whose."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

AT THE END OF THE SEASON. Some Reasons Why the Hair of the Summer Hotel Proprietor Turns Gray.

These are the days when the big summer hotels at seashore and mountain begin to cut down expenses in view of the near close of the season.

Of course the most expensive thing is the help. Most great hotels require almost as many servants as they have guests, and when the guests begin to be discharged by scores or away go the profits of the season.

But servants are clammy, and there comes in the difficulty. They are only engaged for a season of indefinite length, and know that they must go at its end.

So a good deal of trouble arises, and the wretched proprietor acquires gray hairs in straightening out the difficulties.

Recently the proprietor of one of the biggest of our nearby seaside hotels, having lost all but about forty guests, undertook to reduce the kitchen staff proportionately.

There was immediate war, and even the French chef got red in the face and declared that if he couldn't have his all-summer force he would pack up and get out forthwith.

So all that was left for the proprietor was to throw out the entire force, bag and baggage, and hustle up to the city and engage an entirely new force for the remaining two weeks of his season.

DRIVEN INTO HYSTERIC. Young Woman Became Frantic at the Sight of Presence of a Cat.

It is a subject that is frequently talked about, but it is a fact that the natural antipathies between certain persons and certain animals furnish fresh food for wonder and conjecture constantly.

Everyone knows well enough the aversion that the majority of people have for snakes—the horri-fying dread that their presence excites.

Many persons also "hate cats," as they term it. Their soft, stealthy movements excite a distrust that frequently amounts to aversion.

It was of a young woman who had always had a most unconquerable dread of the feline creatures, and she actually could not endure the presence of one in the room without losing control of herself completely.

She was so sensitive in this particular that her family declares that upon entering a room, if there was a cat concealed anywhere within it, she would at once detect its presence, and unless it were removed at once would become hysterical.

In fact, it was a standing joke on her that on one occasion like this she became absolutely terrified, and rushing up to a young man, who was a total stranger to her, seized him about the neck, sobbing desperately till the cat was taken away.

The girl was thoroughly ashamed of her weakness, as she called it, but declared she was absolutely powerless in the matter. Some instinct it was no subtle odor—told her if a cat were anywhere near her, and the moment she detected it she straightway lost all her self-possession.

BEES AT ASCOT. They Made Things Lively at the Race Track for awhile.

A curious incident occurred at Ascot, says the London Telegraph. While a large number of pleasant luncheon parties were enjoying the delights of an open air repast in the gardens behind the grand stand a great swarm of bees settled down on the guests around a table in a corner.

They buzzed and buzzed everywhere. Ladies had been in their bonnets and gentlemen found their hats turned into striking likenesses of "Catch-em-alive-oh's."

Some of the swarm settled on the cold salmon, and other members of it tumbled into the champagne cup. In fact, the bees created the greatest consternation among the ladies and gentlemen in that quarter of the grounds.

They were gradually drawn off the luncheon party by a gentleman, to

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

AT THE END OF THE SEASON. Some Reasons Why the Hair of the Summer Hotel Proprietor Turns Gray.

These are the days when the big summer hotels at seashore and mountain begin to cut down expenses in view of the near close of the season.

Of course the most expensive thing is the help. Most great hotels require almost as many servants as they have guests, and when the guests begin to be discharged by scores or away go the profits of the season.

But servants are clammy, and there comes in the difficulty. They are only engaged for a season of indefinite length, and know that they must go at its end.

So a good deal of trouble arises, and the wretched proprietor acquires gray hairs in straightening out the difficulties.

Recently the proprietor of one of the biggest of our nearby seaside hotels, having lost all but about forty guests, undertook to reduce the kitchen staff proportionately.

There was immediate war, and even the French chef got red in the face and declared that if he couldn't have his all-summer force he would pack up and get out forthwith.

So all that was left for the proprietor was to throw out the entire force, bag and baggage, and hustle up to the city and engage an entirely new force for the remaining two weeks of his season.

DRIVEN INTO HYSTERIC. Young Woman Became Frantic at the Sight of Presence of a Cat.

It is a subject that is frequently talked about, but it is a fact that the natural antipathies between certain persons and certain animals furnish fresh food for wonder and conjecture constantly.

Everyone knows well enough the aversion that the majority of people have for snakes—the horri-fying dread that their presence excites.

Many persons also "hate cats," as they term it. Their soft, stealthy movements excite a distrust that frequently amounts to aversion.

It was of a young woman who had always had a most unconquerable dread of the feline creatures, and she actually could not endure the presence of one in the room without losing control of herself completely.

She was so sensitive in this particular that her family declares that upon entering a room, if there was a cat concealed anywhere within it, she would at once detect its presence, and unless it were removed at once would become hysterical.

In fact, it was a standing joke on her that on one occasion like this she became absolutely terrified, and rushing up to a young man, who was a total stranger to her, seized him about the neck, sobbing desperately till the cat was taken away.

The girl was thoroughly ashamed of her weakness, as she called it, but declared she was absolutely powerless in the matter. Some instinct it was no subtle odor—told her if a cat were anywhere near her, and the moment she detected it she straightway lost all her self-possession.

BEES AT ASCOT. They Made Things Lively at the Race Track for awhile.

A curious incident occurred at Ascot, says the London Telegraph. While a large number of pleasant luncheon parties were enjoying the delights of an open air repast in the gardens behind the grand stand a great swarm of bees settled down on the guests around a table in a corner.

They buzzed and buzzed everywhere. Ladies had been in their bonnets and gentlemen found their hats turned into striking likenesses of "Catch-em-alive-oh's."

Some of the swarm settled on the cold salmon, and other members of it tumbled into the champagne cup. In fact, the bees created the greatest consternation among the ladies and gentlemen in that quarter of the grounds.

They were gradually drawn off the luncheon party by a gentleman, to

GUARANTEE THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELTS AND APPLIANCES INSURE TO THE SICK THESE GREAT POINTS OF ADVANTAGE OVER ALL IMITATORS