THE MAFIA OF ITALY. Origin of the Blood-Stained Society-The Massacre of Palermo. Crime-stained as it is to-day, and ghastly with murder every step of its tortuous, secret career, the Mafia of Italy sprang into being from an inspiration of patriotism, but its very birth was heralded by a libation of

The Mafia society is over six hundred years old, having its origin at the revolt of Palermo, which took place during an Easter ceremonial in the suburbs of that city, in the year 1282. A beautiful young girl and her betrothed. in accordance with the quaint and primitive customs of that people, approached the Church of the Holy Ghost to be united in marriage at its altar, and while the lover sought the padre in the little room at the rear of the building his bride paused upon the threshold. As she stood there a drunken sergeant of the French garrison, named Druet, strode up behind her, threw his arm about her waist and kissed her. With a cry of horror she tore herself GIVEN AWAY TO INVENTORS. from his grasp and turned to fly, but the heel of her slipper caught in the coping of the stone pavement and she

At that instant the returning lover's eyes fell upon her prostrate form, and with the savage fury of a wild beast he threw himself upon Druet, bore him to the earth, and drove his stiletto to the wretch's heart, crying: "Morte alla Francia!" ("Death to the French!") There was a moment's pause of silence, and then that maddened cry became the roar of infuriated thousands. It swelted and deepened; it took more solemn meaning-it became nationalized-and then burst forth: "Morte alla Francia Italia anclea!" ("Death to the French is It ly's cry!") For seventy-two hours armed bands, headed by the father and betrothed of the hapless girl, hunted down the French.

But retribution was to come after this carnival of blood, and in dread of the vengeance of the French nation selves into secret organizations with the password and name of the society made up of the initial letters of the society. these unhappy people formed themmade up of the initial letters of the words which compose that fateful death cry, thus forming Mafia.

with a stout cord, carried the cord along to the other end, and took another turn there, and the connecting length of cord between the loops served as a handle, while the shape of served as a served as the melon kept the loops from slipping off. But with the change of the melon to the shorter, chubbier shape now prevailing this plan was no longer possible, and so the net came in six or eight years ago.

The watermelon nets, says the New York Sun, are made of a jute twine called melon twine. They are of one size. They are big enough for any melon, and with a small melon in a net it is easy to take up the slack. They are made altogether by hand, at odd times, by people accustomed to net making. They are sold at wholesale at two dellars a hundred. The melon

THE WATERMELON NET.

A Convenient Contrivance for Carrying Home the Massive Fruit.

The invention of the watermelon net was due primarily to a change in the shape of watermelons. Years ago the great majority of watermelons were much longer than they were thick. Then when a man carried home the watermelon which he had bought the dealer took a turn around one end of it with a stout cord, carried the cord along to the other cond and follows to the other cord and of it with a stout cord, carried the cord along to the other cord and follows to the control of the State of Oregon.
