The thumb is an unfalling index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firfiness. Closely allied is the Spatniated Type, the thumb of those of advanced ideas and business ability. Both of these types belong to the bney man or woman; and Demorest's Family Magazine prepares especially for such persons a whole volume of new ideas, condensed in a small space, so that the record of the whole world's work for a month may be read in half an hour. The Conical Type indicates refinement, culture, and a love of masic, poster, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will find raw pleasure in the magnificent of picture of roses, 164, 24 inches, reproduced from the original painting by De Longpré, the most celebrated of living fluwer-painters, which will be given to every subscriber to Demorest's Magazine for 1890. When the evidence had been heard the judge, who well knew the counsel's unlimited powers of exaggeration, turned to the appellant and addressed to her a few questions. "Have you, then, no occupation?"

'Yes, my lord; I am a nurse," was the incautious reply. "And where are you employed?" "I am at Mr. Swan's," she unwittingly rejoined, pointing to her counsel.

It was with the greatest difficulty that the judge refrained from joining in the shout of laughter with which this admission was hailed. FEMININE VANITY.

It Crops Out Even Among Women Be hind the Bars.

Vanity in a female prisoner would be merely laughable if it were not so sad to behold. It is, however, the one touch of nature which proves the human kinship, and there is perhaps some hope for even these poor, degraded creatures, if they are thus swayed by such harmless emotions. Prison matrons, says the North American Review, checked every attempt made by their coiffure. "Fringes" are "going out," are still amazingly popular in prison. Criminals will trim their hair as it pleases them, and the wisest disciplinarian affects to see nothing of the fringe. In the same way, once, when chignons were in vogue, the female felt happy whose locks escaped the prison scissors and were long enough to fold over a pad of oakum. The ingenuity again, with which some prisoners will twist and turn their unbecoming uniform into some faint notion of the fashions of the day might have earned these artists good wages in a dressmaker's atelier. I have seen panniers counterfeited and polonaises, skirts draped or tied back, dress improvers manufactured out of whalebones or horse hair; no doubt when the present "bell" skirt is fading out of fashion it will be largely patronized in jail. The craze for personal adornment leads women to skim the grease off their scanty allowance of soup, with which ey plaster their hair. an aged prisoner who was caught

In discussing the modern use armor by officers and men in the foreign "little wars" of to-day, an English accoutrement maker, as reported by London Tid-Bits, says: "I give you my assurance that an immense number of the officers of our army and navy who go on foreign service, especially when one of our 'little wars' is expected, provide themselves with certain easily recognized protections. "These, mind you, are well-known articles of trade to the service. The commonest and most usual type of these protections consists of fine but beautifully tempered single chains, inclosed in in soft leather, which run along the shoulders, down the outer side of the arms and over certain parts of the body. These can either be sewn into a particular tunicor they can be adjusted separately and put on like harness. The most valuable of all chains, in connection with accoutrements, are those which guard the head, and in cases where the regulation cap or helmet is not sufficiently protected in this way. specially made chains are sewn inside the same and covered by the lining."

BOY AND ROBIN. Prisadship of the Two Brought About by Cold Weather.

During the extremely severe weather of February, 1898, myriads of birds perished from cold and starvation, both a Europe and the United States. In England this destruction was the more sorrowful, perhaps, as the country where the birds winter is more thickly settled than with us, and there were more to see their sufferings. But occa-sionally the British birth found friend-
