IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS.

JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., 615 F Street, N. W., 83. Washington, D. C. BRAN IS NUTHITIOUS.

Michigan Man Tells Why He Considers It the Chrapest Feed. The feeding of coarsely ground wheat, bran and all, is in some measure an advance on the value of bran feeding, mixed with other foods. But there cannot be too much insistence on the value of bran mixed with other foods. Mr. W. C. Rockwood, in a recent contribution to the Michigan

Farmer, refers to the subject: Bran is one of the very best of the grain foods for all kinds of live stock. In fact, its value is not half realized. Too many farmers and stock breeders think of it only in connection with to twice bran mashes, more as a medicine than wi anything else. They consider it be useful as a laxative, and cooling to the system; but there its value ends. In reality it is of more value to the stock raiser than any other single food for all classes and conditions of animals Our Treatise on Elood and Skin Disasses mailed free to as address. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga. upon the farm. It holds no rank perhaps as fat producer; that is, not strictly speaking. In actual sound, healthy bone and muscle growing elements it is rich; and animals in thrifty, growing condition will always be fat to a certain extent, yet to an animal MIWAUKEE & St. Paul R'U ments it is rich; and animals in thrifty, for the shambles something besides bran would be necessary without doubt.

After years of feeding all kinds of grain feeds, both home grown and purchased, to all kinds of stock which are usually kept on a farm, I have come to regard bran as a necessity, and consider it cheap at almost any figure. Without doubt it commands a higher price in market than it should, in view of the present low price of wheat, but in my estimation it is still the choicest feed a man can buy. I have made it one of the principal parts of the food for my pigs from weaning time until they are sold-with the exception of a few weeks finishing off on corn. I feed it to all breeding hogs, being especially good for sows suckling pigs. For young stock it is the standby mixed partly with something else per haps, such as ground barley or oats. For the horses it is excellent as a part of their rations at any time, and while not sufficiently heavy of itself other grain. It keeps the bowels in good condition and there will be no trouble with colic.

Some farmers feed straw to their horses in winter with corn meal as a grain food. Such horses get colic frequently, but if bran is given in connection with it there is no trouble, as the bran acts as a preventive of impaction in the stomach and bowels .-Prairie Farmer.

SUNLIGHT AND COLORS. Remarkable Changes Produced by Manip

Every one knows the danger of mistakes in attempting to select colored articles in artificial light. Only the white light of the sun, containing all the elements of color known to us, can be trusted in such cases to reveal the actual hues possessed by the objects under examination. Some interesting scientific experiments on the effect of light in revealing or concealing color were lately made by Dr. H. W. Vogel, he distinguished physicist and astron omer in Berlin.

Starting with the fact that in a photographic "dark room," filled with ruby colored light, bright scarlet cloth appears white, it was shown that when no white light whatever is admitted to a dark room, the power of the eye to distinguish colors is temporarily lost, and all objects appear of various shades of white and black.

By mingling blue or green with red light, the colors of objects can be made to undergo remarkable changes. The quantity of light alone also affects the appearance of color, particularly certain tints of blue and violet, for which reason, even in the absence of artificial lights, a person purchasing colored goods in a dark store must carry them to the door or window, where a strong illumination can be obtained, in order to make certain of the precise shade.

The gamin tilted the stump in one corner of his mouth, held to the band alive, however, and capable of enjoying of his pantaloons with one hand, ran a good thing, so the anniversary was the other hand in his pocket, and pulled forth a copper.
"Gimme a box," and the lad laid

Kansas society made an interesting innovation in anniversary celebration at Hutchinson recently by celebrating a diamond wedding, from which the bridegroom was absent because of an untimely death. The bride was still duly and becomingly celebrated.

Their Position Explained. The late Nicholas de Giers, Russian minister of foreign affairs, was an hon-conscience and good, clear sense. He was always ready to say to the ezar: "Not my will, but yours," and to bend to it in every direction except where bending would imply dishonor. Thus he could never be got to receive Katized by the crar to demand an interview. He also had the boldness, when he expected once a call from Alexander III., to place the busts of two dishonest ministers one on each side of a sculptured wooden crucifix which he had bought at Oberammergau. "If these men are all you say," asked the ezar, "why do you place them on a line with our Lord?" Because Christ crucified ought to hang between a pair of thieres," was the answer - "at Field's Washington. Mother-in-Law to the Mikado.
