WATER THAT EXPLODED. Bartender's Experience Under Fire of a

Fusillade of Seltzer. "Do you know," said Billy Clark, of the Grand hotel, to a Cincinnati Times-Star reporter, as a big seltzer bottle fizzed and two or three men on the outside elevated a foot each on the railing and looked on, "that these seltzer water bottles will explode easily?" And the three men each put a foot down on the floor and moved slightly away. "Sometimes just the temperature of the hand will do it, the warm hand, placed against it while bringing it from a cold room, or sometimes while lifting it one will strike it against the counter and it will explode and the metal top will be driven with great force by the gas. One time, while at the Gibson, I refused to give a man a drink. He took it very much to heart and went away vowing he would get even with me. I had turned about as he went out and had my back to him. Suddenly there came a sound like a pistol shot. I tried to turn around and couldn't, and I was sure the man had carried his threat into effect and had shot me. Directly following that explosion came another and another, and there was a rapid suc cession of explosions. Then I knew the man had opened a regular fusillade on me, and yet I was riveted to the spot. I could not stir. I thought I had been paralyzed by a bullet. Come to find out. one of these seltzer water bottles in the far end of the counter had exploded and the concussion had started the others, until all had exploded that were on that shelf. And the man had gone away and I never saw him again. But I never will forget my experience of that night, when I was sure I had been

WIDOWS TAKE TO PARROTS. Polly Is a Great Favorite with the Lon-

Parrots have never been suspected of having a mission in life but one has been discovered for them in Brooklyn. An attendant in a shop where animals and birds are the stock in trade was asked if all the parrots that talked were trained by sailors, says the New York World.

"Not at all," he said. "If you should ing the arrival of a cargo of parrots shorter, and no other offers the above luxurious you would soon find out that there are accommodations. These are sufficient reasons a lot of women in New York who make for the popularity of "The Milwaukee." Compon it almost a profession to train parrots. The best customers we have, however, are Brooklyn widows. There is one woman who comes in after almost every cargo we receive and buys at least one or two parrots, sometimes more, which she intends to teach to talk. The women who do that are mostly widows. How do I know. Why, they tell us so. And why do you suppose they want the parrots? It's for company, they say. They say they are lonely and the parrots are company, because after they talk to them enough the parrot talks back.

"That is why widows like parrots better than canaries, they say. One in Brooklyn keeps a little notion store and sells candies. The children see the parrot there and the parrot is speedily sold and taken away as soon as it can say two or three things. Then the widow's loneliness comes over her again and she comes in search of another pupil in feathers. She gets three times is much as she paid for the bird and if
