SPRY AT SIXTY.

The Remarkable Vitality of an Aged Californian.

Stands To-day Unscathed by Disease--How He Conquered Rheumatism--His Story Will Interest and Benefit all Old Folks.

There is at least one happy man in San Francisco today--one man who can enjoy, despite the fact of his being sixty years of age and of corpulent build, the full and free use of all the powers of mind and body.
James Keenan is a prominent liquor dealer at 256 Brannan street, and it is he who is now landing those who have restored him from a bed of pain to his former youthful activity. Mr. Keenan had, within a year ago, been blessed with the enjoyment of almost perfect health. He had never known what it was to be confined for weeks at a time upon a couch of painful disease, nor even to lose the vigorous action of mind or limb which had enabled him, through the many years of his business life, to perform his daily tasks unaided and unaided.
It was a year ago that Mr. Keenan first suffered the hand of disease to take hold upon him. At that time he was stricken down by an aggravated attack of rheumatism, which robbed him of the use of his lower limbs and of both his hands. For fully six weeks he lay on his couch, a helpless victim of the dread disease, and all the time he suffered intense pain in the affected portions of his body. He could not move himself upon his bed, and all that he was able to do was to be fed to him by those in attendance. He had almost despaired of ever gaining release from the clutches of the frightful disease, when one morning his attention was drawn to an advertisement in a morning paper, of a remedy for rheumatism. The story of what succeeded this casual glance at a medicine advertisement can best be told in the words of Mr. Keenan himself, who when asked for an explanation of his seemingly miraculous cure, gave the following account:
"It seemed to me that after all the weeks of terrible suffering that I had endured there could not possibly be a relief. I had no faith in patent medicines, and when I saw in a paper the advertisement of William's Pink Pills I was induced to try them only in sheer desperation. I did not feel any relief until I began taking the second box of the pills, but then the pain began gradually to leave me, my appetite became better, and I could sleep soundly throughout the night without experiencing any of the jerking pains that had before kept me awake. I continued to take the pills and it was only a short time until the rheumatism had entirely left my hands, and I had so far recovered the use of my legs as to be able to walk about the house without assistance. In about two weeks more I was entirely free from the disease, but I took two more boxes of the pills as a precaution against a return of the rheumatism. From the time that the last trace of the disease left me I have not felt the least sign of its return, and I can truthfully say that I now enjoy as free use of my limbs as ever I did before the rheumatism attacked me.
"I have taken the pains to recommend William's Pink Pills to a number of my friends who are suffering from rheumatism. I think I know of no other remedy that will afford such quick and permanent relief from rheumatism as do William's Pink Pills, and I only hope that many others may be brought to see and feel the high curative powers that the pills possess."
The following case was also called to the attention of the Examiner, shortly after the publication of the above, and is given here yonched for by that great paper.
Four years ago, at the time of the trouble between the United States and Chili, as a result of the killing of the sailors of the U. S. B. Baltimore, in the streets of a Chilean city, many Americans were obliged to leave the country for safety. Among them was W. M. Lugg, the private detective and collector, whose office is in the Crocker Building, San Francisco, Cal.

When Mr. Lugg left Chili he went across the mountains into Argentine, traveling on muleback.
Mr. Lugg says that the trip is a delightful one in point of beautiful scenery and perfect weather, but many people dislike to undertake it on account of the unhealthful stagnant water which they are compelled to drink along the way. Many persons have been stricken down with disease from having drunk of it, and in a number of cases the attacks have proven fatal. The native Chileans drink the water without injury to their systems, but it has a bad effect upon those who are not used to it.
"I fell a victim to the injurious quality of the water," said Mr. Lugg. "It affected my kidneys to an alarming degree. When I got over into Argentine I thought the trouble would gradually leave me, but instead of that it grew more aggravated and I suffered terribly from pains in the region of my kidneys. I was en route to Chicago and I determined to reach my destination before the complaint should grow so serious as to confine me to my bed. Upon reaching Chicago I at once consulted a physician, who told me my kidneys had been affected by drinking polluted water. He treated me for some time for that complaint, but I grew steadily worse and new ailments were added to my already serious condition. I began to have neuralgic pains in my head, my spine was affected with shooting pains and I had no control over the urinary organs. It was next to impossible for me to get any sleep. I lay awake many a night suffering from the most intense pains, and the physician unable to relieve them.
"But relief came at last. One day one of my friends came to my room and handed me a box of Williams' Pink Pills. Of course I laughed at him for daring to think that any patent medicine could aid me when my physician had failed. I took the pills, however, to oblige my friend more than for any faith I had in them, and I was treated to the most joyous surprise of my life when I realized that I was being relieved of my pains. First the peculiar pains along my spine ceased, and then my neuralgic trouble began to grow less and finally left me entirely. It took a good while to improve the condition of my kidneys, but after I had taken a number of boxes of the pills I knew that they had done their work successfully, for then I had regained control of the urinary organs and the action of my kidneys was strong and steady.
"When I thought I was out of danger I quit taking the pills. The relief they had afforded was permanent, however, and I have never since felt a recurrence of the complaints. I hardly know how to praise Williams' Pink Pills as they should be praised. They certainly are a wonderful preparation. I have recommended them to a number of my friends who were suffering from kidney complaints, and they have all been benefited by their use."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now given to the public as an unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent paid on receipt of price 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

THE Astoria Herald is solid for Ellis. Good for the Herald.
VICTORS must be magnanimous. We can afford to be quarreled at by some who cannot have Ellis defeated.
THE Weston Leader says that there are worse men in this world than Ellis. You can bet on that proposition, Clark.
HON. T. H. TONGUE, as a candidate for congress up in the first district, will run like a race horse. He will take up and complete the good work begun by Mr. Hermann. The Gazette's good wishes are with Tongue.
THE goldies are now agitating the putting up of an independent candidate for congress to run on a single standard platform in opposition to Mr. Ellis. Such a move on their part will accomplish very little in Eastern Oregon.
THE Farm Record, of Pendleton, has passed in its checks--died in infancy, as it were. Editor Nelson announces that he will now devote his entire time and attention to doing job printing, and in this we hope that he may be very successful. Newspapers have a hard time of it trying to live these days.

WHAT DEMOCRACY HAS DONE.
Chicago has a man who has been so unfortunate since the democrats went in power that he stands ready to commit any crime in the decalogue for $5,000. Read this letter: "For $5,000 I will sell myself to anybody or anyone wishing a slave. I will do anything the buyer asks, drudge as his slave or kill myself, insured in his favor. I will kill or steal, taking all the responsibilities myself.
"Do not think that I am insane, for I am not. I am only tired of futile honest efforts to keep my mother and myself from starvation since the democrats were elected and my old mother's remaining days I have dreamed of making brighter. I have knowledge enough to make a Holmes, detection being beyond human possibility. Only partial knowledge is dangerous, and unfortunate passionate, only half racials, only incompetent scoundrels are detected.
"I have tried to be honest and to see a brother in everyone suffering. Slander and deceit have been my reward, hunger my follower. Now I am tired of it and would die, not to be spoiled by a Christian, democratic world. But I have an old mother, and for her I will sell myself to hell, it hell will pay me, as heaven does not seem to care for honest effort.
"I am too poor now to turn a successful accountant independently. I have waited too long, and so I am for sale. Answer this prayer if you have the cash and desire to buy me. I am no man for half measures and will stay good for the contract.--Chicago Tribune.
During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Beach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrups but found no relief until I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been the best remedy for over twenty years and constantly grows in favor and popularity. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Conner & Brook, druggists.
A Great German Prescription.
Diseased blood, constipation, and kidney, liver and bowel troubles are cured by Karl's Clover Root Tea. For sale by Wells & Warren.
W. C. T. U. Convention.
The annual county convention of the Morrow county Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Heppner beginning Wednesday, April 22 at 1:30 p. m. and closing Friday at noon.
Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney, state president, will be present throughout the time and will deliver an address on the evening of the 23rd. Subject, "The demand of the century."
A full program is being arranged and will appear in Friday's issue of this paper.
We not only invite our friends to attend these meetings, but urge all to attend especially interested in temperance work or not.
Speaking of Mrs. Kinney, the Salem Statesman has the following to say: "Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney made, at the state fair, a forty minute speech on temperance and prohibition, filled with powerful argument woven together gracefully and delivered with a power of eloquence and clearness of voice at once pleasing and convincing. There was nothing dry, fanciful or narrow in her noble address, but it was bold, plain and unanswerable--a grand plea for the home and the fireside. The appeal of a representative wife and mother to have the blight of the liquor traffic removed from the youth of our land."
It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attacks may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Conner & Brook, druggists.
A Baby's Life Saved.
"My baby had croup and was saved by Shiloh's Cure," writes Mrs. J. B. Martin of Huntsville, Ala. For sale by Wells & Warren.
AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE NOTES.
Arbor day was observed at the college and a tree was planted in memory of Robt. Erwin.
The boys who take part in the field sports find it very difficult to train owing to the rainy weather.
The second issue of the college paper will be out about the middle of the month. This paper is edited entirely by the students.
The members of the senior class that will speak on senior day have been selected by the faculty. Some have their subjects partly completed.
Professors Hedrick and Cordlay have prepared some valuable work on spraying. These experiments have been made here at the college and are tested.
Prof. Letch, who was until last year a professor of mathematics in the O. A. C., now employed in the Eugene university, delivered a lecture here on the subject "Evolution from the standpoint of Christianity."

A WOOL MARKET. PENDLETON

This has become an established market for Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho wools. Last season three million pounds were received here by rail from Huntington, Baker City, Heppner, Arlington, and from Yakima, Spokane, Lewiston, Walla Walla and intermediate stations.
Low freight rates are given on shipments to Pendleton for scouring and packing in transit. Many of the leading buyers make this place headquarters, and all large operators frequently visit Pendleton warehouses. As a market this place is equaled only by The Dallas in quantity of wool which attracts competition, with this advantage:
From no point in the Northwest, Portland included, is wool shipped East at less expense than from Pendleton.
Water competition has not afforded sufficiently low rates upon wool in the grease and dirt, to equal the lower expense incurred by shipping only clean, scoured wool from Pendleton.
Owing to this fact Pendleton buyers are enabled to pay as much or more for wool at the point than is covered at other places having reputations as "rich markets," based upon exceptional sales of fancy lots of light wools. Considering character of wool, and shrinkage, it may safely be claimed that the average sales in Pendleton Net the Grower more Cash for the same amount of wool than can be obtained in any other Market in the State.
