THE Oregonian will now inaugurate its system of lying about every candidate that does not soit it. Everybody knows that the Oregonian is unreliable.

Hos. T. T. GEER appounces his inwhole republican ticket. Mr. Geer does not agree with Mr. Ellis on the financial question, although Mr. Geer is not an extremist. He is a loyal republican and will neither follow nor encourage bolting. The tariff issue, the backbone of the republican party, will receive much attention at Mr. Geer's hands during the coming campaign.

THE name of every signer to the Northup petition will be published. The Gazette wants the people to see what kind of democrats and republicans constitute the Scott gang. These names should be preserved and remembered. No man who sigued the Northup petition has any further right to call himself anything but what he is, and if any of them eyer approach a party primary egain they show themselves to have as little principle as they have party fealty

Ir is a two to one bet that Ellis wine the congressional fight. If Harvey bas confidence in Northup he can win enough money to buy himself out of 'soak" to Corbett, et al., and leave himself in a position to fight the battles of the people, and not those of shylocks and corporations. It is said, however, that Harvey is in his element. He is a natural born plutocrat and is a worshiper of autogracy. He could no more be a friend to the masses than could the Czar of Russia. A natural-born thief is always one Mr. Scott is no purloiner, but he is rotten to bone politically.

The Biggest Fool at Large Is the individual who persistently negleets his bealth, and the means of preserving and restoring it. Many persons who are not constitutional idiots do this. They are genuine objects of compassion as well as censure. A feiture of appetite, loss of sleep and flesh, impaired digestion, an uncertain state of the bowels and symptoms of biliousness are so many warnings of the approach of disease. To disregard them is abject folly, which offended nature in due time are chronic indigestion, liver complaint, kidney troubles, constipation, nervous ness, rheumatism and malaria
