

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HARTIG, Avoca, Neb.

The many friends of Mrs. George A. Brown of Hardman will be pleased to hear that Mr. Falkenberg, cashier of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company of New York for the Northwest, accompanied by Mr. Helmbold, special agent, are in town to settle the claim of her late husband against the aforesaid company. Mr. Brown took his policy on the 10th of April, 1895, and died on the 2nd of April, 1896, just eight days before his second premium was due. The prompt payment of this $2000 claim without expense to the estate only 23 days after notification of death was received is a further evidence of the prompt and satisfactory manner in which this grand old company settles its claims.

THE BOLTERS.

Their Man Formally Introduced into the Political Arena.

From Salem Statesman, April 30th.

Judge H. H. Northrup, of Multnomah county, has been made an independent nominee (by the individual electors method) for representative in congress from the second district of Oregon.

His acceptance was filed in Secretary of State Kincaid's office yesterday afternoon and was appended to the list of petitioners who urged his independent and "sound money" candidacy, over their several signatures, of which there were exactly 352. The petition itself was very nearly fifteen feet long and at the bottom of it was the judge's acceptance couched in terms as terse and appropriate, as it is acknowledged and accepted the nomination as coming from no party, but from the "sound money" men of the district and urged upon him in the interest of "sound money" principles as they apply to the current political campaign in Oregon.

Among those whose names are subscribed to the petition may be found the following group of well-known business men, capitalists, lawyers, journalists and others, to-wit: Messrs. C. B. Belinger, W. M. Ladd, Rufus Malloy, E. C. Bronaugh, Ellis G. Hughes, E. D. McKee, J. A. Sladen, C. J. Schnabel, H. C. Grady, Wirt Miner, W. J. Church, C. H. Mendensoffer, J. S. Reed, Tyler Underwood, Donald MacLay, E. C. Maston, S. B. Lintinham, C. A. Dolph, Thomas N. Stroug, B. G. Whitehouse, J. L. Atkinson, W. T. Mair, T. B. Wilcox, J. W. Whalley, W. V. Smith, Prescott C. Catarrh Cured.

Health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. For sale by Wells & Warren.

A GOOD PERFORMANCE.—The receipts of Prof. Ferguson's specialty entertainment last evening at the opera house, were about $200.00, a rather meager compensation, considering the quality of the performance given; the small attendance being somewhat due to the extremely short notice given. His entertainment presented some peculiar features, in marked contrast to anything ever before given here, and certainly deserves an extended notice. The performance was principally of a musical character, the programme being as extensive as if a troupe of 5 or 6 performers were engaged by a peculiar species of vocalization, to produce a wonderfully correct and artistic imitation of a baritone horn with his mouth alone, playing accompaniments upon the violin, a representation of a full orchestra (in miniature) which made an instantaneous hit with the audience; and to demonstrate his wonderful lung capacity, he then gave an imitation of a locomotive, also a whistle, a bell, a bellows, and many other vocal effects; also representations of guitar, lango, Scotch bagpipes, Violoncello, etc. etc. His pipe organ solo, elicited considerable applause, the vox humana, clarion, and choir-angelique effects of this grand instrument being wonderfully correct. The military bugle calls were also given; and imitations of barnyard fowls and animals without number. The performance was interesting clear through, and should be considered to give another he can count on a better attendance. If space permitted a much more comprehensive idea of the performance could be given.

The J. M. RUSSELL Co.

The Dalles, Portland, Heppner

PORTLAND, Oregon, April 30, 1906.

To THE PUBLIC:

The following facts have decided us to open up an office at The Dalles, and we believe the wool growers will feel an interest in our proposition to handle their wool.

THE DALLES MARKET.—In 1905 six million pounds of wool was marketed there, which brought extreme prices. The present outlook is that not less than eight million pounds will be marketed there this season, and we believe wool in The Dalles will bring full value for the following reasons:

1st. The large amount of wool handled not only attracts buyers, and the most of them make The Dalles their headquarters for the season, causing a brisk competition. The Oregon mills use not less than two million pounds, so wool in The Dalles have the benefit of this competition, as well as for the East and California markets.

2d. The location of The Dalles is such that five transcontinental railroads compete for freight, guaranteeing the shippers a low rate, in 1905 wool from The Dalles to the East were taken at a rate of 90 cts. per hundred pounds.

3d. Arrangements have been made with the railroad companies whereby local freight to The Dalles when added to the freight from The Dalles East, will not be higher than the freight from local points direct East, and in many cases less. These facts alone assure the growers the highest possible price.

CONSIGNMENTS.—While we fully realize consigning wool is a thing of the past, we believe growers will do well to consider our proposition, especially this season as there is every reason to believe it will be a slow, dreary year.

Our business in the past has been buying for Oregon and Eastern mills and dealers. Realizing how slow the mills and dealers will be in placing their orders this year, we think our method of handling will be an advantage to the grower, and considering the wool will not be moved from the home market our firm, under your consent, without cost, you must not look upon our proposition in the light of shipping on consignment.

For ten years past, "excepting 1905, the year of the panic," wool has brought better prices in the home market, as the season advanced, than at the opening, and we believe this will be especially so this season.

When growers are cut to a position to hold their wool, or feel inclined to sell to pay their bills, we will make an advance at a liberal rate of interest, will take charge of the wool, pay the grower's and other charges when required to do so, and when wool can be shipped to the Dalles by rail, we will take care of the railway freight from point of shipment to The Dalles, and at such points as Heppner and Arlington, we will have a representative who will take charge of the wool and forward it.

You will keep in mind that when shipping to The Dalles there will be no extra expense to you, and considering the low price of wool, we have concluded to do this work at 1 cent per pound brokerage.

We will be pleased to hear from you, and send regular accounts of market and local markets which you request.

5 Sores

In combination, proportion and process Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, and unequalled in true merit. No other medicine ever possessed so much curative power, or reached such enormous sales, or made such wonderful cures, as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever made to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood.

That is the secret of its success. Read this statement:

"When my son was 7 years of age, he had rheumatic fever and acute rheumatism, which settled in his left hip. He was so sick that no one thought there was any help for him. Five sores broke out on his thigh, which the doctor said were Scrofula sores. We had three different doctors. Pieces of bone came out of the sores. The last doctor said the leg would have to be cut open and the bone scraped, before he could get well. Howard became so low that he would eat nothing, and one doctor said there was no chance for him.

"One day, a newspaper recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla was left at our door. We decided to try this medicine. Howard commenced taking it the last of February, after having been sick for a year and a half. He hadn't taken it a week before I saw that his appetite began to improve, and then he gained rapidly. I gave him five bottles, when the sores were all healed and they never broke out again. The crutches he had used for four years were laid aside, as he had no further use for them. I give all the credit to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. ADA L. MOODY, Fay Street, Lynn, Mass.
