A WOOL MARKET. PENDLETON

This has become an established market for Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho wools. Last season three million pounds were received here by rail from Huntington, Baker City, Heppner, Arlington, and from Yakima, Spokane, Lewiston, Walla Walla and intermediate stations. Low freight rates are given on shipments to Pendleton for scouring and packing in transit. Many of the leading buyers make this place headquarters, and all large operators frequently visit Pendleton warehouses. As a market this place is equalled only by The Dalles in quantity of wool which attracts competition, with this advantage:

From no point in the Northwest, Portland included, is wool shipped East at less expense than from Pendleton.

Water competition has not afforded sufficiently low rates upon wool in the grease and dirt, to equal the lower expense incurred by shipping only clean, scoured wool from Pendleton.

Owing to this fact Pendleton buyers are enabled to pay as much or more for wool at this point than is averaged at other places having reputations as "high markets," based upon exceptional sales of fancy lots of light wools. Considering character of wool, and shrinkage, it may safely be claimed that the average sales in Pendleton

Net the Grower more Cash for the same amount of wool than can be obtained in any other Market in the State.

Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, who is engaged in the jewelry business at 926 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington City, where he is well and favorably known, was a victim of that worst form of disease—contagious blood poison. He realized that his life was about to be blasted for this terrible disease has baffled the skill of the physicians for ages, and they have never yet been able to effect a cure. His mental despair can better be imagined than described. In a recent letter he says: "About four years ago I contracted a severe case of contagious blood poison, and it was not long before I was in a terrible condition. I immediately placed myself under treatment of two of the best physicians in Washington City. Their treatment, which I took faithfully for six months, cost me just three hundred dollars, and left me worse than when I began it. My condition can beat be appreciated, when I state that my throat and mouth were full of sores and my tongue was almost eaten away; I had not taken solid food for three months. My entire body was covered with red blotches, my hands and feet were sores, and my hair was falling out rapidly. I was in a truly pitiable condition. "I felt that I was incurable, and was in great despair, when a friend recommended S. S. S., stating that it would certainly cure me. I began its use, and when I had finished the fourth bottle, I began to improve, and by the time I had finished eighteen bottles, I was thoroughly rid of the disease; of course, I was not sure that I was cured, but am now convinced, as no sign of the disease has ever returned for four years. S. S. S. is the best blood remedy in the world, and my cure was due solely and alone to it."

Contagious blood poison is the most horrible of all diseases, and has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It has always baffled the doctors, and, until the discovery of S. S. S., was incurable. For fifty years S. S. S. has been curing this terrible disease, even after all other treatment failed. It is guaranteed purely vegetable, and one thousand dollars reward is offered for proof to the contrary. S. S. S. never fails to cure contagious blood poison, or any other disease of the blood. If you have a blood disease, take a remedy which will not injure you. Beware of mercury; don't do violence to your system. Our books on blood and skin diseases, will be mailed free to any address. ONE ITEM Bud Haney has moved into and taken charge of the Ions hotel. We challenge Webfoot to produce more rats than we are having. There was a large attendance at Sunday school and church service yesterday. Rain and hail was our daily program for the past week and the soil is well soaked. The grain has improved wonderfully and the loose section will make a good showing. The early snow rye in this vicinity is heading out and is growing rapidly since the rains. Our wagonmaker and new blacksmiths contemplate making a number of new wagons this summer. Mrs. Alice Keller, a resident of our village, is experimenting trying to raise vegetables on Ions soil. Mrs. B. Haney is on the sick list. Sickness prevailing in our neighborhood among a number of families. A Young People's Christian Endeavor society was organized during the week and will hold weekly meetings. All are invited. Lou and behold! our shoemaker, Mr. Sando, has taken his leave. He traded his shop for a rig, and is headed for Montana. JAKE. Ions, Or., May 4, 1896. How to Treat a Wife. (From Pacific Health Journal.) First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore carry to your home a cloudy or so-tainted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and sure to be used if needed or later. Your wife will thank you that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by Conser & Brook, druggists.

PRESS COMMENT.

From The Dalles Chronicle. Judge Bennett, the Democratic candidate for congress, is out on a campaigning tour. His points of speaking cover a wide expanse of territory, but the Antelope Herald points out that Mr. Bennett, with his usual good judgment, neglected to put Antelope, the center of a large stock country, on the list. The Mitchell Monitor complains that Judge Bennett has entirely ignored Crook county. The Democratic candidate is avoiding some embarrassing situations by refusing to visit the localities where men, who three years ago were wealthy, are now ruined because of Democratic legislation regarding wool.

The Oregonian is after Thomas H. Tongue because in a recent speech he deviated slightly from the edicts of that paper regarding the coinage question. A few weeks ago Mr. Tongue was lauded as a worthy candidate, sound in every particular, and possessing brains and ability above the average. Now the Portland paper says the remarks of Mr. Tongue show total misapprehension of the monetary situation. Poor Oregonian! It has fumed and worried till it has reached a state where it can be pleased by nothing or nobody. All it seems capable of doing is to furnish campaign material for the Democrats and do all it can to elect their candidates.

Hon. A. S. Bennett, the democratic nominee for congressman, is billed to speak at various points throughout the 2nd district from now until election time, but we notice that he has considered it not worth his while to come to Antelope, one of the largest precincts in Eastern Oregon. In leaving Antelope out of the list of points which he will visit, Judge Bennett has exhibited his usual good judgment, for the advocates of free trade and free silver (one of which is as bad as the other) in these parts, are in number something similar to hen's teeth. What the people up here want is a man in congress who will fight for a sound, honest currency, a high protective tariff, and for the repeal of the obnoxious Wilson bill. Judge Bennett, as usual, will get snowed under by the regular biennial storm of republican voters. The Herald wants it understood, however, that it is entirely opposed to the financial views of Hon. W. K. Ellis, the republican nominee for congressman, but in the present case all true republicans can do nothing else than give him their hearty support. We would have much preferred a sound-money candidate, but will always support a free-silver republican who will vote for a high protective tariff, in preference to a free-silver democrat, who is a free-trader, and therefore an enemy to the great sheep and wool industry of the Pacific coast. Therefore, since Hon. W. K. Ellis is the regular republican nominee, we believe it is our duty as a true republican, to support him, and to do what we can to insure his election.—Antelope Herald.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to us each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. Prosperous Times at Heppner. From The Dalles T-M. Mr. W. E. Kahler returned this morning from Heppner where he spent the past week looking after his business interests in Morrow county. Mr. Kahler reports prosperous times at Heppner. About all the mutton sheep in that vicinity have been shorn, and a large number have been delivered to eastern buyers. Between 15,000 and 18,000 head will be started on the trail for eastern points next Monday. The mutton buyers are outfitting their men in Heppner with teams, wagons, provisions, etc., which puts considerable money in circulation, and this, together with the amount that has been paid for the purchase of sheep and for shearing makes money appear quite plentiful at that place. Aside from this stir among sheepmen and the local merchants of Heppner, Mr. Kahler says there is little activity exhibited, although the wheat farmers are looking forward to a prosperous season, the prospects both for heavy crops and fair prices being better than it has been for years.

Files! Files! itching Files. Symptoms—Nausea; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWANER'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swaner & Son, Philadelphia.

A Suspicious Circumstance. From The T-M. It is getting to be rather hard upon some of Astoria when a man must be considered insane because he bestows a little affection upon his own wife. No doubt such action is uncommon in the fair city by the sea, judging from the number of divorce cases that appear on the court docket for Clatsop county, which probably accounts for the following item in the Budget: "A hard-hearted woman recently had a couple arrested for making love in front of an open window. The couple proved their marriage, and Justice Abercrombie decided that a married couple had a perfect right to make love in their own window with both the shade and window up. The case was appealed to the city court and Judge Nelson confirmed the decision of Judge Abercrombie. The case will now be carried to the county court and an attempt will be made on the insanity dodge, and it is not unlikely the couple will be sent to the insane asylum, for in this country no sane man was ever caught sparking his own wife."

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

ARRIVED. I push with eager hands the snow And teach of faded leaves aside, And let my gladdened eyes behold Beauty itself thus glorified. Beauty itself in perfumed robes, Of white and royal rose leaves, Deep in a cloister of the woods, Beneath a gaunt and black-limbed tree. "Fair dower," so I softly croon, "For palaces of ivory met, So delicate thy raiment is,— Why in this cheerless, dim retreat. "Art thou in hiding? Purry thy toes, Shy squirrels and rabbits skirting go With quick a d startled feet across Thy lowly roof of leaves and snow. "Art thou by witch-arts bound to wait Till some strange prince with potent spell Thy weird enchantment breaks, and thou Com'st a fair princess from thy cell? "As over thee I bend to catch Thy sweet revellings, perfumes rare As fancies from sweet woods distill My senses artfully ensnare. "I know thy subtle secret now, And this it is, thou dainty elf: Thou art the white and royal witch, Weaving for others spells thy own." M. PERLES DAWSON. —From Demore's Magazine for May.

UPPER RHEA CREEK. May first. Rain and snow. See that you vote right. Vote the straight republican ticket. Our school will begin next Monday and will be taught by Miss Wren. Mr. Grant Cople is suffering with the quincy. We hope he will soon be better. A bald-headed bachelor is improving his cabin in order to board the school-ma'am. What makes some men in town so ready to shake hands with everyone they see? There is a young man in these parts who makes a good many trips to Six-Dollar canyon. We have a very interesting Bible reading every Sunday. The subject next Sunday is "Mersey." Mr. Alva and Wiley Mikesell have returned home from lambing. They have been working for Mr. Penland and report a pretty equally time. There is a young lady in this neighborhood who is looking very anxiously for news from the Grant Co. Eagle, or some other Grant county bird. The weather has been so bad and the ground so wet that the farmers have not been able to get in their crops, but we can't get too much rain in Eastern Oregon. We hear that Mr. A. Rood was in these parts yesterday looking after republicans. I don't think he found anything else. They grow in this neighborhood. O. G. G.

BITS OF FUN. Brush away the cobwebs straying Lightly through the balmy air; Let the carpets all be swaying On the line and thumped with care. With a towel for a turban, Up the ladder see her climb; For in homes remote and urban It's now house-cleaning time. In this hour of renovation Miss Columbia should not pause O'er the musty legislation Waiting to be turned to laws. Often have her thrift and bustle Been the wonder of each home. Good Columbia, prithee hustle; It is now house-cleaning time. Washington Star. Not Literal.—Teacher—If a boy smites you on the right cheek, what should you do? Dick Hicks—Give it to him with me left.—Pack. Head of Firm—What time does that funeral you want to go to this afternoon take place? Clerk—It is called at 3:30, sir.—Life.

Robber—Come, shell out! Rural minister (easily) If I had such energetic fellows as you to pass the plate now and then I might have something to give you.—Tid-Bits. Boy—Do you want a boy here? Man—Yes. Boy—What kind? A nice boy that doesn't swear or say naughty words or smoke cigarettes or play tricks or get into mischief or— Boy—That's enough, mister; I guess it's a girl you want. Good-by.—New York Sun. "Joseph," said the merchant to the bright young man with the best of references, "the book-keeper tells me that you have lost the key of the safe, and he cannot get at the books." "Yes, sir, one of them. You gave me two, you remember." "Yes; I had duplicates made in case of accident. And the other?" "Oh, sir, I took care of that, I was afraid I might lose one of them, you know?" "And is the other all right?" "Yes, sir. I put it where there was no danger of its being lost. It is in the safe, sir."

A lady was once lamenting the ill-luck which attended her affairs, when a friend, wishing to console her, bade her "look upon the bright side." "Oh," she sighed, "there seems to be no bright side." "Then polish up the dark one," was the quick reply.

Matt Taylor's Jake. From The K. O. Matt Taylor of Pendleton, who boasts a large amount of avoirdupois, went over to Union county a few days ago, and returned Tuesday evening with several boxes of cigars, a satisfied air and a couple of gold-headed canes. It seems that Mr. Taylor, who appreciates a good joke, was asked over there if he was the man running against Colonel Raley for joint senator and he replied "yes." Immediately he was the center of attraction and pledges were made to La Grande and Union on the division question which is agitating the people there. His stay was punctuated with wine suppers and he lived on the fat of the land. People here will see a fat point in the joke, inasmuch as Matt Taylor weighs about 225 and Tom O. Taylor, the real nominee, tips the scales at about 150.

Consumption AND ITS CURE TO THE ENTIRETY—I have an absolute remedy for Consumption. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been already permanently cured. A proof-positive one I of its power that I consider it my duty to send two bottles free to those of your readers who have Consumption, Throat, Bronchitis or Lung Trouble, if they will write me their names and possible address. Sincerely, W. A. SLOAN, R. C. 125 First St., New York. (See the Illustrated Booklet Consumption and its Cure.)
