This lated in your county evidently for the than his predecessors have done has been done, primarily, to influence sole purpose of prejudicing the minds of nominee for county clerk on the republican ticket, I desire to make a brief statement to the end that no injustice shall be done anyone.

I refer especially to the legislative act approved Feb 25, 1895, "To change the compensation and mode of payment of county clerks, sheriff+ and other officers, and also to provide for the appointment of deputies." See session laws, 1895, by Senator Butler and subsequently passed the senate Feb 20, and forthwith As to any person lobbying, or using any suffuence for or against the measure, or to get it "fixed up" with a view of personal benefit, I can state that no one approached me on the subject, nor did I hear of any member being importuned.

It seemed to have been settled by the sentiment of the people that such offices and deputies should be placed on a salary, and it was also understood by the members, as a quiet undercorrent, that the serving incumbents were opposed to the measure; and with unlimited opportunity to discuss the matter with Mr. A. The following facts have decided us to open up an office at The Dalles, and we believe the wool growers will feel an interest in our proposition to handle their wo THE DALLES MARKET .. - In 1895 six million pounds of wool was marketed there, which brought extreme prices. The present outlook is that not less than eight million pounds will be marketed there this season, and we believe wools sold in The Dalles will bring full values

1st. The large amount of wool handled not only attrac's buyers, and the most of them make The Dalles their headquarters for the season, causing a brisk competition. The Oregon mills use not less than two million pounds, so wools in The Dalles have the benefit of this competition, as well as for the East and California markets. 2d. The location of The Dalles is such that five transcontinental railreads compete for freight, guaranteeing the shipper a low rate; in 1895 wools from The Dalles to the East were taken at a rate of 90 ets. per hundred pounds.

3d. Arrangements have been made with the railroad companies whereby local freight to NOTARY PUBLIC. The Dalles when added to the freight from The Dalles East, will not be higher than the freight from local points direct East, and in many cases less. These CONSIGNMENTS. - - While we fully realize consigning wool is a thing of the past, we believe growers will do well to consider our proposition, especially this season as there is every reason to believe it will be a slow, dravgy year, Our business in the past has been buying for Oregon and Eastern mills and dealers. Realizing now slow the mills and dealers will be in placing their orders this year, we think our method of handling will be an advantage to the grower, and considering the wool will not be moved from the home market nor from under your control without consent; you must not look upon our roposition in the light of shipping on consignment. For ten years past, "excepting 1893, the year of the panic," wools have brought better prices in the home markets, as the season advanced, than at the opening, and we believe this will be especially so this season.

When growers are not in a position to hold their wool, or feel inclined to sell to pay their bills, we will make an advance at a liberal rate of interest; will take charge of the wool, pay the teamster's and other charges when requested to do so, and when wools are to be shipped to The Dalles by rail, we will take care of the railway freights from point of shipment to The Dalles, and Delies by rail, we will take care of the railway freights from point of shipment to The Dalles, and at such points as Heppiner and Arlington, we will have a representative who will take charge of the wool and forward it.

You will keep in mind that when shipping to The Dalles there will be no extra expense to you, and considering the low price of wool, we have concluded to do this work at 1/2 cent per pound brokerage.

We will be pleased to hear from you, and send regular accounts of eastern and local markets when requested.
