THE SAFE PLAN.

The popocrats condemn international bimetalism and accuse the adherents of McKinley with lack of honesty in this matter. What has the republican party ever promised that it did not fulfill? Name it if you can. It promised equal rights to all of its citizens, born under the flag and it delivered the goods; it promised to make the greenback dollar as good as the best one and the promise was kept; it assured our people that their interests should be protected as compared with those of the foreigner, and the people of this country well know that the promise was redeemed. Its patriotic purposes have never been honestly questioned. Now, honest, the voter must admit that if independent free coinage does not accomplish the purpose that bimetalists hope that it will, i. e., increase the stock of money of ultimate redemption in circulation and preserving its interchangeability, the dearer money will go to gold countries, assisting them in procuring a large stock of real money—just what they want—thus decreasing their demands for the white metal and putting farther away the desire of all foreign bimetalists that our future policy on finance become the policy of the civilized world. If, we say again, there is any doubt that gold and silver would circulate together under free coinage, and all popocratic speakers admit that there is by showing how gold could be procured to pay gold debts if we should go to a silver basis under free coinage, then the international bimetalists have the best of it. Indeed it is the safest plan, and the admitted statements of the popocratic papers that many foreign notables are encouraging silver legislation is the strongest argument that could be brought in favor of international action.

Absolute action of governments talks louder than false individual praise of Mr. Bryan and his ideas, but it does show conclusively that leading men of leading nations will support any international movement looking to the settlement of this financial question, and through their influence combined effort of nations could be secured.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

The American Tariff League has undertaken an investigation which has for its object the gathering of statistics which will show how the wage-workers have fared in recent times under protective and anti-protective policies. The months of July, 1892 and 1896, have been selected in which to make the tests, as these two dates are respectively two years after the enactment of the McKinley and the Gorman acts.

The American Economist thus summarizes the result:

"Up to the close of last week we had received upward of 550 reports from employers in thirty-six different States who, in July, 1892, afforded occupation for 114,231 hands, whereas the same concerns could only employ 78,700 hands in July of this year.

"The amount of wages paid, in July, 1892, to the 114,231 hands aggregated $3,927,200. But the payrolls for last July, after two years of the Democratic free trade tariff, aggregated only $2,469,712.

"The monthly average rate of wages has declined from $34.50 to $31 among those who are at work. The number of idle hands, in about 550 establishments, was 35,534. The monthly loss of earnings to the wage earners was $1,457,488. The decrease in employment has exceeded 30 per cent. The decrease in wages earned has been 40 per cent."

Here are facts which speak for

OF VALUE TO WOMEN

Interesting Information that Should be Carefully Read by the Fair Sex.

It Treats of the Dangers of Procrastination. Points out the Way of Relief from Various Ills. The Story of a Mother and Daughter.

From the Chronicle, Chicago, Illinois.

A story remarkable in many respects is told by Mrs. George Argile which contains much information which will be appreciated by thousands of women who are suffering as she did, and they will find relief from all their troubles, so easily, so quickly, and so permanently that they will wonder how the possibility came about.

Mr. George Argile left his native home in Yorkshire, England, eight years ago to embrace the greater opportunities this country offered. He was fortunate in immediately securing a responsible position on his arrival in Chicago with the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad Company. Faithful to his duties he received recognition by promotions and today is in sole charge of the team tracks of this great railway system. The position is known in railroad circles as foreman of the teams that load and unload freight.

After one year and a half in the employ of this road he sent for his wife and children, who arrived safely here and in good health. After some two years residence here Mrs. Argile began to feel badly. Like thousands of other women she had womb trouble of over twenty years standing. At first this trouble in Chicago, was not sufficiently acute to interfere materially with her household duties, but in course of months it developed to such a degree that it proved exceedingly painful to her to attend to the many little duties required to keep the house neat and tidy. This condition continued to grow worse and worse till she was forced to recognize that if she did not get skillful medical aid, she would grow into a confirmed invalid. During this period a neighbor whom she had known for quite a while told her that she was using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People with excellent results, and she believed that they would rid her of all her troubles without the aid of any physician. Having confidence in her neighbor's words she commenced to take the pills some six months ago and found that after taking the first box she felt an improvement, not great, but sufficient to realize that if this better feeling continued she would be on the right road.

With the second box she knew that she was getting better, as she gained both flesh and strength, felt a buoyancy of spirit she had not experienced in years, and the pains from which she had suffered so much were quickly growing less. Today it has been five months since she began taking the pills. She is relieved of all her pains, has regained her strength, so that she is able to work all day, and it is only when she overexerts herself that she has any indication of pain, which would also happen to a perfectly well woman.

This is the story of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have done for her, and of course she is well satisfied with the benefits she has received. But this does not end by any means what she has still further to tell, and what is more she speaks with the same knowledge she has of her own case, the case of her little daughter Emily who is 15 years old. She says in regard to her "about three years ago Emily in the summer months when diphtheria was prevalent, was taken down with it. She was very ill and had a serious time of it for weeks. Several times I doubted whether she would pull through but thanks to her strong constitution she got better and after many weeks she was about again. I noticed, however, that something was left in her throat which seemed to affect her. Then, too, she did not regain her old lively spirit. She was lazier in her movements, she complained of being tired and furthermore herselves, and which, set over against the free trade theory, from a striking contrast. The above figures show the loss workingmen have sustained from the practical workings of a policy for which many of them voted four years ago—Irish World.

THE GAZETTE makes no objection to the principle of bimetalism, supporting it as it always has. What is desired is to increase the world's stock of money of ultimate redemption—not particularly more tokens of promises to pay, but more good money that will buy in the markets of the world as bullion just as well as with the stamp upon it. The subject of bimetalism is a world wide as well as a local one. But locally there are twenty live, patriotic issues besides this one of money which cannot and will not be sacrificed by the American people.

it became perceptible that she was growing nervous. Her condition during the following year after her sickness did not improve, in fact, I thought it was a little worse. The second year, I know it was; but probably being with her constantly did not fully realize that she was decidedly getting in a very bad way.

"It was only in the forepart of last year that I became seriously alarmed, as her languidness, her constant tiredness increased and she became so nervous and so fretful that if any person spoke to her it would make her cry. Her appetite got poorer every month and I did really wonder how the little thing could live on what she ate. Her complexion became sallow and assumed a greenish hue, and she became what I called 'skin and bones'—very thin indeed. This was her condition some four months ago. It was at this time that I had taken a few of the pills, and commencing to get faith in them I made Emily take them. I say, immediately she felt better, perhaps that is not quite true, but certainly after the third week I could see an improved condition in her, and this improvement continued up to the second month, slowly but surely. Then the improvement of the child became marked, her appetite returned and she became better with every day, she commenced to fatten up, she became more cheerful and lively and her nervousness at times left her altogether.

"In the last two weeks her complexion has regained the perfect color of health, her cheeks are fleshy and plump and she is as lively as a cricket. Her appetite—well the less said about that the better, she is eating all the time, and all the time is hungry. When she now comes home from school, instead of listlessly crawling into the house to lie down to rest, she is romping all over the house and cries 'Mother you don't know how good it feels to be full of life, how glad I am that I don't feel tired any more.' She has completely thrown off her nervousness, and all those symptoms which had for three long years made me fear very much that she had not long to live.

"All this I know to be due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because she has taken nothing else, and I am indeed thankful that Providence brought the thought to me of giving them a trial, know what a bad condition I was in before I took them, and I saw the condition my daughter Emily was in. Today both of us look and are well. I can do the work in my house every day as I did formerly without any trouble and Emily is one of the liveliest, most cheerful and plump girls in our neighborhood, and that is saying a good deal as the children around us are noted for splendid health and excellent spirits. We live at 4760 Westworth Ave.

"The above is a correct statement of the facts concerning my case and that of my daughter Emily.

(Signed) EMILY ARGILE.
Sworn and subscribed to before me this fourth day of February 1896.

EASTERN storms are reported. It is but the advance guard of the cyclone that will sweep over Bryanism on November 3rd.

"SENATOR ALLISON is not doing anything in Iowa. Oh no. Last Monday at Dubuque he introduced General Sickles in a telling speech.

DON'T forget to hear Hon. J. D. Lee next week at some appointment in Morrow county. Also remember that Senator Mitchell will address the voters here on Oct. 13th.

BRYAN is drawing as large crowds in Maine as elsewhere but no one will accuse Maine people of voting for him in sufficient numbers as to give him their electoral votes.

POPOCRAT papers are printing far and wide Sen. Mitchell's January speech on the money question but they always neglect to put in big type the closing words, "coupled with a protective tariff."

THE old editor of the Mitchell Monitor, A. C. Palmer, denies that he offered to work for Congressman Ellis last summer if $150 was forthcoming. Mr. Palmer's letter to that effect has been preserved and a denial is useless.

THE East Oregonian, the "non-partisan" newspaper, is making considerable bluster in its columns because some drummer bluffed a little on a McKinley bet. Bets don't settle anything but the East Oregonian must not consider that these are all bluffs. It can get all the satisfaction it wants on the result.

IT is an absolute fact that some of our people who are engaged in the cattle business are going to vote for Bryan because they think his election will destroy the sheep industry. How absurd! When the sheepman is done for, the conditions of the country will not be favorable to the success of any sort of an industry. One thing urged is that when wool was 18 and 20 cents a pound cattlemen could not buy hay less than $10 to $15 a ton while now it is plentiful at $2.50. This is a good argument why every farmer should vote for McKinley.

THE Tyranny of the Desk. We will suppose that your occupation is sedentary—that you are chained, so to speak to the desk in some counting house, or perhaps to the loom in some vast mill where you are compelled to labor from morning till night. Sunday is your only day of relaxation. You return home every evening wearied mentally and bodily. Your health and strength begin to fail. What will most effectually recuperate your vital energy? The weight of evidence points to no other opiate than that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is your safest, most reliable sheet anchor. Use it persistently and your system will soon regain its pristine vigor. Every function will receive a healthful impulse. There is no remedy to equal the Bitters for nervousness and want of sleep, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness. It averts and remedies all forms of malarial disease, and is a preventive of rheumatism and neuralgia.

THE Sargeant Case. Chester Sargeant, who was sentenced by Judge Lowell last Tuesday to eighteen months in the penitentiary, is out on bonds pending an appeal to the supreme court. His bonds were placed at $1000 which were given yesterday, Dr. E. R. Swinburne and L. N. Sargeant, grandfather of the defendant, being the bondsmen. A hard fight will be made to save the young man from going to prison.

THE Darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. Every family should keep it in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later. For sale by Conner & Brock.

We live in a country of which the principal scourge is stomach-trouble. It is more widespread than any other disease, and, very nearly, more dangerous.

One thing that makes it so dangerous is that it is so little understood.

If it were better understood it would be more feared, more easily cured, less universal than it is now.

So, those who wish to be cured, take Shaker Digestive Cardiac, because it goes to the root of the trouble as no other medicine does. The pure, harmless, curative herbs and plants, of which it is composed, are what render it so certain and, at the same time so gentle a cure.

It helps and strengthens the stomach, purifies and tones up the system.

Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Are You Made Miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shaker's Vitalizer is a positive cure. For sale by Wells & Warren.
