WHEN YOU GO ABROAD. Simple Directions for Seeing Paris in

First day-Drive to Drexel's or Mon roe's to get some money. Steal as many American newspapers from the reading-rooms as possible. Take lunch at a boulevard restaurant. Kick at the bill. Take a cab and visit Notre Dame, the Morgue, the Sainte-Chapelle, the Palais de Justice and the Cluny Museum. Wind up at that big shop called the Bon Marche, and finish the afternoon looking around. Go to bed insmediately after dinner.

Second day-Go to the Bon Marche and stay till dark. Of course, only the ladies do this. It will give a chance for the men of the party to go down to Henry's American bar and stay till Third day-Get up late and take the ladies to that big shop called the Louvre. The men go to see about their steamer tickets and then make a trip to the Gare du Nord to get some extra trunks out of bond. All meet at the Louvre; take lunch at the cake shop opposite, then go to the Louvre again and stay all day buying gloves. In the evening go to the grand opera, where the whole party goes to sleep from sheer fatigue.

Fourth day-See about the wash. Be gin packing the gloves. Start for Versailles. Get back in time to take a drive through the Bois de Boulogne. At night the men of the party go to the Moulin Rouge.

Fifth day-The men go out alone and the women go out alone. The latter buy hats on the Rue Royale. The Sixth day-Everybody goes shopping. In the evening pack trunks.

One of the funniest things that have occurred in Joliet during the present year, says the Joliet (III.) Republican, was the mishap of a gentleman who formerly lived on the west side, but is now a resident of the city, and whose wife ran the store bill and looked after the household expenses. He was in the habit, by agreement with his grocer, of cigars and occa goods that were not exactly cigars charged up as potatoes. One evil day his wife took her pencil and began to reckon up the accounts. She finally found that the family had eaten over room of hot water, but it also prevents | the account was correct. The smoker and the smoker's grocer were between the upper and the nether millstone for several days, and it was doubtful who would be pulverized the finest, but finally an explanation was made that mollified the wife, even if it didn't satisfy her as to the correctness of the Close observers have noticed that flies will gather upon a half-drunken sleepy sot, while a dozen sober men in the same room are not molested by them. The flies will buzz around their subject with great delight, frequently alighting upon his perspiring face. Off they go, and return again and again, quaffing the alcoholic nectar issuing from his pores. After awhile their flight becomes uncertain and eccentric and sometimes they come in collision. Recently a drunken man raised his hand and brushed them from his face. Some fell to the floor and lay there par alyzed. After awhile they got on their feet and wearily flew off, half dazed Many animals yield to the seduction of rum drinking, especially elephants horses, cows and swine.
