THE CASCADE SHEEP RANGE.

The attention of Oregon people is now being called to that portion of the wild mountain section known now as the "Cascade forest reserve." In fact this reservation has been the subject of contention ever since it became evident that it was no longer available as pasture for sheep.

The mountainous localities of Eastern Oregon, and in fact of every section of this state, are used as summer range for sheep, and oftentimes cattle and horses. Their vast forests of timber are in the main so remote from civilization as not to be available for use. Native grasses flourish in abundance and on these stock grow fast. Sheep feed on underbrush of certain sorts, but never touch evergreens, and this kind of young shrubbery is the only variety that ever matures into trees in most of the mountains of Oregon, and particularly in that part of the Cascades known as the "forest reserve."

It is then apparent that the oft-repeated objection to sheep ranging in the Cascade mountains—that they will destroy the young trees and finally ruin the vast forests—is not well founded. The Antelope Herald in a recent issue strikes the keynote when it suggests that the sheep are destructive to nothing but hunting and fishing, and that the reserve is for the pleasure of a few hunters who reside in Portland. Undoubtedly the Herald is right. Sheep, properly herded in the mountains where there are no habitations, do no damage whatever, and unless the sheepmen can avail themselves of this vast range, many of them will be forced either to go out of business or drive long distances to summer range where Uncle Sam is not so particular. So far as Morrow county is concerned, the Blue and Greenhorn ranges furnish an abundance of fine range, but our more unfortunate brethren of Wasco county are the sufferers. The interests of the sheepmen are mutual, as well as those who are depending upon the sheepmen for business, and this is no small part of the population, and the Gazette therefore urges that our delegation in congress have this order, which created the "Cascade forest reserve," revoked at an early date, so that this vast section of wild land may be used as pasture lands. That is all it is fit for. It may spoil the hunting and fishing but no one will be the loser and many, a great many hardworking citizens will be the gainer thereby.

THE Gazette still urges that the Eastern Oregon republicans should unite on a man of their own section for speaker of the next house of representatives. We believe that they will do this, and that their action will be seconded by a sufficient number to nominate him in the caucus. The only Eastern Oregon candidate is Hon. J. N. Brown, of Heppner. He has seen service in the house and will make a good speaker.

THE E. O. says the Gazette's proprietors are themselves responsible for the information upon which it claims foundation for a certain personal editorial. They deny it. If it were true the E. O. man, Jackson, has committed an unpardonable breach of confidence. Jackson should be measured by his own standard. He is a cheap gossip and should apply for admittance at once to some circle of old women who do nothing from morning till night but fuss and growl. He belongs to a regulation quilting society and not at the helm of a newspaper. A cheap man always has cheap methods.

CALIFORNIA has one Bryan elector.

Who says that Heppner will not rustle for business?

SPAIN has "busted" herself trying to conquer Cuba and yet Cuba is not conquered.

UNCLE JOHN GURDANE thinks that Mitchell will be re-elected without any opposition. Of course he will.

The Columbia was frozen over at The Dalles during the recent cold spell, the earliest on record since the country has been settled.

HON. WM. E. CHANDLER, of New Hampshire, is an ardent believer in bimetalism, though an opponent of either silver or gold monometallicism.

DAKOTA and Minnesota have had some experience with the recent cold wave. Some 2,500 head of sheep that were caught on the cars in the storm were depleted 500 head.

THE Review of Reviews for December denounces the administration's abandonment of American interests in Turkey, and demands that existing treaty rights be respected and enforced.

NATIONAL TREASURER MORGAN'S report still shows a deficit in government finances, though it is not as large in proportion as that of the last fiscal year. It will take a reorganization of tariff laws to give the required amount of revenue.

Who is Lydell Baker, the man who is making so much noise through the columns of the Oregonian? Why, a fifth rate lawyer who couldn't make a living at his profession and got an appointment as clerk of that misnomer, the Oregon railway commission.

THE gold reserve was $131,510,352 on Dec. 1. During the month of November 1,914,000 standard silver dollars were coined. The gold is increasing in the treasury and some silver is yet being coined, though many wild advocates of Bryanism averred that none would be if McKinley was elected. What nonsense!

GARFIELD township, Seward county, Kansas, cast two votes only on November 3rd. The entire voting population consists of four republicans and four populists. Six of the eight voters paired, but one populist did not like his own nominee for county attorney and refused to pair, consequently one republican voted. The board drew their $2 per day for a regular voting precinct was maintained.

THE republican party has declared for international bimetallicism, as a safe solution of the silver question, and the Gazette expects that under the McKinley administration the matter will be settled to the satisfaction of all. The Gazette does not believe in anything short of honest, diligent effort to bring about an end to this financial agitation. It is a constant menace to business.

It is pretty well settled that the republicans will have a clear majority in the senate the next congress. If they have not, five democratic senators will assist them so that the passage of tariff legislation is an assured fact. It is positively certain that revenue and protective laws will give the country the relief that it needs, then it wants some rest.

A MATTER OF WISDOM.

From the Corvallis Gazette.
At the banquet tendered Mr. Hirsch on Portland Saturday night Mr. Scott, among other things, said: "We have differences on minor questions, but we agree on the main question." In the graphic language of the street, "let it go at that."

The main question of the campaign was the financial question. It was a campaign of education to many of us who had hitherto impressions rather than knowledge regarding the science of money. As Colonel Kestay says: "We did not change our minds; we simply began to use them."

Among the leading men of the nation now in active political life there are few who have not at some time been deceived by financial fallacies. Carlisle, McKinley, Sherman and hosts of others have let their zeal outrun their wisdom on national financial matters. Yet Carlisle is today the ablest exponent of the science of money and McKinley led the sound money hosts on to victory.

This campaign of education has educated the teachers as well as pupils. An interesting example is the case of Governor McConnell. His letter to the Spokane Review in the beginning of the campaign, explained why he, a silver man, supported McKinley. A month later he was exposing clearly and forcibly, the weaknesses of free silver arguments. This election has settled the silver question. Those who supported McKinley will oppose independent free coinage of silver. "We agree on the main question."

There cannot be any real doubt concerning the attitude of Senator Mitchell. It is professed to answer now over the meaning of the republican platform of 1892. The financial plank of that platform is admitted by all to be weak and evasive. It is capable of many constructions. The financial declaration of 1896 is, however, plain and explicit. It admits of no difference between republicans on this question, and Senator Mitchell is a republican.

The Oregonian asks Mr. Mitchell to define, publicly, his position on the financial question. The best reply to this invitation are those words of Mr. Scott, when he said—speaking for Senator Mitchell as well as for himself—"We agree upon the main question." The Gazette has no better method of discovering Mr. Mitchell's views than has the Oregonian, but is perfectly willing to rely upon Mr. Scott's statement. The Oregonian should desire no better authority.

There are several reasons why Senator Mitchell should not rush with his views to a newspaper in order to answer the inquiry. In the first place the question presupposes a doubt that does not really exist. Then a public declaration at this time would be construed to mean an undignified bid for votes. There are proper times for public men to make public utterances, and apparent frankness is often mere stupidity. A weaker, less intelligent man than Senator Mitchell would have paraded his views before now and imagine himself a born diplomat. Property, etiquette and wisdom would let the matter rest, publicly, in the common understanding, that "we agree on the main question."

A Welcome Usher of '97.
The beginning of the New Year will have a welcome usher in the shape of a fresh Almanac, descriptive of the origin, nature and uses of the national tonic and alternative, Hestetter's Stomach Bitters. Combined with the descriptive matter will be found calendar and astronomical calculations absolutely reliable for correctness, statistics, illustrations, verses carefully selected, and other mental food highly profitable and entertaining. On this pamphlet, published and printed annually by The Hostetter Company, of Pittsburgh, 60 hands are employed in the mechanical department alone. Eleven months are devoted to its preparation. It is procurable free of charge, and is printed in English, German, French, Spanish, Welsh, Norwegian, Holland, Swedish and Bohemian.

PENNSYLVANIA GALLOWS.
From the E. O.
Large sales of wheat were made last Saturday at Toledo, Ohio, for May delivery at one dollar a bushel. A dollar a bushel wheat means a higher price for a loaf of bread and the poor of the cities find that the high price of bread is not the blessing it is cracked up to be.

The high price of wheat this year has squared many of the "security debts" of past years. Wheat would never have to bring over 45 to 50 cents a bushel to secure property to this country were it not for the security and other debts created in boom times. Remember that inflated prices for wheat have their drawbacks and bad results as well as inflation in the prices of other things. The people who are starving in India as well as those suffering for the necessities in other countries are not over-hilarious at this time even if wheat is high.

Torturing Rheumatism.

The busiest and most useful men are not always exempt from sickness. Especially are they liable to be attacked and completely disabled by that most annoying and painful ailment—Rheumatism. Men in all walks of life are subject at any time to be seized with this disease, and besides the great bodily pain, there is almost unbearable mental anguish at the thought of having one's strength and vigor gradually supplanted by a condition of utter helplessness. Under the effects of Rheumatism, the strongest men become the weakest, and the most useful are robbed of their usefulness.

Mr. J. A. LeSueur has lived in Atlanta, Ga., for years, and some of the prettiest residences and most substantial business blocks of that city are monuments to his skill as an architect and builder.

Mr. J. A. LeSueur.

But like many other busy men, Mr. LeSueur was overtaken by Rheumatism, and his strength gave way to a condition of helplessness. This dread disease produces more agony, he says, than can well be described. "For years I have suffered with Sciatic Rheumatism, and often felt as if a small piece of my spine had been taken out, also as if a fragment of bombshell had passed through my left hip. When I would sit down, I could not straighten up for several minutes, and then only at the expense of great pain. I could get absolutely no relief, though many remedies were tried. Someone recommended S. S. S. and I was almost in despair when I began its use. In three days, however, I was so greatly relieved that I felt very little inconvenience from the rheumatism. The disease grew less painful as I continued the S. S. S., and very soon disappeared entirely. S. S. S. also proved to be a fine tonic, as I now have more appetite, and feel better than ever before, in my life. I cannot say too much in praise of S. S. S."

Rheumatism is a condition of the blood which has always baffled the doctors, and it is a peculiarity that those who once have it are sure to always be subject to its attacks from time to time. The reason of this is that the doctors are only able to give temporary relief, but cannot rid the system of the disease permanently. S. S. S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is the only real blood remedy for real blood troubles, such as Rheumatism, Scrofula, Cancer, Eczema, Catarrh, Tetter, Contagious Blood Poison, etc. It is a peculiarity that a disease from the system it never returns. Our valuable books will be mailed free to any address. Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

They Commence Their Labors at Salem by Organizing—Harry Wells Secretary.

From the Statesman, Thursday.
The state board of equalization met at 2 o'clock p. m. yesterday in adjourned session for the purpose of completing the organization and preparing for the work in hand. All members were present except O. P. Goodell, of Union county, the only populist on the board, being detained by the blockade on the O. R. & N. road. G. Wingata, of Astoria, presided this yesterday afternoon.

Permanent organization was effected by the election of A. C. Auldin, of Lakeview, as president; Harry L. Wells, of Portland, secretary; George G. Shirley, of Portland, clerk; and Harry Holman, of Dalles, messenger.

On motion of D. P. Thompson, of Portland, the compensation of secretary and clerk was fixed at $6 per day each and that of messenger at $1.50 per day.

Tom Stephens Killed.
A report has come from Burns, Harney county, to the effect that Tom Stephens has been killed in a row with a cowboy, which occurred in the vicinity of Burns, says the E. O. No authentic information can be obtained, as Burns is 150 miles from the railroad.

Stephens is one of the owners of the Burns hotel building, and runs a saloon in it. He is a good natured fellow, perhaps inclined to be reckless, but by no means quarrelsome. The arrival of Burns papers in a day or two will probably clear up the matter and give particulars, provided such a killing took place. Stephens was here at the fall races a year ago, and is known almost everywhere in the Northwest as an all-round sportsman. He has had numerous fights in Burns and in one in which he and Hank Long used guns, Stephens came within an ace of losing his life.
