McClure's Magazine For 1897 SEVEN GREAT SERIALS

A New Life of Grant by HAMILTON GARLAND. The first authoritative and adequate Life of Grant ever published. (Begun in December.) Rudyard Kipling's first American serial, "Captains Courageous." (Begun in November.) Robert Louis Stevenson's "St. Ives." The only novel of Stevenson's still unpublished (Begun in May.)

TEN FAMOUS WRITERS. All the fiction that will be written during the coming year, with the exception of two contributions to another publication which were engaged from him long ago, will appear in McClure's Magazine.

One Dollar a Year. The new volume begins with November. Subscriptions should start with this number. The S. S. McClure Co., New York.

A Campaign Of Education How to Get It For $5.00. AN UNPARALLELED OFFER. To be educated one must read the best literature. The best literature is expensive. Leslie's Illustrated Weekly, Published at 110 Fifth Avenue, New York, is full of the best things. Its illustrations are superb; its stories charming; and its literary departments are edited with consummate skill.

Leslie's Illustrated Weekly and our Semi-Weekly one year for only $5.00. No such offer was ever made before. No such offer will ever be made again. These two papers make a most acceptable Christmas or birthday gift, and will be constant reminders of the giver's kindness. Remit by postal order or check to the GAZETTE, Heppner, Oregon.

WEEKLY THE MONTHLY Outlook. Their Enforced Use Has Changed the Muzzed of London Dogs. The muzzing order has now been so long in operation that one is able to see its practical results, at all events so far as London is concerned, says the London News. They are really very remarkable, especially from a point of view not likely to be immediately taken.

The Outlook will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty-seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments The Outlook gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; furnishes cheerful fable-talk about men and things; and, in short, aims to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Begin with the fifty fifth volume, the paper will assume the regular magazine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. The Outlook is published every Saturday— fifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month is an illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages as the ordinary issue, together with a large number of pictures. The price of The Outlook is three dollars a year in advance, or less than a cent a day. Send for a specimen copy and illustrated prospectus to The Outlook, 13 Astor Place, New York City.

MEANS TOWARD GOOD LOOKS. Trifles Which Aid in Keeping Women's Faces Fair to View. A well-known writer says: "A woman's gospel is to be lovely in mind and body." We all know that loveliness of mind is reflected in the expression of the face and eyes, but as it cannot affect the texture or color of the skin, I will give you a few recipes for developing and enhancing the beauty of one, while you alone can cultivate the loveliness of the other.

Fineness of the skin, daintiness of the body and rosiest of the complexion depend almost entirely upon bathing, as a means both of obtaining and retaining them. A cold bath is a good tonic and nerve bracer, but it neither cleanses nor beautifies the skin to any extent. Nor should delicate girls or women think of indulging in it unless so advised by their physician. The temperature of a beautifying bath should be from 70 to 75 degrees, and it should be of daily occurrence. Ordinary water, that is, water neither particularly hard nor soft, is not sufficiently cleansing to the skin, and a French firm has lately introduced dainty soaps containing almond-meal, oatmeal and orrisroot to be placed in the water a few moments before the bath is ready. This renders the water very milky, and has a wonderfully softening and whitening effect. Baths in which milk, bran or starch has been placed are found to refine or whiten the coarsest, roughest skin, if persistently used. Softness and firmness of skin may be obtained by the use of a simple unguent made famous by the Greek and Roman women, who centuries ago set us the example of perfect personal cleanliness as the road to beauty. The following can be made with very little trouble, and it is delightfully exhilarating after the bath: Best white vinegar, one pint; rosemary, rue, camphor and lavender (of each), two drachms. Let the herbs soak in the vinegar for several hours, then strain. Rub thoroughly all over the body and a delicious comfortable feeling and a dainty perfume will remain with one all day long.

There are many little skin troubles which are both persistent and troublesome, and vex one's very soul by appearing on the face. A grayish skin may arise from various causes, but generally from lack of cleanliness or delicacy of the skin. Only an astringent has any effect upon it, and a very simple, entirely harmless one may be made from one pint of rosewater, half a pint of white wine vinegar and a few drops of essence of rose. This lotion may be applied with a piece of soft linen or a very fine sponge.

Blackheads are very difficult to get rid of, and are caused by the clogging of the pores of the skin by dust or foreign matter. Alcohol, 90 per cent., applied by means of a piece of soft linen, will give tone to the skin and remove unsuspected dirt and dust, at the same time stimulating the small glands and removing, by constant use, the blackheads.

Tan and freckles may be removed by the use of the following lotion: Two drachms of powdered sal ammoniac, four drachms of eau de cologne, one quart of distilled water. Lemon juice and borax are both very efficacious, and are home remedies.

Many skins will stand constant washing, but need to be cleaned after a dusty ride or walk by other means than soap and water. Lait Virginal is a delicate preparation, and can be made as follows: One pint of rose, orange-flower or elder flower water, half an ounce of simple tincture of benzoin and ten drops of tincture of myrrh.

After being exposed to harsh or chilling winds, it is a good plan, upon retiring, to rub a quantity of fresh cream on the face, removing after about five or ten minutes, to be applied again, followed by a generous puffing of rice powder. Remove in the morning by tepid water and Lait Virginal.

The use of cosmetics, face powders and rouges cannot be too strongly condemned. They stamp the person using them as silly and vulgar in the eyes of all refined and cultured people, and do not in even the slightest degree enhance or beautify. A good complexion needs no artificial toning or heightening, nature being the cleverest of all artists.

A poor skin is kept clogged and its condition impoverished by the application of cosmetics—often, indeed, it is poisoned by the harmful ingredients contained in them. Arsenic and white lead are the two drugs most used in their preparation, and two of the rankest poisons which can be introduced into the system. Medical treatment for the beautifying, preserving and improving the complexion should only be undertaken under the direction of one's family physician, and once ordered upon, should be continued patiently and faithfully until the purpose is accomplished. Nothing short of a complete course of treatment will prove efficacious. With good medical advice, plenty of sleep, fresh air, careful diet and scrupulous cleanliness, all women may hope to have complexion fair and sweet to look upon.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Flies were being driven in one of the new buildings for a foundation for a punch. They were eight inches in diameter and fourteen feet long. The stinging was unbearable, and so was the frame for the hammer, which was a round piece of steel, with a hole in the center for a guide rod. Attached to the hammer block were 27 ropes, carried up to the top of the frame and down on the outside, looking very much like the old-fashioned Maypole. Twenty-seven men held the ends of the ropes, and with a sing-song, all together, pulled down; up the rod, four feet, traveled the hammer; then, at a scream, all let go, and down it came on top of the pile, which was protected by a band of ring. The women were paid 50 cents in gold per day. This Maypole driver is in general use throughout Japan and China.

GREAT PHENOMENON. Daily Journey of the Sun Puzzled the Ancients—Many Extraneous Theories. Strange as it may seem in this day and age, the rising and setting of the sun was the greatest of natural phenomena to the ancient scholars. They were greatly puzzled to know how the same sun which plunged into the ocean at a fabulous distance in the west could reappear the next morning at an equally great distance in the east. And, as Sir Robert Ball points out, a number of remarkable theories were advanced, and every one of them wrong.

Commenting upon this, the Argus says: "We have not formulated or even discussed any rational policy to guide us in our dealings with these 'eastern neighbors'; consequently the attitude of Australia must be one of simple aloofness. Mr. Coote's tidings are an eloquent homily to Queensland as to the necessity for federation and a reminder to the colonies generally how precarious the position of Australia would be were it not an integral part of the British empire. While that is so, no man can only arise to Australia in the event of a great war in which the naval strength of the empire is overtaxed. In such a case Japan, enrolled upon the side of England's enemies, would be an important factor in the turn from the Australian point of view." The Australians, therefore, like the Spaniards, are not inclined to do more than take note of the fact that danger may threaten them from Japan. It is different with the Dutch. They talk of taking the bull by the horns. Prof. Schlegel writes in the Dagblad, The Hague, as follows: "The only way to guard against attacks upon the colonies by the Japanese is to drive them out of Formosa. Holland must take possession of Formosa. The remembrance of Dutch rule has not yet been eradicated in that island, and both Chinese and natives would welcome our return as putting an end to the reigning anarchy. True, Japan would not voluntarily give up the island. But that is not necessary. Perhaps Russia and France, and even England, would join Holland in dispossessing the Japanese. The seed sown by Dutch ministers and teachers two centuries ago would then speedily bear fruit."—Literary Digest.

TEACHERS IN CAMBODIA. A Spiritual Head Between Them and Their Pupils.

All children who present themselves at the seat for study are required to be in the habit of reading the scriptures of the school. The choice of a professor is always a grave affair, because it is held in Cambodia, as in all Buddhist and Brahminic countries, that professor and pupil are bound by strong ties of spiritual affinity, and that the pupil ought to respect his master as he does his father and mother. The law inflicts the same penalty upon an offense of the pupil against his master as an offense by a son against his father and mother and it prescribes that in certain cases the pupil may be heir of his professor when he has devoted for him or supported him or served him when studying under his direction; not only a family bond but a religious bond, too, is established between them, for the professor makes it his business to teach his pupil the course by which he may earn more advantageous reincarnation and reach the Nirvana, and becomes his spiritual guide.

THEY SPIN BY HAND. Old-Fashioned Block Islanders Still Spin Their Wool Into Conspicuous. The hum of the spinning wheel is still a familiar sound in Block Island, a quaint and interesting resort in summer and a miniature world in winter, in which the habits and customs are those of 150 years ago. The island is 15 miles off the Rhode Island shore and almost directly south of stormy Point Judith, says the New York Herald.

HERE'S A COOL HOUSE. A German Inventor Conceives a Scheme to Keep You Comfortable in Summer. The house of the water tubes is the remarkable building freak of a German inventor, who claims that he has solved the problem of a constant temperature that may be regulated at will, and incidentally secured a structure that combines the elements of strength, comfort and beauty.

JAPAN'S EXPANSION. How She Looks in Regard to Asia. The German papers inform England that there are serious English-speaking factories imbued with the desire for new territory. It would be interesting to know how far our German contemporaries acknowledge the right to expand of nations outside of Europe. Japan, to the horror of the European element in the far east, turns her attention toward the Indian ocean. We condense the following account by Mr. Aubrey Cooté in the Argus, Melbourne: "While in a case with several Japanese officers they were conversing about Australia, saying that it was a fine, large country, with great forests and excellent soil for the cultivation of rice.
