

Dustin. He has not really warmed his chair since arriving at the capital, but occasionally may be seen dodging around the corridors like Bancho's ghost. If Morrow county was compelled to change from Representative Brown to a man like Dustin, in the matter of a representative, God pity us. No greater misfortune could be visited upon us. Our representative is doing his duty; Dustin is not, and, further, will not. The Gazette shall oppose any combination that joins Morrow with a populist county in the matter of representation in the legislature.

MCKINLEY is now rapidly making selections for his cabinet. Up to date he has selected John Sherman, of Ohio, for secretary of state; Lyman J. Gage, of Illinois, secretary of the Treasury; Russell A. Alger, of Michigan, secretary of war; James Wilson, of Iowa, secretary of agriculture. Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, has also received the appointment of controller of the currency to succeed Eckels.

THE Evening Telegram kindly suggests that the legislature should either sing this week or get off the perch. The probabilities are that there will be some humming before the week is over, even though melody should be entirely lacking.

A NUMBER of senatorial elections occurred throughout the country last week. John C. Spooner was elected in Wisconsin, John P. Jones in Nevada, W. A. Harris in Kansas, Joseph H. Earle in South Carolina, Geo. Turner in Washington and Heitfield in Idaho.

WHEAT OUR EXCHANGES SAY. There is not a citizen in this state of the narrow capacity who cannot see that malice prompts the treacherous dexterity of the editor of the Oregonian in making war upon all republicans whom he cannot rule through his clamorous faction. But the execution of his gross designs will fail, as such intrigues and opposition to the will of the people must always fail, to accomplish the virulent object of the vile heart of the editor of the Oregonian whose temerity has brought his rotten sheet to the very verge of public contempt for its publicly confessed dishonesty and desertion of Mr. Ellis during the late congressional campaign which again brought the despotism of the Oregonian to naught by the timely discovery of the people of the true character of its editor.

THE National Editorial Association meets at Galveston, Texas, on February 17th, 1897.

HOKI SMITH says Bryan's Atlanta effort as a lecturer was the most complete failure he ever saw. And Hoki ought to know a complete failure when he sees it, adds a sardonic friend.

We need a Ben Butler for governor of Oregon. A little stern patriotism and less catering to law-breakers by the officials, would be a blessing to this country.—Baker City Republican.

ACCORDING to an exchange McKinley will be the third Methodist president of the United States. Of the others eight have been Episcopals, six Presbyterians, two Unitarians, one Christian and one Freethinker.

As predicted in the last issue of the Gazette, Heitfield, the populist nominee for senator, was elected up in Idaho. Dubois' defeat was a great disappointment to his many friends but from a political standpoint it was certainly a creditable act.

JUDGE GEORGE TURNER, of Spokane, was elected senator, by a combination of fusionists, up in Washington last Friday. Spokane now has the two senators and one of the representatives. Why not invite "Dude" Lewis to move over to Spokane and make it unanimous.

By a vote of more than two to one the Nevada legislature has passed the bill favoring prize fighting. The governor has signed the bill and it is now a law. The Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight is soon to come off, and already Reno and Carson are active aspirants for the plum. Nevada is a state of no great resources and consequently must invite foreign capital regard of honor.

The Somers bill to re-apportion the state as to senators and representatives should not pass. It is unfair in many respects. For example, Morrow and Grant counties are given one joint representative. Excuse us, we don't want this combination to win, judging from what Grant and Harney are now receiving at the hands of

Joseph Simon, the would-be god of the republican party of Oregon, favored a caucus to nominate his president of the senate, opposed a caucus for the election of a U. S. senator, endorsed the

BEWARE OF FAKE CURES.

Take Paine's Celery Compound if You Need a True Remedy.

Do Not Allow a Salesman to Palm off Any Substitute.

Health is too Precious to Listen to the Preaching of Quacks.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes the Sick Well Again.

The Wonderful Prescription That Results From the Life Work of America's Greatest Physician, Investigator and Practitioner.

There is one direction, as Dr. George F. Shady, America's first surgeon, distinctly says, in which people seem to need enlightenment at present more than they have for many years past.

"This is the rational appreciation of the danger of quackery and fake cures." Dr. Shady's article in the New York World of Dec. 27 should be read by every man and woman who is ever inclined to listen to the nonsensical, but too often plausible, ramblings of traders in patent medicines.

When Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D., of Dartmouth college, after a long life of study in the most recent scientific investigation of diseases, evolves the marvelous formula of Paine's celery compound—when after the closest possible observance by the best practitioners it is found that this greatest remedy of our generation not only does all, but even accomplishes more than the modest doctor—the giant among men that he has proved to be—more than he was willing at first to claim—when thousands of sufferers in every walk of life, sufferers from the ailments that come from over-work, deranged digestive organs, impaired nervous systems, too poor or too rich living, inattention to hygienic laws, have been absolutely restored to health by Paine's celery compound, after vainly trying every other possible remedy, and being doctored by well-meaning but incompetent so-called physicians.

When this is taken into consideration, and at the same time we find hosts of people still willing to be led astray by the hundred and one nostrums which irresponsible traders try to foist upon them on the pretext that these preparations are "as good as Paine's celery compound" (but really because they make a big profit on such preparations), it is time for every one who detests fraud, to warn his neighbors, and take the warning to himself, that when he goes to get a bottle of Paine's celery compound he must not be wheedled into taking some other remedy.

Paine's celery compound makes people well. These other things work harm. Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine. Its formula is given freely to every physician. These trashy stuffs that you are asked to buy are made up of ingredients that should never be taken into a sick stomach. These ordinary nervines, tonics and astragalines are no more to be compared with Paine's celery compound than a glimmering candle is to be compared with the wonderful modern search light. If a person needs a true nerve tonic, a real blood purifier, a reliable diuretic, that will restore strength, renew vitality, regulate the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make one well, let that person try his or her first bottle of Paine's celery compound and mark the wonderful result!

WELCOMING A RIVER.

A Joyful Occasion to the People of a Portion of Peru. In the long coastal desert of Peru, which is some 2,000 miles in length, but only 120 miles broad at its widest part, the rivers, Maj. A. F. Sears says, disappear in the dry season and begin to flow again in February or March when rain falls in the Cordilleras. One of the most important of these rivers is the Piura, the return of whose waters is welcomed with great rejoicing by the inhabitants of its banks. About the time when "the coming of the river" is expected, says the Youth's Companion, eager inquiries as to the progress of the water are put to all persons who chance to come from the head of the valley, and when the water approaches the town of Piura processions go out to meet it, and escort its first trickling stream down the dry river-bed with music and fireworks. At the outskirts of the city thousands of people greet its arrival. The valley of the Piura is said by Maj. Sears to produce excellent cotton. Although the possibilities in this respect are not well developed for lack of systematic irrigation. Once in a period of from five to seven years rain falls upon the coastal plain, whereupon, with magic quickness, grass and flowers cover it, and cattle browse in its pastures, but in a few weeks everything withers, and desolation reigns once more upon the barren sands.

FITTED FITTING FITTING.

Symptoms: Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

While attempting to ride a bucking horse out at Hardman last Sunday, the eyes fell on the rider, Charley Farlow, breaking his left leg above the knee. Rufus Farrows started at once for this city for a doctor and when about five miles from town his horse fell with him, rendering him unconscious. In this condition he was found some time afterward, when he was also badly chilled. He was brought in on the Hepper stage, and was soon restored to consciousness and is now rapidly recovering from the accident. Dr. Hunlock was summoned to Hardman where he found Mr. Farlow in rather a bad condition, as the injured member was very badly swollen. However he did everything possible for the patient and will visit him again tomorrow.

GOT EVEN WITH THE CLERK.

How a Country Gentle Made the Hotel Official Pay Up. A country guest at a certain London hotel, having a dread of pickpockets, went to the clerk and handed him a $20 note to be put in the safe, saying: "Come take it, and for the next day the money to whom he had given the money coolly denied any recollection of the matter. Whereupon the countryman went to a lawyer. "Get another $20 note," said the lawyer, "and go, accompanied by a friend, back to the hotel. Apologize to the clerk for your mistake. Say it was a defect of memory. Attach to it a check for $20. Deposit the second $20 note in the presence of your friend and come back to me." The mystified ruralist observed instructions to the very letter. "Now," said the lawyer, "go back to the clerk and ask him for your $20 note. Knowing that your friend saw him receive it he will give you back the second one. Then take your friend with you next day, approach the clerk, ask him boldly for that $20 note and as there was no witness to your receipt of the second note he will be forced to return that also." The ruse proved completely successful, much to the gratification of the countryman.

What's the money for? To get good things. What's the money-back? Good—Schilling's Best.
