

Now for a special session and remedial legislation.

CONGRESS will be convened in special session March 15th.

SAYS the Yaquina News: "The Simon-Bourne farce is ended. Will the twenty-nine Judas Iscariots please go and hang themselves?"

If justice were done, the twenty-nine members of the Davis house would all be serving out sentences for contempt, as they have insulted all the people, and stood them up in genuine road-agent fashion.—Astoria Budget.

MCKINLEY'S cabinet as published in Tuesday's issue was correct with the exception of the position of secretary of the interior. C. N. Bliss, of New York, was appointed to this place instead of John J. McCook, of the same state.

The supreme court of California yesterday afternoon affirmed the decision of the Durrant case, so that the murderer of Blanche Lamont can now be sentenced to be hanged by the superior court as soon as that tribunal desires.

GOVERNOR LORD promised several of the members of the legislature that he would call a special session within ninety days in the event of no legislation. This is certainly the proper position and the people of Oregon sincerely hope that he will keep the promise.

THE Oregon rump senate has quit. Simon had previously ruled that it could not adjourn sine die, so by motion it "dissolved" Tuesday. This is certainly a very appropriate term. The Davis rump house is also rapidly dissolving and will in all probability go to pieces today.

A LAWYER in a court room may call a man a liar, a scoundrel, villain or a thief and no one makes a complaint when court adjourns. If a newspaper prints such a reflection on a man, it is a libel suit or a dead editor. This is owing to the fact, remarks an exchange, that the people believe what the editor says.

On last Tuesday Congressman Herman introduced in the lower house of the federal legislature a memorial of the chamber of commerce of Portland, for a delegate from Alaska. That extensive and valuable possession of this government, up among the icebergs, occupies an anomalous position, having no spokesman in the national law making body. The demand for a delegate from Alaska in the lower house is certainly an altogether reasonable one.

THE inaugural ceremonies that marked the accession of William McKinley to the president's chair yesterday were perhaps the grandest and most impressive ever witnessed in this country with the possible exception of Grant's first inauguration. This is certainly an evidence of confidence in the new administration, to which President McKinley responded with expression of gratitude to the people for the trust they had reposed in him.

A NEWSPAPER man who has studied Speaker Reed closely says: "Mr. Reed takes frequent rests by calling members temporarily to the chair. But yesterday, for instance, was given over to motions for suspension of the rules. He was afraid of what might come up, so he would not trust another member with the responsibilities of the chair. Hour after hour of this ceaseless and monotonous strain wears out even his Titanic vigor. He becomes worn and abstracted. He is often jolly and shakes with laughter in the chair, but now he is severe and formidable. The consulting clerk at his right hand has to tell him what the motion is. The weariness of rising to put motions is telling upon him, and by the time he brings down his gavel at 5:30 o'clock to declare the house adjourned, he would be about as dangerous for ordinary approach as a Kansas cyclone or a Rocky mountain grizzly."

THE Gazette is in receipt of the initial number of the Sumpter News, published by F. J. Haddock

& Co., at Sumpter, Baker county. Fred's first issue is certainly very neat and creditable and his many Morrow county friends will certainly wish him an abundance of success in this venture. The paper makes its appearance with the following introductory remarks:

It is with a great degree of humiliation that we launch forth this little journal, and we feel that an apology is due our readers for having fallen short of our own expectations and the implied promises to subscribers. We were in error in fixing the date of our first issue upon the 26th, for we over-estimated our mechanical ability, and furthermore we were the recipients of no less than double the advertising patronage anticipated. Our office is somewhat more capacious than an ordinary sized cracker box, and having to handle eight forms we have no room to let.

Under the circumstances we deem it advisable to refrain from making the time-honored declaration of principles and a multitude of promises only to be over-ridden and broken. Suffice it to say, then, that the News will be devoted to the development of the vast resources of the country tributary to our little city to the end that ere many months shall have passed Sumpter will rank foremost among the rich cities of Eastern Oregon.

Bringing With Smiles
Are the countenances of people who have found speedy and thorough relief from malarial, kidney, bilious, dyspeptic or nervous troubles through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such countenances are very numerous. So are letters from their owners attesting the efficacy of the great family medicine. Among the signals of distress thrown out by the stomach, bowels and liver in a state of disorder, are sick headache, heartburn, nausea, loss of appetite, hoarseness of the skin and eyeballs, and an unclean state of the bowels. They should be held at once. If the Bitters are resorted to, the bowels become regular, the stomach takes on its normal functions, the liver gives away to cheerful looks, and the system is renewed. If you are suffering on the coast of disease, throw an anchor to windward by summing the Bitters to your assistance. It will keep you in safety.

Orange Blossoms.
Mr. Asa B. Thomson and Miss Carrie A. Stanfield were married on Sunday, Feb. 23, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's mother on Baker creek. Rev. Mr. Dennis of this city officiating. About 40 guests were present, nearly all being relatives of the bride and groom. A sumptuous wedding feast followed the ceremony, after which the young couple left for Portland. The groom is well and favorably known here and is a son of O. F. Thomson, a former sheriff of Umatilla county, and the bride is a daughter of the late R. N. Stanfield. The Gazette joins with the many Morrow county friends of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Thomson, in wishing them a happy and prosperous married life.

Jim Hendershott Dead.
The news of the death of Hon. James Hendershott, of Cove, Union county, was received in this city yesterday. His demise occurred at his home after several weeks' illness on Friday evening. Mr. Hendershott's age was about 63 years. The deceased has been a prominent figure in Oregon politics for over twenty-five years, having served as representative and senator from Union county several terms. He was an unflinching democrat of the old school and was always at his post of duty fighting for the good of his party. His demise will be regretted by hundreds of friends throughout the state.—Baker Democrat.

A DOUBLE CASE.

Remarkable Cure of a Boston Man Who was Afflicted With Salt-Rheum and Rheumatism.

Both Promptly Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

From the Herald, Boston, Mass.

Those who have had the misfortune to be afflicted with salt-rheum, more especially when it has come in early childhood, can appreciate what it is to "doctor" for this almost ineradicable trouble. They almost all testify that they have "doctored" for years, and often with some of the leading physicians, spending large sums of money without obtaining relief. When this is complicated with an attack of rheumatism, especially in the case of a man whose avocation is one that exposes him to it, the serious nature of his physical ills may be imagined, and also the patient efficacy of such a remedy as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which has proved able to conquer such a concatenation of hostile problems, and to put the man into a condition of vigor as a substitute for one of a most disheartening outlook.

In view of the circumstances it is not surprising that many in Boston, especially those of the railroad men, who have been familiar both with the individual and the attendant circumstances, should make so much comment on the cure wrought in the case of Mr. James Freeman, for a number of years past employed as a brakeman on the Old Colony Division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This gentleman had been afflicted with salt rheum from infancy and his blood had a decided tendency to humor, in addition to which the exposed character of his occupation promoted an aggravated attack of muscular rheumatism which threatened to destroy his usefulness and deprive him of his means of livelihood.

But testing of the remarkable testimony which had been given to the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People whenever tried for these and kindred difficulties, particularly such as arise from an impoverished or disordered condition of the blood, he was induced to try them, and the result has been a gratifying one that he has become a pioneer in recommending them to his fellow-workmen, who through his words and the manifest results of his example have been induced to try them.

In view of the degree of attention which the case attracted, particularly in itself of promoting the use of the pills among men who are not in the habit of taking medicine, the circumstances were deemed worthy of personal investigation, and accordingly a reporter made a call at the cozy home of Mr. Freeman, at 233 Shawmut Avenue, Boston, Mass., where he and his wife were found to be thoroughly free and untroubled in stating the facts, and most cordial in appreciation of the Pink Pills.

"Yes, it is true," he said in response to enquiry, "I have the greatest satisfaction in giving my word as to what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I have no personal interest in speaking about the matter except that I feel grateful for the cure they have caused, and I think it is only right that I should try and let others have the same opportunity for benefit as myself." In regard to the origin of his use of the Pink Pills he remarked:

"I was first led to try them on account of a certificate from a Montreal man which was published in the papers, and I thought the same thing that had done so much for him would help me. I had been led to take the Pink Pills for the condition of the blood and for rheumatism. The fact is that my blood has been of a very humory nature and I have been troubled with salt rheum from infancy. My head was covered with it and a good deal of my hair came off. It was very uncomfortable and nothing that I could do seemed to cure it. "Then came my rheumatic trouble

Representative Brown's Opinion.
J. N. Brown, Morrow county's member of the legislature, gives the following opinion of the present state of affairs relative to the attempt to organize the legislature:

"I am firm in the belief that the legislature cannot now legally again be convened unless the governor call a special session. The present session has been ended, and it is now not in the power of the members of the two bodies to reconvene without the chief executive interpose and exercise his prerogative. In that case, of course, the legislature can be brought together once more, and only in that way can it be accomplished."

McKinley's Age.
Major McKinley was, at the time of his inauguration, 54 years of age. Nine presidents entered the White House at an earlier age—Grant at 47, Cleveland at 48, Garfield and Pierce at 49, Polk at 50, Fillmore at 50, Tyler and Arthur at 51, and Lincoln at 52.
