A SIMON DEMOCRAT.

Tony Noltner, editor of the Portland Dispatch, has the reputation of being the only newspaperman in the Northwest who can run a sheet without either money or brains. This reputation is well earned, though Tony is really a very good fellow who doesn't do any person a great deal of harm, though Tony never knew the first principle of consistency.

In a recent issue of the Dispatch he scores Senator Dufur, of Wasco county, for supporting Mitchell, stating that if the people of Senator Dufur's district wanted Mitchell they would have elected a republican. It is well known that Senator Dufur's opponent stated on the stump and at all times that he did not intend to support Senator Mitchell for re-election, while Senator Dufur promised that in the event that his party could not elect he would support Mr. Mitchell, and that section being favorable to Mitchell Mr. Moore was defeated.

It is a well known fact that "Big" Jones, of Wasco county, promised to vote for Mitchell, stating this in various letters and upon the stump. He never attempted to fulfill a single pledge, but proved to be a willing tool of Malcolm Moody. State Senator Mitchell promised to abide by the republican caucus but never attempted to carry out his pledge, but could have been seen at any time during the legislature conferring with U'Kan or some other populist.

It is said that Huntington promised to vote for Mr. Mitchell, but whether he made this promise or not, he was certainly elected with that understanding, but from the beginning of the legislature followed one consistent course, as his letter published in a recent issue of the Oregonian, and reproduced in this issue, shows. Wasco and adjoining counties are favorable to Mitchell, as Senator Dufur well knows. Senator Dufur did his duty. Those who opposed an organization that all could agree upon did not. Mr. Dufur made his canvass as a democrat but became, as any other honest man ought to, the people's senator when he was elected.

Mr. Noltner criticizes Mr. Dufur as a "Mitchell democrat." Which is the most desirable, a "Mitchell democrat" or a "Simon democrat"? Noltner is the latter. He stands with Simon at all times, and in every issue bolsters up Simon and the illegal, unjust and outrageous appointment of Governor Lord.

Let the people decide between Dufur's broad democracy and that of Tony Noltner's and the latter would not be in it.

Poor old weak-minded McManus, of the Pendleton Tribune, is just now deeply engaged in lamenting over Mitchell's political death. McManus is another one of those fellows that would cheerfully go to perdition in the name of party, and no matter how corrupt a man may be, if he only sails under the flag of republicanism, he will proudly chant his praise. Such cringing servility as is exhibited by the Tribune, Heppner Gazette, and a half dozen other little country papers we could name is positively disgusting and causes one to pause and wonder wherein lies the boasted power and freedom of the press. Milton Eagle.

If the editor of the Eagle had half of the ability of Editor McManus he would get out a better paper. As to the consistency of the Tribune, Gazette, and other republican papers, the Gazette leaves that with the public to judge.

It is a well known fact that forty-six legislators could have met in joint convention and elected a senator down at Salem. Whether there was a permanent organization or not, the failure to elect must be charged to the neglect of the legislature, and the stand taken that none of the senatorial appointments, made by governors where such neglect has caused vacancies, will be seated, is both just and timely. Such fiascos as Salem was disgraced with recently only hastens the day when senators will be elected by a direct vote of the people.

CARTER HARRISON has again been placed in nomination by Chicago democracy. Altgeld dominated the gathering.

H. CLAY EVANS, who was elected governor of Tennessee in 1894, has been tendered the office of commissioner of pensions. He is a large manufacturer of Chattanooga.

BY HER DOCTOR'S ADVICE.

Becomes a Well Woman by Taking Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. C. C. Newcomb of St. Louis finds herself "a new woman," in the best sense of the word.

An invalid woman is always a sad sight—sadder even than that of an invalid man, because of her greater capacity for suffering.

Neuralgia, backaches, fits of depression and headaches compel her to think or work with half her brain, while the other half throbs as if it would go to pieces. There are no more striking examples of the great, practical value of Paine's celery compound than are heard from the lips of women who have been made well.

Its ability to relieve those ills that seem to be peculiarly the misfortune of women is overwhelmingly proven by innumerable testimonials from women of the highest standing in the communities where they live.

Mrs. HENRY WARD BEECHER is dead. She lived to the ripe old age of 81.

Let's see? Isn't there a man named Hall running a paper called the Milton Buzzard, up at Milton—what county is it?

The Milton Eagle says the Gazette is in favor of the railroad commission. 'Tis not true. But the Gazette does not think Gov. Lord can make laws just to suit himself.

SENATOR WOOD, by appointment from Kentucky, has presented his credentials which have been referred to the proper committee. Like the would-be senator, Corbett, of Oregon, that is as far as he will get.

The E. O. raises the point that as the legislature did not make any appropriations it is useless for counties to pay state taxes, depriving the people of the use of their money two years without any return. The E. O. is right.

The Gazette has no patience with any person who will contend that a populist is better or any purer just because he is a populist. Down at Salem the most notorious "grafters" of the legislature were the pops. Simon had Corbett's money and the pops were Simon's allies from start to finish.

The Heppner Gazette says that Mr. Bourne maintains a harem at Salem for the accommodation of his populist followers. The fact that the editor of that paper stands in with the Mitchell pushers throws discredit on his statement. That at least would be the verdict of those who know the said editor's weak points.—Dispatch.

There is an old saying that doesn't fit the editor of the Gazette, say what you please about him, but Mr. Noltner's frequent trips to the Bourne headquarters during the recent legislative row, classifies him in that category.

The Milton paper asserts that the editor of the Gazette "bled" Mitchell and that was the reason of his being so active in his "push." This is really not worth noticing. The editor has been called everything from a horse thief down to a "dude," but never before has he been accused of being a "graftor" on his friends, or one who would sacrifice principle for pelf. The editor is willing to leave this to Jonathan Bourne, Jr., or to any

Mrs. Newcomb, writing from her home, 2235 Market St., St. Louis, says: "I was taken with a heavy cold, which I neglected, and pleurisy set in. When I was in bed for several weeks. When I recovered so I could get up I had 'that tired feeling,' and was never very well. My doctor told me to take Paine's celery compound, so I got a bottle and have taken it. I feel much better than I have for months. I was nervous and could not sleep at night. Now I rest easy, sleep well, eat well, and will say that Paine's celery compound has really made me a new woman."

Paine's celery compound is used by physicians in their own homes as well as prescribed to patients suffering from nervous diseases, sleeplessness, neuralgia, rheumatism and a "run-down" condition. "It is within the reach of every one."

leading member of the opposition, to Mitchell, during the sham. If the accusations of the Eagle are true, there would not be so many little pieces of paper in existence with the editor's promise to pay beautifully engraved upon it

Beaming With Smiles

Are the countenances of people who have found speedy and thorough relief from malarial, kidney, bilious, dyspeptic or nervous troubles through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such countenances are very numerous. So are letters from their owners attesting the efficacy of the great family medicine. Among the signals of distress thrown out by the stomach, bowels and liver is a state of disorder, are sick headache, heartburn, nausea, loss of appetite, sallowing of the skin and eyeballs, and an uncertain state of the bowels. They should be headed at once. If the Bitters are resorted to, the woe begone look which accompanies sickness will give away to cheerful looks produced by renewed health. If you are drifting on the coast of disease, throw an anchor to windward by summoning the Bitters to your assistance. It will keep you in safety.

The Methodist, South, parsonage is being completed rapidly, up near the church building.

C. E. Coaker, a St. Paul sheep buyer, came in Friday and will drive back this season, if he can find sheep to suit him.

For Sale or Trade.

If you want Heppner property don't fail to consult J. W. Morrow. For the right person, one who wants to garden, milk a few cows, raise chickens, etc., I have a fine proposition to offer one. Once developed will produce revenues of $1200 yearly. Will be sold on easy terms, would not object to taking 160 acres as part payment. 5231f

A Remedy for Thinness.

A French paper tells the story of a dramatic instructor who had as a pupil a girl who was very pretty, but woefully thin. Thinness is so fatal on the stage—except where there is the highest genius, as in the case of that great actress of whose admirers it is said that they prefer grace before meat—that he consulted a physician about it. The physician recommended belladonna. "Why?" asked the dramatic instructor. "Because," was the reply, "belladonna has the property of dilating the pupil."

To San Francisco.
Hon. Solomon Hirsch and family leave for San Francisco tomorrow night to participate in the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mayer, formerly of this city. Mrs. Hirsch is a daughter of this particularly blessed couple whose wedding anniversary falls on Wednesday next. Mr. Jacob Mayer, who yet is as sprightly and jovial as a man of 40, was for many years an active partner of the house of Fleischer, Mayer & Co., in which he amassed a great fortune. He is one of the most prominent Free Masons on the Pacific coast and is universally esteemed. His many Portland friends will be with him in spirit if not in person, on the occasion of the celebration of his 50th wedding anniversary.—Oregonian.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.
Symptoms: Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. Sold druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

WHAT OUR EXCHANGES SAY.

The Eagle is glad to learn from the Tribune that Mr. James F. Johnson, Pendleton's postmaster, will probably hold his present position for a long period under the McKinley administration. Mr. Johnson is one of the most efficient servants in the postoffice department and one whose personal worth is appreciated by those having the honor of his acquaintance. He has always been a democrat, yet the republican patrons of his office are practically unanimous in the desire that he be retained.—Milton Eagle.

"Excuse me" observed the man in spectacles "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is." Never you mind what the liver is," retorted the other. "If it was in his big toe or his left ear DeWitt's Little Early Risers would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your pig-lamps." Conser & Brock.

Be Comfortable While Traveling

In cool weather. The Union Pacific system heats its trains throughout by steam heat from the engine, thus making every part of all its cars pleasant and comfortable. It also lights its cars by the celebrated Pinesco Light making them brilliant at night. Passengers carried daily on the fast mail. LEADING FEED YARD.—The feed yard next door to the Gazette office, now being conducted by Wm. Gordon, is perfectly equipped in every particular. Billy solicits your patronage, and you may rest assured that your horses will be well cared for when left in his charge. Prices very reasonable. Hay and grain for sale.

The old way of delivering messages by postboys compared with the modern telephone, illustrates the old tedious methods of "breaking" colds compared with their almost instantaneous cure by One Minute Cough Cure. Conser & Brock.
