

Can't Eat

This is the complaint of thousands at this season. They have no appetite; food does not relish. They need the toning up of the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distress after eating and internal misery only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, aid digestion, etc.

A GOOD CLUBBING LIST.

Now that the great political campaign is over and the winter season again with us, all will want an adequate supply of fresh and varied reading matter for the long evenings. I desire to attest to the merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as one of the most valuable and efficient preparations on the market. It broke an exceedingly dangerous cough for me in 24 hours, and in gratitude therefor, I desire to inform you that I will never be without it and you should feel proud of the high esteem in which your remedies are held by people in general. It is the one remedy among ten thousand. Success to it. O. R. Downey, editor Democrat, Albion, Ind. For sale by Conser & Brock.

Crook County Journal: On Saturday last, Alex. Beleber, deputy constable of Mitchell precinct, arrived in this city with "Kid" Buffington, who was lodged in the county jail on a charge of robbery. The "Kid," as he is called, is about the same as "Kid" Moore, who was "moved on" from our city some time ago and last heard from was being "moved on" by other cities and not wanted by any decent location.

Mr. D. C. Downey has luckily secured as a partner, the renowned painter of the Pacific coast, Mr. Emmett Swann, late of San Francisco, and will do carriage, house, sign and ornamental painting, plain and decorative paperhanging. They lead while others follow. They originate, others imitate. Shop opposite City hotel.

St. Helens Mist: It appears just now that Secretary Kincaid is the most important official in the state. He refuses to issue warrants on any of the several funds for carrying on state business except his own salary and a few other items. Mr. Kincaid in point of importance is all that the word implies.

"Excuse me" observed the man in spectacles "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is." Never you mind where the liver is," retorted the other. "It was in his big toe or his left ear DeWitt's Little Early Risers would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your eye-lamps." Conser & Brock.

THOS. WOOLERY SHOOTS HIMSELF.

An Attempt at Suicide Happily Averted by the Worthlessness of the Weapon.

At 1:05 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, March 19, says the Portland Telegram, Thomas Woolery, a merchant of Lone, Morrow county, this state, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head, while in his room at the Perkins hotel. Dr. A. C. Pantom was at once summoned, and a call sent in for the police patrol wagon, on the arrival of which the man was conveyed to Good Samaritan hospital.

Woolery, accompanied by his wife, arrived at the Perkins hotel on Friday last, he stating it as his intention to remain in Portland for a month at least, business and pleasure being combined in his visit.

Up to Tuesday last, Woolery appeared to be in perfect health and the best of spirits, he and his wife apparently enjoying themselves. On Tuesday Woolery was taken down sick with an attack of grip, and forced to seek his bed, he not leaving the room since until carried out with a bullet wound in his head this afternoon.

Last night Woolery suffered greatly, his feverish condition being such as to at times bring on semi-delirium. This morning, however, he appeared quieter and his wife, who had been in constant attendance upon him, sought some needed rest.

How Woolery reached the bureau and secured the revolver with which his mad act was committed, is not known, but shortly after 1 o'clock the wife was startled by the report of a pistol. Quickly reaching her husband's side she was horrified to find him lying face downward on the bed, a ghastly wound over the right temple, from which the blood was pouring, and the still smoking pistol on the floor, instantly revealing the tragic act of her husband.

The sound of the shot and Mrs. Woolery's cries spread the alarm to the hotel attendants. Dr. A. C. Pantom was sent for and immediately responded. On examining the wound he at once ordered Woolery, who was unconscious, conveyed to Good Samaritan hospital.

The senseless form of the attempted suicide was carried down stairs and placed in the patrol wagon which had been called, Police Officer Jackson and bus driver Gleason, of the hotel, supporting the body.

Just prior to reaching the hospital Woolery recovered consciousness, and grasping Gleason by the wrist drew himself upward and gasped: "What's the matter? What's happened?" Before an answer could be given him he had relapsed again into unconsciousness.

It is generally believed that Woolery was laboring under an attack of delirium produced by the fever from which he was suffering, when the desperate act was committed. He had but last night appreciated how ill a man he was, and had decided to be taken to the hospital today, the back in which he was to be removed being in waiting at the hotel entrance at the time Woolery turned the pistol on himself.

It was at first supposed from the description given of the wound that Woolery was seriously if not fatally wounded. The examination at the hospital, however, shows that the bullet, which was fired from a cheap bulldog revolver, had not the force to penetrate the skull and Woolery escaped with a severe scalp wound.

Joe Woolery, brother of Thos. Woolery, the well known merchant of Lone, left on Friday night to be at the bedside of his brother.

My Neighbor Told Me

About Hood's Sarsaparilla and advised me to try it—this is the kind of advertising which gives Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world. Friend tells friend that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures; that it gives strength, health, vitality and vigor, and whole neighborhoods use it as a family medicine.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

An Inhuman Feud.

We have been informed, on reliable authority, that the directors of the Antelope school district on last Thursday dismissed Prof. Lake, the principal of the school at that place. The reason assigned was that Lake attempted to commit rape upon a 13-year-old daughter of a well-known resident of that place. When our informant left feeling very high and it would not be surprising that harsh measures were used in meeting out justice to this inhuman fiend.—Prineville Review.

H. G. Lake, his wife and sister-in-law, left on the stage last Wednesday morning for Hillsboro, their somewhat sudden departure being caused by the action of the school board last Monday.—Antelope Herald.

Given Away These Useful Books

Mrs. Nellie Daggett, of Boston, has recently written a book, "Fancy Work and Art Decorations," that gives practical instructions for making doilies, table-covers, scarfs, tray-cloths, pin cushions, etc., etc., with fifty illustrations. This book, together with "Successful Home Dyeing," will be sent free to any reader who will address "Diamond Dyes," Burlington, Vermont, enclosing a 2-cent stamp.

The above liberal offer is made to advertise the reliable Diamond Dyes, and to get their book upon home dyeing into the hands of women who want to dress well by making their old clothing look like new.

The fact that Diamond Dyes have been the standard home dyes for nearly twenty years, and that their sale increases from year to year, is proof positive that they have never had an equal.

For Rent.

The Bailey Ditch company have for rent three or four 40 acre tracts of fruit and garden land near the ditch on the Columbia river below Umatilla which they desire to lease for a term of one or more years for one-fourth of crop raised—the renter to plant such trees as are furnished and care for them during the lease. The lands are well irrigated, have plenty of water and lay well—are close to railroad—or will sell on easy terms, long time and low rate of interest. For information write to the Bailey Ditch Company, Umatilla Or., or call at the company's farm.

Sheepshearers' Union.

Notice is hereby given to all sheepshearers to meet in Heppner, April 3rd, 1897, at the court house at 1 o'clock p. m., to hold a meeting in regard to the price of shearing.

BILLS BY ELLIS.

A Number Introduced Which Were Pending in the Last Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(Oregonian Dispatch.)—A great many bills have already been introduced in congress, many of them bills which were pending in the last congress. Representative Ellis has introduced quite a number of the bills which were pending in the last congress, among them being the following:

The bill granting pensions to survivors of Indian wars, including those in Oregon and Washington. This bill passed the last senate, and a large majority of the members of the last house approved of the measure, but the speaker would not agree to a day for consideration, and it was, of course, lost. The bill for the relief of settlers on public lands was also reintroduced; also providing topographic surveys and marking elevations on arid lands; also authorizing the secretary of war to exchange with the Oregon National Guard, giving Springfield rifles of the pattern of 1884.

Mr. Ellis also introduced the following claim and pension bills:

For the relief of John W. Lewis; granting a pension to J. W. Swift, of Baker City; for the relief of Margaret McKay, widow of the late William C. McKay; for the relief of William C. Adams; granting an increase of pension to John Walters; to provide for carrying out the findings of the court of claims in the case of John Campbell; for the relief of T. J. Miller; for the relief of Peter Grant Stewart; granting a pension to P. F. Castleman; granting an increase of pension to John P. Thomas; for the relief of E. F. Dowell; for the relief of George Hughes, of Portland.

Senator McBride introduced the Indian war bill in the senate.
