Going East?

IF YOU ARE, DO NOT FORGET

Three Important Points.

FIRST--Go via St. Paul because the lines to that point will afford you the very best service.

SECOND--See that the coupon beyond St. Paul reads via the Wisconsin Central because that line makes close connections with all the trans-continental lines entering the Union Depot there, and its service is first-class in every particular.

THIRD--For information, call on your neighbor and friend--the nearest ticket agent--and ask for a ticket reading via the Wisconsin Central line, or address

Geo. S. Pond, or Geo. S. Batty, Gen. Pass. Agt., Milwaukee, Wis., or Portland, Or.

McClure's Magazine For 1897 SEVEN GREAT SERIALS

A New Life of Grant by HAMLIN GARLAND. The first authoritative and adequate Life of Grant ever published. (Begun in December.)

Rudyard Kipling's first American serial, "Captains Courageous." (Begun in November.)

Robert Louis Stevenson's "St. Ives." The only novel of Stevenson's still unpublished. (Begun in May.)

Charles A. Dana. "Recollections of War Time." Mr. Dana was for three of the most critical years of the Civil War practically a member of Lincoln's Cabinet, and is probably better fitted than any other man living to give an authoritative history of this period from his recollections and correspondence.

Portraits of Great Americans. Many of them unpublished. In connection with this series of portraits it is intended to publish special biographical studies under the general title of MAKERS OF THE UNION from Washington to Lincoln.

Pictures of Palestine. Specially taken under the editor's direction.

Stories of Adventure. A serial by CONAN DOYLE, in which he will use his extraordinary tale of mystery and ingenuity which have, in the "Sherlock Holmes" stories, given him a place beside Poe and Gabriel.

TEN FAMOUS WRITERS

IAN MACLAREN. All the fiction that he will write during the coming year, with the exception of two contributions to our publication which were engaged from him long ago, will appear in McClure's Magazine.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS. A series of new animal stories in the same field as the "Brer Rabbit" and the "Little Mr. Tumblefinger" stories.

RUDYARD KIPLING. Besides "Captains Courageous," Kipling will contribute to McClure's all of the short stories he will write during the coming year.

OCTAVE THURNEY is preparing for the Magazine a series of short stories in which the same characters will appear, although each will be complete in itself.

Anthony Hope, Frank R. Stockton, Bret Harte, Stanley Weyman, Robert Barr, Clark Russell will all have stories in McClure's for the coming year.

These are only a small fraction of the great and important features of McClure's Magazine for 1897, the subscription price of which is only

One Dollar a Year

The new volume begins with November. Subscriptions should start with this number.

THE ABODE OF GENIUS.

A Unique Farm in New York for Inventors.

Everything Arranged for the Convenience of Those Engaged in Scientific Research--a Quaker Institution.

In the heart of New York state, beyond the reach of the merely curious, yet open to all of a scientific turn of mind, is the only inventor's farm in the world.

There is doubtless no stranger place anywhere, for it is a farm where balloons are "raised," aerial schemes are hatched and air ships are born.

So far as the place at Frankfort, Herkimer county, N. Y., is surrounded by fields and groves which give suggestion of city life, it is a farm, but its products are those of which the ordinary farmer knows nothing.

For these products are flying machines, balloons, strange ships that--in theory at least--start through the air or skim the ground like a bird.

Prof. Carl E. Myers, who has established the unique farm, is like most men of purely scientific mind in that he is most conservative in his ideas of publicity, and is content to live in the midst of wonders with his assistants and those who, from time to time, are associated with him.

If an inventor has an idea that he will be able to overcome the forces of nature and construct a mechanical bird, it will no longer be necessary for him to spend fortunes in working out his ideas or die without accomplishing his life's object.

All he needs to do will be to go to the inventor's farm and find there willing hands and fruitful brains, as well as all appliances of this electrical age to assist him.

Almost in the center of the big farm is a modern country house, standing amid many smaller buildings, in which are to be found the materials for every form of experiment connected with aeronautics.

The lower portion of the large house is given over to living rooms, while a third story and attic extending the length of the building and occupied by balloon apparatus, accessories and wonderful devices for the construction of air ships.

The farm was especially selected for its natural advantages. There are stretches of level ground, gently rising slopes and strong declivities. Thus it does not matter at what stage of work the inventions may be, a suitable grade can always be found on the farm at which trials can be made.

If it be an air ship that has been constructed where there is a doubt as to the exact nature of its workings, it can be tested on the slight grades, so that there will be as slight a risk as possible to human life or to the ship.

Close to the main house, in a glen, is situated one of the most important features of the farm. This is the spot designed for the making of fabric for all manner of flying machines and balloons.

On this half acre of ground, which is skirted by the higher ground and trees, the fabric is stretched to receive the coatings of gasproof varnish. For this application of varnish a special machine has been invented and constructed by Prof. Myers, so contrived as to supply a complete coating of thick varnish and then to remove the coating with the exception of an exceedingly delicate film, difficult to be measured by instruments.

One section of the attic of the big house is a workshop containing all tools necessary for the construction of apparatus from wood, metal or textile, including lathes of various and original designs, steam engines, all classes of wood-working machinery and kindred apparatus for making components.

This is the section in which is constructed the material for the full-sized machines of the air after working models have been tested. Another section of the attic is given over to space and machinery for the construction of models especially of kites, aeroplanes, wind-borne or self-propelled motors, winged apparatus worked by hand and feet, gas vessels propelled by screws or serving to support other devices for aerial trial by their inventors.

In the little buildings scattered over the farm are located the gas engines and tanks for practical experiments, the chemical chambers and several furnaces and retorts. Some of these last are so strange and unusual that their appearance suggests the laboratory of some old-time alchemist rather than a nineteenth-century workshop--N. Y. Herald.

WIDOWS IN WASHINGTON.

It is a gathering ground upon which Rich Bellets Meet and Scheme.

Especially is it a great place for rich widows with daughters--that peculiar type of American women who, as soon as paternalism is comfortably tucked away under the sod, fly to Europe, spend years wandering about like social Bedouins, then re-emerge with romantic form of homesickness. In every form, West Jersey after Paris and London and Vienna, and Washington affords a convenient stop-gap. It is American in location, European in habits, and, to a degree, in personnel. So they come here, buy a fine house, get in with the diplomatic corps, and the thing is done, says the Illustrated American. And Washington, which professes a lofty scorn for trade, and ruthlessly shuts the doors of society in the face of all Washington brokers, insurance agents, real estate people, and, in short, trade in every form, except banking, welcomes with open arms the retired trades people from New York, Chicago and anywhere else on the face of the globe. It reserves the right of laughing at them, though, and after faithfully attending all their luncheons, goes home to rear every sap the ambitious host or hostess has made. This habit is undoubtedly an affront to hospitality, but it has one saving virtue--Washington makes use of rich people, but it is not strong against them.

Teachers' Examination.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT FOR the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county and state I shall hold a public examination at the court house at Heppner, Oregon, on May 19th, 1897.

Dated this 4th day of May, 1897. J. H. SHIPLEY, School Supt., Morrow Co.

Now is the time to get the Weekly Oregonian, the greatest newspaper of the West. With the Gazette, both stricken in advance, one year, $3.50. No better combination of newspapers can be made in the state.

SAVE YOUR GRAIN.

Few realize that each squirrel destroys $1.50 worth of grain annually.

Walden's Squirrel and Gopher Exterminator is the most effective and economical poison known. Price reduced to 30 cents. Conser & Brock and Minor & Co., agents, Heppner; J. A. Wronley, agent, Lena; Nichols & Leach, agents, Lexington.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Takliwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Conser & Brock's drug store.

LONG CREEK BAULETS.

From the Eagle.

In Pendleton last week F. W. Handley sold to Judd & Root, of Hartford, Conn., 70 sacks of wool of this year's clip for 8 cents per pound.

Mark M. Boyd, who for the past six weeks has held the position of foreman of the Eagle, took his departure Monday for Sumpter, where a position awaits him on the News.

Ye editor is in receipt of an invitation from H. A. Murphy, the Monument merchant, to come down and talk over the 'phone. Mr. Murphy says the long distance telephone works to perfection.

Bert Koeny, while running a horse race Friday evening, came near getting killed. The cayuse he was riding fell and rolled completely over him, knocking him senseless for a few minutes. He escaped with a badly disfigured countenance and a sprained arm.

A Point to Remember.

If you wish to purify your blood you should take a medicine which cures blood diseases. The record of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this is the best medicine for the blood ever produced.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the most stubborn cases and it is the medicine for you to take if your blood is impure.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pill; assist digestion, cure headache, 25 cents.

MALLORY WAS ELECTED.

End of the Protracted Senatorial Fight in Florida.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 14.--Stephen R. Mallory was elected United States senator today in the 25th ballot. The vote was as follows:

Mallory, 53; Chipley 44; Call, 1. Chipley led after roll-call, but changing votes gave the election to Mallory.

Through inadvertency, many local advertisers who pay only a weekly rate have been getting the benefit of the semi-weekly service. The Gazette must insist upon business principles and those who pay for a weekly ad. must expect that it will appear only once a week.

Ex-Senator Corbett's Brother Dead.

On Wednesday evening Elijah Corbett, brother of Ex-Senator W. H. Corbett, died at his home in Portland, aged 77 years. Mr. Corbett came to Oregon in 1864, and for many years thereafter was manager of the stage line between Portland and Sacramento. Of late years Mr. Corbett had been connected with the street car lines of Portland, and was quite wealthy. He leaves a widow but no children, his only son having died some 18 months ago.

John Day Places Start Up.

The big placer claims owned by the Grant Mining Company, of Salt Lake City, of which company Apostle Haber J. Grant, of the Mormon church, is at the head, and Mr. B. F. Grant is manager, situated on the north fork of the John Day and consisting of about 2,000 acres all covered by water rights and ditches, have been started up for the season's run and under most favorable conditions, says the Long Creek Eagle.

There is an abundance of water and with the immense quantity of snow in the mountains a long season is assured. Three giant hydrants, one of seven inch stream, are employed and a force now of about forty men. Later on upwards of seventy-five men will be on the pay roll.

Mr. Archie Downie, sr., the well-known Sumpter placer mine owner and operator, has been engaged as pipeman and with his scientific knowledge the mines will be directed in a most able manner.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County.
