

Marvelous Effects

System Broken Down and Hope Almost Abandoned—Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For fifteen years I have suffered with catarrh and indigestion and my whole system was broken down. I had almost abandoned any hope of recovery. I purchased six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and its effects have been marvelous. It has made me feel like a new man. I am able to sleep well, have a good appetite, and I have gained several pounds in weight." JAMES WILDER, Overville, Wash.

"I had a scrofula swelling on one side of my neck and ulcerated sores in my nostrils, caused by catarrh. I also had small, itching sores on my limbs. I bought three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and began taking it and the sores soon healed. My blood is purified, and the scrofula has disappeared." O. D. McMANUS, Mission, Washington.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.
Hood's Pills cure nausea, indigestion, biliousness. 25 cents.

Take Notice.

1. The sum of five cents per line will be charged for "cards of thanks," "resolutions of respect," lists of wedding presents and donors, and obituary notices, (other than those the editor or shall himself give as a matter of news), and notices of special meetings for whatever purpose.
2. Notices of church and society and all other entertainments from which revenue is to be derived, shall be charged for at the rate of five cents a line. These rules will be strictly adhered to in every instance.
Advertising rates reasonable and made known upon application.

A GOOD CLUBBING LIST.

Now that the great political campaign is over and the winter season again with us, all will want an adequate supply of fresh and varied reading matter for the long evenings. Cognizant of this the Gazette has made clubbing arrangements with a number of periodicals and now offers the following to all new and renewal subscribers:

| The GAZETTE $2.50 and | Club Rate |
|-----------------------------------|-----------|
| Weekly Oregonian, $1.50 | $3.50 |
| S. F. Examiner, $1.50 | 3.75 |
| N. Y. Tribune, $1.00 | 3.00 |
| Inter-Ocean, $1.00 | 3.25 |
| S. F. Chronicle, $1.00 | 3.75 |
| Thrice-a-Week N. Y. World, $1.00 | 3.25 |
| Washington Post, $1.00 | 2.50 |
| Ladies' Weekly, $1.00 | 5.00 |

Here and There.

Frank Elder is in town today.
Geo. French is in from the mountains.
Cream improves strawberries. See Maris. 7it
Fine cows and fine milk at the Short-horn dairy. 7it
Charley Van Dym came in from the Dalles Sunday.
Conser & Brock's for the "Never Fail" headache water. 1t
Drink the famous Hop Gold beer, on draught everywhere. 52-5
P. O. Borg and wife returned from Portland this morning.
Little Allen Strickfaden is suffering from an attack of fever.
Milk for babies from single cow from the Short-horn dairy. 7it
Walt Crosby is in town taking treatment under Dr. McSworde.
A back for sale or trade for lighter rig or milk cow. N. C. Maris. 7it
Buy milk from the Short-horn dairy. N. C. Maris, Prop. 7it
Morris Ball and Will Mallory came in Saturday from Rook Creek sawmill.
The Hop Gold beer is the best beer. All first class saloons handle it. 52-5
Any one desiring the services of a first class sheepherder call at this office. 1t
Mrs. C. N. Peck, of Clark's canyon, is suffering from a "fellow" on one of her fingers.
Miss Elta Minor is suffering from an abscess on one of her fingers, caused by a splinter.
G. W. Utt came in from Eight Mile Friday and will "hang out" in Heppner for the present.
Oregonian: Mr. George W. Rhea, an attorney of Heppner, Morrow county, is at the Perkins.
J. A. Patterson has resumed his duties as engineer on the branch, after a week's vacation at Portland.
Dr. McSworde was called to Rhea creek Wednesday last to attend Eph. Ekelson, who is quite sick.
Mrs. McFarland, of Portland, mother of Frank McFarland, of Heppner, came up Saturday morning on a visit.
Mrs. Harry Barnes, of Walla Walla, arrived in Heppner this morning for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Otis Patterson.
"Never Fail" headache water at Conser & Brock's. This medicine will cure any kind of a headache in short order. 1t
Dr. John W. Rasmus, of the Redlight, has keg beer on draught—the Hop Gold. Best of liquors and cigars in stock. 1t
Johnny Christman came in from Long Creek Saturday with a load of wool and returned this morning with a heavy load of freight.
Minor & Co. have the finest line of low shoes to be found in Heppner and will sell the same at prices that "makes the mare go." 54-6
W. F. Gamble was brought in from near Elia and is now at the Farmers' hotel very low, with chances against him for recovery.
Dr. J. E. Atkins is up from Hillsboro and those desiring anything in the line of dentistry should call on him at his office in the rear of P. O. Borg's jewelry store. Will remain only a short time. 45-1t
Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale by Conser & Brock.

R. C. Wills has a fine line of low-cut tan shoes at cost. 3t.

Heppner Outfitting Co., in the old Herren stand, see adv.

See Ranons, the contractor, before letting out your carpenter work. 3t.

Special sale pocket knives, pipes at cost, next thirty days, Orange Front. 53-1t.

A good bicycle, suitable for either lady or gentleman, in fine repair, new pneumatic tires, for sale cheap at Gilliam & Bisbee's. 1t

J. W. Edmunds, manager of the Astoria life and fire insurance company for Oregon and Washington, was in Heppner yesterday.

O. E. Ranons, the contractor and builder, is doing considerable work this season, and is taking new contracts right along. 3t.

Cross & Blackwell's fancy pickles and canned goods, reduced prices, Orange Front, opp. City hotel, Cor. Main and Willow streets. 53-1t

F. A. Menzie, traveling freight agent for the Northern Pacific railroad, was in Heppner Saturday, looking after the interests of that popular line.

Mrs. J. C. Hart and daughter, Miss Cora, returned Thursday night from Portland, where Miss Cora had been attending school at St. Helen's Hall.

On examining our line of Ladies' low cut shoes we find we bought too heavily, and to reduce our stock we will sell at greatly reduced prices. Minor & Co. 54-6

D. A. Curran, formerly of Pendleton, has opened up a 15 cent barber shop in the old stand on the Matlock corner. Work strictly first class. Call on him. 3-1t

Mr. and Mrs. George Swaggart and daughter Elbra, and son Wilbur, returned Sunday from Athens, whither they had gone to attend a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Borg presented their son, Oscar, with a handsome gold watch on their return from Portland this morning, of which the young man is very proud.

Minor & Co. have secured the exclusive agency of the celebrated Pendleton blanket and will soon have an exhibition of their full line. The only All Wool Blanket in the market. 54-6

George Hufford has some fine half-bred Cotswold bucks, out of Merino ewes which he wishes to sell at reasonable figures. Call on him at the Case Matlock ranch, or address him at Heppner. 51t

Oscar Williams, a young man living near Lower Eight Mile, while cutting wood in the mountains had the misfortune to cut his foot a few days ago, and came to Heppner to have the wounded member dressed.

Little Henry Blahm has given up the idea that a "new boy" is going to grow on the finger recently torn from his hand by a rope, while leading a colt. The physician who dressed the wound is probably responsible for this fabulous story.

The Heppner Ladies Cornet band will please accept the thanks of the Gazette force for a sweet serenade Saturday afternoon. This band has made excellent progress since its organization and the ladies, as well as their instructor, Prof. Henry, are to be congratulated on the fine quality of music they are capable of furnishing.

At a meeting of the city council last night it was ordered that Marshal Roberts enforce the cow ordinance after the 28th of this month. This is a step in the right direction. The streets of Heppner cannot be beautified with trees so long as the most destructive animal on earth—the cow—is denied the freedom of the city. The council and the town in general is to be congratulated.

Al Binn, of Heppner, and Miss Addie Conlee, of Canyon City, were united in marriage at the latter place yesterday. Mr. Binn is one of Heppner's prominent business men, while the bride is a most estimable and cultured lady, having held a position as teacher in the Heppner public schools several terms prior to taking up her residence in Canyon City where she is now teaching. Mr. and Mrs. Binn will return to Heppner in a few days for permanent residence. The Gazette joins their numerous friends in extending hearty congratulations.

It is too bad, indeed, that the beautiful town cow should be deprived of the privilege of continuing to prune the tender young trees growing along the streets of Heppner. This animal has been the means of saving many of our people the expense and trouble of pruning and irrigating trees and that the council should be so unmerciful as to disburse this kind hearted animal from the service will probably receive a severe reprimand from the bovine family. Even the Gazette office has a few trees left in front of its premises which are not quite furnished, but the council didn't care a cuss for that.

Human Ostrich Dead.
Harry Whalley, a traveling circus performer, was cut open at his own request at the German hospital in Kansas City recently, and fully three hundred pounds of hardware, which he had swallowed within the past three weeks, taken from his stomach. A photograph of the articles taken by Geo. H. Tiley, a responsible photographer, later in the day, revealed the following outfit: One four-bladed knife three and one half inches long, one two bladed knife two inches long, three other knife blades ranging from one to three inches in length, thirty eight eight and ten-penny nails and spikes, thirty-four six-penny wire nails, sharp pointed; twenty-six shingle nails, sixteen carpet tacks, three large screws, one horseshoe nail, one barbed wire staple, and three ounces of fine glass. Whalley did not survive the operation.

SWAGGART FAMILY REUNION.

A Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Brings Them Together.

From the East Oregonian.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Swaggart at Athens occurred this week a family reunion, the occasion being their 50th wedding anniversary. It was such an affair as seldom takes place in this western country, so recently settled.

Mr. Swaggart is 80 years of age, and his wife 66. It was in 1833 they crossed the plains from the East and settled in the Willamette valley near Eugene. Twenty years later they came to this country and took a ranch near Weston. Since that time the pioneers have resided there almost continuously. Although four score years of age, Mr. Swaggart is in a wonderful manner retains his strength and activity and it was by no means a sight common in any country to see an old man of that age taking part in the games of his grandchildren and going through the figures and changes of the dance as did the younger ones.

The reunion was held on Thursday and Friday, about 50 persons sitting down to dinner on Thursday. There were all sorts of games and sports, and the two days were so much enjoyed that the participants will not soon forget the occasion.

Of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Swaggart there were present: Mrs. W. F. Matlock and husband, of Pendleton; Mrs. Wilbur Keith and husband, of Pullman, Wash.; Mrs. Carl Wheeler and husband, of Pendleton; G. W. Swaggart and wife, B. F. Swaggart and wife, of Heppner; Link Swaggart, Milton Swaggart and wife, of Athens; Lester Swaggart and wife of Eugene. In addition there were a dozen grandchildren, and enough neighbors to make out the 50 who gathered at dinner on Thursday. Mrs. Sam Jackson, of Eugene, was also present.

Friday, as the reunion party broke up, all repaired to the cemetery near where are buried four of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Swaggart.

Council Proceedings.
Council met in regular session last evening. All councilmen present except Conser and Lichtenhal. The following business was transacted:

Reading of minutes of last regular meeting, May 7th, 1897, approved.

Bills read and given to finance committee. Bills returned approved and accepted. Motion by Simons and seconded by Gilliam, that report of finance committee and warrants ordered drawn on the treasurer for the several amounts, carried.

Bill of H. T. Co. ordered referred back to Palace Hotel Co.

In the matter of the cow ordinance the marshal was ordered to enforce same after the 28th day of June, 1897.

In the matter of watering trough of Ben Matthews, recorder was ordered to accept $4.50.

In the matter of selling old sidewalk lumber to J. McAleay, mayor was ordered to sell them at what he thinks they are worth.

The marshal was ordered to build sidewalks in front of City hotel, Stewart's livery stable, west side of National bank, and on the south side of Gilliam & Bisbee's store.

Bills allowed by finance committee and warrants drawn for same: Rogers & Roberts, $2.00; H. Warren, $1.00; H. T. Co., $10.95; $22.50, $29.65.

Motion to adjourn seconded and carried.

Prof. Henry's Departure.
We regret to note the departure on Monday evening's train of Prof. J. B. Henry, who has gone to his home in Weston. Prof. Henry leaves behind many warm friends who will work diligently to secure his services another year. All his students are just far enough advanced to appreciate the excellent method of teaching he employs.

Not in the history of this town has anyone taken the interest to build up society and educate students (individually as well) the necessity of at least a correlation between vocal music and morality.

Prof. Henry's return to this town will certainly depend very materially on our effort to secure his invaluable services, as a small place like this is not very attractive to such a skilled and experienced instructor, so let us join hands in this effort that we may be successful.

Through Prof. Henry's unrelenting efforts Heppner can boast of what not many towns possess—a ladies cornet band, which we justly appreciate. I feel that all good citizens will join in all I have said and will lend a helping hand. Yours Very Respectfully,
M. B. GALLOWAY.

August 31st

is the last day of the $1000 missing word contest.

Schilling's Best tea is wonderfully fresh and fine.

Rules of contest published in large advertisement about the first and middle of each month. A75

NOTICE.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF HEPPNER, located at Heppner, in the state of Oregon, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment.

"They are dandies" said Theo. Bowers, of the Crockett, Texas, Enterprise, while writing about DeWitt's Little Early Bitters, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles. They are purely vegetable.

August 31st

is the last day of the $1000 missing word contest.

Schilling's Best tea is wonderfully fresh and fine.

Rules of contest published in large advertisement about the first and middle of each month. A75

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Heppner will be held on Saturday, June 19, 1897, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. for the purpose of voting on placing the bank in liquidation and other matters as may come before the meeting. This notice is published by order of the Board of Directors at a meeting held May 18, 1897.

NOTICE OF INTENTION.

LAND OFFICE AT THE DALLES, OREGON, July 9, 1897.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE N. J. McSworde, of the Dalles, Oregon, has filed his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before J. W. Morrow, county clerk, at Heppner, Oregon, on July 26th, 1897, viz:

W. W. KIRK, Administrator, and for the heirs of Nancy and John deceased, B. E. No. 306, for the S. W. 1/4, Sec. 2, T. 1, R. 10 E. W. M.

Any person claiming an interest in the above described land, or who wishes to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: John Barton, Wm. Barton, Edward Duran, and Frank F. Bell, all of Heppner, Oregon. JAS. F. MOORE, Register.

THE ACCIDENTS OF LIFE

Write to T. G. QUINCY, Drawer 156, Chicago, Secretary of the STAR ACCIDENT COMPANY, for information regarding Accident Insurance. Mention this paper. By so doing you can save membership fee. Has paid over $500,000.00 for accidental injuries.

Be your own agent.

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Heppner will be held on Saturday, June 19, 1897, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. for the purpose of voting on placing the bank in liquidation and other matters as may come before the meeting. This notice is published by order of the Board of Directors at a meeting held May 18, 1897.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

A LESSON TO GLOUCESTER.

Smallpox Epidemic Teaches People the Value of Vaccination.

The recent outbreak of smallpox in the slums of Gloucester was, according to recent reports in the London Standard, a very serious affair. Eleven persons are known to have been removed to the hospital in two days in one particular court. The neighborhood referred to is in an exceedingly dirty condition, and crowded to excess.

A medical man states that not one single person who has been successfully vaccinated has been admitted to any of the hospitals suffering from the disease.

Every facility is now offered to the working classes to be vaccinated or re-vaccinated, free of expense, with call lamp if desired, either at their own homes or at the numerous vaccination stations which have been temporarily opened in all parts of the city.

The effect of the epidemic on many trades was disastrous, business in some cases being almost at a standstill. Drapers, tailors, dealers in furniture, etc., were greatly affected, while the receipts of tram-cars were little more than one-half the amount taken at ordinary times, and this notwithstanding the fact that on the windows of each car a notice was posted stating that the conveyance was regularly disinfected.

With reference to the cost of the epidemic to the city a prominent official informed me that, judging from past experience, he estimates that this will be at least £10,000, or $12,000.

Time Occupied by Dreams.

The time occupied by a dream is one of the marvels of sleep. In the work entitled "The Philosophy of Mystery," we read of a man who dreamed that he had enlisted as a soldier; that he had joined his regiment, and traveled to a foreign country; that he finally deserted on account of the harsh treatment he had received at the hands of his superior officers; that he had been apprehended and carried back to his regiment; that upon arriving there he was tried by court-martial, condemned to be shot and was led out for execution. At this moment the guns of the executioners exploded and the sound awoke the dreamer. It was clear now that a loud noise in an adjoining room had both produced the dream and awakened the dreamer almost at the same moment.

POLITICO-HISTORICAL.

A Curious Incident in German Interstate Relations.

A "Eisenstaeter" has been abolished in Germany says the Westminster Gazette. The little village of Kurnbach, which has hitherto belonged partly to the grand duchy of Hesse and partly to the grand duchy of Baden, was recently by treaty between the two powers, solemnly and forever incorporated into the grand duchal state of Baden. The oddest thing about the joint jurisdiction under which the Kurnbachers have hitherto lived was that the houses were not allotted to Hesse or to Baden by their position inside or outside any frontier line betwixt the two states, but by the date of their erection. Houses built at one period belonged to one "nationality," houses built at another period belonged to the other. One policeman was found sufficient to keep order for both states, and his uniform was, consequently, varicolored, his green coat showing that he was the officer of Baden, and its blue facings and trimmings bearing witness that he officially represented the majesty of Hesse. Now that the blue has been stripped off, and nothing but the Baden green remains, a Hessian newspaper suggests that his old coat should be presented to the German museum as a politico-historical relic.

A LACK OF LIONS.

It is now found necessary to preserve the King of Hessa in India.

British hunters of large game are bitterly lamenting the gradual extinction of lions in India.

They are no longer found there in any number outside of one region, the forest of Gir, in Kathiawar, says an English exchange. They have disappeared from the hills of Barda, the country of Pakkot, and other places which formerly enjoyed a high reputation on account of the abundance of lions in them.

In the forest of Gir it is feared that their extinction will not be long delayed. Formerly few European hunters dared to venture into this place, which was infested with fevers and bandits. Now the forest is being cleared and fevers and bandits are disappearing and with them the lions.

To prevent the total extinction of these animals the durbur of Kathiawar has prevented the hunting of them for six years.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis; according to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

THE ANEMONE.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flowers"—an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation.

A POPULAR FALLACY.

Fall in Temperature of Ocean Does Not Indicate Presence of Ice.

For many years an opinion existed among seamen and others that a fall in the sea-surface temperature implied nearness of ice. Nothing, says the Nautical Magazine, can be more remote from the truth, though shore folk still perpetuate this fiction in books and newspapers. A sudden fall in sea-surface temperature is likely near the Agulhas, the Japanese current, the gulf stream, while running the Easting down in the South Indian ocean, in the South Atlantic about 40 degrees south, 40 degrees west, and elsewhere; and this, whether isotherms be near or hundreds of miles away. Capt. S. S. Lecky, R. N. R., to whom the nautical profession is indebted for his "Wrinkles in Practical Navigation," was probably the first to draw the attention of his brethren to this fact. In the ninth edition of his book he points out that "allied to fog is the question of danger from ice."

It is a popular delusion among passengers on board ship that by taking the temperature of the water at short intervals, the approach to ice is unfailingly indicated. Unfortunately such is by no means the fact, and it is time the idea was exploded. More than ordinarily cold water merely shows that the ship is in a part of the ocean where ice may possibly be encountered, and not that it is actually present. Shipmasters of repute freely confess, with Capt. Evans, of the Tainui, that they have "never found sea temperature fall lower when near ice than when several miles away" from the danger.

IT IS THE HUNGARIAN LANGUAGE.

I utterly fail to see where Englishmen have received the impression that the Hungarian language is a sort of underlying dialect of German, says a writer in Nineteenth Century. German and English, as is well known, are Aryan languages. Hungarian is no Aryan language at all. Its very character is opposed to that of the German idiom. If German or English may fairly be compared to a tree, the branches and fruits of which are indeed visible, the roots of which, however, are underground and hidden away, the Hungarian language is like a tree the roots of which are almost visible, and by a kind of linguistic Roentgen photography we can almost watch the sap of the roots rising into the stem and branches. It is, in other words, agglutinative.

The first syllable of each word represents the root of the word; tenses or pronouns are soldered on to the root. It is originally the language of nomad and roving tribes anxiously clinging to their word roots for fear of losing all means of understanding one another. Of German words in Hungarian there is only a handful, and they are used mostly as clovers and jest-makers. In the country avenues of Hungarian sentences. The Hungarians do not detect the Germans, but they do not like them, either. The German, known to the Magyars chiefly in his Austrian manifestation, does not appear a model worth imitating. The Austrian is polite, amiable, industrious, but, before anything else, pleasure-loving.

THE ART OF BREWING

Was Perfected by the Production of.....

HOP GOLD

And now the entire world knows this perfect product as the Star Brewery beer.....

STAR BREWERY COMPANY,

203 Washington St., Portland, Or.

HELP WANTED!

We are preparing for a big spring trade, but must have help to make it a howling success. We are filling up and completing our stock of which will be sold as low as possible for a legitimate business. We have many customers now but there are still several vacancies in this department of our store, to be filled. Applications will be received at all hours of the day. Apply in person or by letter to

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE

P. C. Thompson Co.

Corner Main and Willow Streets.

You can Wager Your Sox that You are Always at Home at

THE WELCOME

On Willow Street, near the City Hall.

THE BEST WET GOODS IN THE MARKET. They try to please all. Fine club rooms in connection.

LOW TILLARD, Prop.

FRANK ROGERS J. J. ROBERTS

Rogers & Roberts,

Contractors and Builders.

Plans and Estimates Given on Short Notice.

All Kinds of Repair Work Done.

OFFICE HOURS—Day and Night. Leave your orders "Any Old Place" and Rog. or Jim will get 'em. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

BOOTS AND SHOES

THE PLACE TO GET THEM IS AT M. LICHTENTHAL'S

He has anything in this line that you may desire and you can depend on it you get a good article when you guarantee it.