

Impure Blood

Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles and Sick Headache the Results—Doctored for Years Without Relief.

"My blood was out of order, and I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has purified my blood and relieved me of rheumatism, kidney trouble and sick headaches. I have been afflicted with these difficulties for years. I am now able to do a good day's work. Rheumatism has troubled me since I was a child, but I am now entirely well." Miss FANNING BARTLEY, Box 445, Pasadena, California.

"I have suffered from the effects of impure blood, boils, pimples, etc., for five years. I have tried various remedies without relief and finally purchased six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The boils and pimples have all disappeared since I began taking this medicine. I am now entirely cured." LOUIS THOMAS, 1412 11th Street, Oakland, California.

FRIVOLOUS FRIVOLITIES.

A Few Hard Facts Here and There From Sport's Note Book.

It may be somewhat mysterious to some why Jas. Yeager bought a ticket each for a woman and himself, down at the depot the other evening, and then left on the same train with the lady. But it can all be explained. Either Fred Bartholomew or Mr. Yeager can tell the facts in the case. Don't slander a good man till you know the facts.

The town council have fixed up the oows and the dogs, and they are wondering what kind of a kick Sport will dig up next. The council did the band-some thing by reducing the dog tax down to a dollar, but they forgot to "resolute" so that Sport would have a dead shot on getting the dollar.

The Gazette distinguished itself by getting into Judge Richardson's clutches the other day. This part of the shop being a new offender before his honor, he was let of with the "usual."

The races at Anacosta were as follows: On the 19th, Red S. took second money in the three furlong, Harry N. coming out first in 0:35 1/4, Butler third. The Oregon runners up at Anacosta seem still to have their share of bad luck.

Sport's friends who have been depending upon the Oregonian for race news from Montana all agree that they are putting faith in a weak sister. The Oregonian is too poor to pay for news.

The water people were a little "shy" on aqua Wednesday evening. The biggest "roaring" about it came from people who were never known to use water.

Some Eastern Visitors.

Messrs. J. H. Scheenok and J. Patterson Wheeler, of Dreads and Pen Yan, N. Y., respectively, arrived here on last Wednesday morning, via San Francisco and Portland, and will remain several days when they will begin the journey homeward, going on the Great Northern to St. Paul, then on to Chicago and Indianapolis, where they will stop a brief period in each place to visit relatives and friends. Mr. Wheeler is a cousin of the Patterson brothers and Mr. Scheenok is his friend and traveling companion. Before leaving for the East both will visit Long Creek. Both are well pleased with their Western trip, and particularly with what they have seen in Oregon.

Geo. Barker is reported as being ill with pneumonia up at Sumpter. The Gazette hopes that he will speedily recover.

It is said that the planet, Venus, can be discerned with the naked eye during the daytime high up in the southwest portion of the heavens.

W. O. Hill and Bill Pierce were in from Gooseberry yesterday. William exhibited some very fine samples of wheat grown in his section.

The air was full of 'hoppers' yesterday, high up in the sky, flying southward, perhaps to the mountains. This reminds some former residents of Kansas of "ye olden time."

The little son of C. Leyde fell off the fence near his home below town recently, and fractured both bones of the right forearm near the wrist. Dr. McSwords reduced the break.

A Chinese miner was badly hurt on Big creek by a cave-in yesterday. A message was sent via Heppner to summon Dr. Kam Wah Chung, of Baker City, to attend the sufferer.

It is believed by a large portion of the residents of Berne, Switzerland, that the press notices of suicides cause an epidemic of self-murder; therefore a concerted effort has been made to suppress such announcements.

The Winner

of one of those $100 prizes got her yellow tickets in this way:

1. By using the tea herself.
2. By asking some friends who use the tea to give her their tickets.
3. By inducing some friends to try the tea and give her their tickets.

One of her friends kept a boarding house, and sent her lots of tickets.

Haven't you some friend who keeps a boarding house or a restaurant, or who has influence in some hospital or other public institution? They need good tea there.

Mr. Wilcox, of Eagle valley, Oregon, missed one of his cows a few days ago, and when he finally found her, he discovered that she had adopted a young fawn, and was taking proper care of it. A few days later she gave birth to a calf, and now the calf and fawn receive the same motherly attention.

Makes Him Feet Young.

"For some time I suffered with great weakness and was not able to walk. I could not sleep nights and did not have an appetite. One day a friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I did so. After taking five bottles my health was wonderfully improved. Hood's Sarsaparilla has made me feel young again." H. Ketas, 821 Yeager Way, Seattle, Wash.

Fossil Journal: One of Chas. Hillou's bands of sheep, in charge of Geo. Caven of Fossil, was shot into on the night of July 2nd and 3rd, near the head of Kahler Basin. On the night of the 2nd the herder's cabin was surrounded and 25 pistol shots fired into the band, killing one sheep. On the night of the 3rd the mercenaries returned and again shot into the band, killing four sheep. On this night the herder stepped outside, part of the gang surrounded him while the others did the shooting. Next day George pulled out of there with the sheep, as he didn't think the climate quite suited him. George threw up his job, and a new herder, a Frenchman, was sent back to Kahler Basin with the sheep. There is bad blood between the cattlemen and farmers of that locality and the shepherds of Gilliam and Morrow counties who take their sheep onto government land in that section for summer range, and it is not unlikely that human blood will be spilt ere a stop be put to these dastardly outrages.

Mrs. St. John, who lives on the Geo. A. Dorris farm near Springfield, has a couple of freaks in the fowl line, says the Eugene Register. One is a young turkey, now nearly half grown, which has only one wing. It can't help it for it was born that way, there being no sign of a wing on one side of its body. In all other respects it is a perfectly sound, healthy and well developed turkey. The other freak is a Mcgolian pheasant about six weeks old running with a young brood of turkeys of about the same age. Whether the mother pheasant laid her egg in the turkey's nest and the pheasant was hatched by the mother turkey, or whether it took up its abode in the turkey family after starting in life, is not known, but it now runs with the young turkeys continually and comes up to roost with them every evening, and it probably doesn't know whether it is a turkey or a pheasant.

The people of a Washington town, says the Times-Mountaineer, are red-headed over what they deem was a bunco game set up for their humiliation by the ladies of a church fair. The ladies advertised far and wide that they would appear in bloomers at the fair. The entire population turned out and paid their entrance fee and found that "bloomers" worn by the ladies were only the flowers of the gardens and fields.
