THE times this fall will be the best seen for twenty years, else the Gazette is mightily off its trolley.

THE people are utilizing the first fruits of McKinley prosperity in paying off Cleveland mortgages. Wise people!

THE Walla Walla Statesman says that the republican party is lucky. Well, we should smile! They were always lucky.

NOBODY seems to be uttering a word of regret at the final departure of the Wilson law from the statute books of the country.

IT is evident that populism and democracy will not again enter the arena together to battle under the same flag and with the same slogan.

KLONDIKE or Clondyke will see much suffering this winter. Thousands will curse the day that they were lured to the icy north by the greed of gold.

AND wheat still booms. Besides the high price for wheat, everything the farmer raises or produces is going skyward. Hurrah for the farmer!

POPULISM means well. It is the result of discontent. It cannot flourish in good times. There is no use for it. It is dying faster than it grew into existence.

THE smiling fields, the advance in wheat and wool, and the song of the many factories which have resumed operations since the new administration went in, make the calamity shriek very sick.

IT has been reported to the federal government that British vessels are landing passengers and freight at Skagway instead of Dyea, the latter being a port of entry and the former not, in direct violation of law.

IT is intimated in Washington that if Canada insists on reprisals on American miners going into the Clondyke, the government will prohibit Canadian and British officials going to or returning from that country over American territory.

IT is a great thing for this country, now that there is an existing gold standard of value, that while we have an abundance of silver, $521,000,000, in the treasury, we have so limited it that we have the use of both money metals without fear of the depreciation of either.

THE most encouraging feature of the reports showing the return of business activity is that they come from small as well as large places. When every community finds itself busily employed the professional agitator finds his occupation gone the country prosperous.

THE manufacturers and the farmers are now engaged in a race to see who shall show the greatest evidence of prosperity. Come to think, that was just what the republicans claimed last year—that prosperity in manufacturing and prosperity in farming went hand in hand.

THE democratic assertion that trusts and a protective tariff go hand in hand is somewhat weakened by the fact that trusts never flourished in the United States as they did during the three years of the late democratic tariff, which has happily passed.

QUITE a number of Oregon and Washington fairs will be held during the coming three months, and as both these states have been blessed with abundant crops of all kinds, the management of the various fair associations should look to their interests and endeavor to have a large attendance. This can be accomplished through the medium of the press. A few dollars expended in the columns of the newspapers would undoubtedly increase the attendance and bring good results financially. A trial bottle of this advertising cordial would probably build up the wearing system of a number of our state and county fairs and restore them to health and vigor. Let the various managements give this medicine a trial.

HENRY CLEWS & Co., the New York bankers, are sending out investment guides. This manual is replete with information relating to investments, and is one of the surest signs of returning prosperity that can possibly come from any source. Henry Clews' reports on finance are regarded throughout the entire country as being absolutely accurate and reliable. Clews says confidence is again restored, capitalists are seeking investments and money is comparatively easy and general activity in all lines of business may be expected all over the United States.

ANDRE, the explorer, has again been heard from. A dispatch from Hammerfest, Norway, says that one of the searchers for Herr Andree met the sailing vessel Alken about July 22, and was informed by her captain that one of her crew had shot a carrier pigeon between North cape and Seven islands, on the north coast of the island, bearing a message from the explorer, addressed to the Aftonbladet, of Stockholm, which reads as follows: "Eighty-two degrees passed; good journey northward—Andree."

THE First Eastern Oregon district fair will be held at Prairie City, commencing Sept. 27. The management promises a grand display of Oregon products and a large attendance is expected. The Gazette acknowledges the receipt of a complimentary ticket.

WHAT OUR EXCHANGES SAY.
 The Canadian government often shows an enterprise which our own government might well copy. It has made application to the authorities at Washington to be permitted to build a telegraph line from some point on the coast of Alaska to Tagish, across the summit of the mountain range, nearly 100 miles. If it is the purpose of Canada to construct a telegraph line to Dawson City, and to do it this fall, its enterprise is one which deserves to be highly commended. There is no good reason, now that the Yukon valley is assuming such business importance, why it should not be connected by telegraph with the outside world, so that we may know at all times what is going on there.

Congressman Ellis was at the Perkins hotel, Portland, Saturday and Sunday, and it is said that he was the busiest man in Oregon, and the hotel seemingly the most popular one in the city. The delegation of those desiring to devote their services to Uncle Samuel was in force, and the bell boys received tips for carrying cards up to Congressman Ellis' room until they thought they had a small section of the Klondike. And yet they received no satisfaction, for until the balance of the Oregon congressional delegation arrives recommendations will be made.—The Dalles Chronicle.

The county judges in Oregon are not required to give bonds. This is a serious omission. The very officer of the county who is at the head of its business affairs, and who has in his hands largely the direction of the management of the vast property interests of widows and the orphans, is under no binding obligation, outside of his own property and his own conscience, to act honestly and deal fairly. If it happens that he has neither property nor conscience, then the taxpayers and the property of estates must suffer. The legislature at its next session should by all means direct the giving of official bonds by the county judges.—Salem Statesman.

Congressman Ellis tells a good story on Frank J. Parker, whom he met at Walla Walla. As every one knows Colonel Parker for many years was a democratic war horse in his section of Washington, but a year ago he fell in with the populists and became a Bryan supporter. When he met Mr. Ellis he said: "I don't know how it is in other parts of the country, but the wave of prosperity has certainly struck Walla Walla. Wheat is 75 cents, the farmers are all happy, and, to tell the truth, I don't know what will become of us populists."—Eugene Register.

year is estimated at 100,000,000 bushels. American farmers are in a position to supply this deficiency and will receive liberal prices for doing so. Wheat is now worth 75 per bushel and will go higher before harvest is over.—Milton Eagle.

The Indiana law requiring that prison-manufactured goods exposed for sale should be plainly labeled "convict made" has been declared unconstitutional on the ground that it interferes with the right to contract, discriminates against goods of other states and interferes with interstate commerce. This is a vexed question in nearly every state in the union—the question of how to employ the convict labor.—Statesman.

"On the whole, the fact remains that it is a pretty poor kind of Spanish crisis that does not give rise to at least one rumor to the effect that Weyler will be at once recalled from Cuba," says the San Francisco Bulletin. If he don't keep well out of the way of the advancing columns of General Gomez, he will not be in condition to be recalled very long, excepting in a wooden overcoat.—Salem Statesman.

Don't get excited, friends, and depend upon six-bit wheat too much. Let's diversify, and intensify, and manufacture. Raise wheat, but don't set all your eggs under one hen.—Salem Statesman.

At least two Umatilla farmers sold their wheat Wednesday for 75 cents per bushel. Ed. Linsner sold for this price, and John Crow sold for the same figure. Many others would have sold could they have secured the handsome price but they could not find buyers. Early in the day the warehouse company entered into a deal to purchase 150,000 bushels at 75 cents from a number of farmers who talked of pooling their wheat, but H. F. Pierce, one of their number, backed out and the deal was called off. Later in the day 73 cents was being offered.—Baker City Republican.

Representatives Tongue and Ellis have returned from Washington, and, while not communicative on the subject of federal appointments, say that the Oregon congressional delegation have not yet decided on any recommendations. Probably they are waiting for the arrival of John H. Mitchell, whose influence seems so potent with President McKinley.—Jacksonville Times.

Congressman Tongue did not get home on Friday as was expected, but he did come on Saturday morning. At that date as the train pulled up at the station the Hillsboro Cornet band struck up a number in welcome to our townsman, and as he, wearied and dusty, stepped from the platform he realized that he was at home, since voices and faces familiar by an acquaintance of thirty years pressed forward for a hand-shake and a welcome greeting. No speaking was on the order of exercises; indeed the whole matter was an informal meeting which was without ceremony. Mr. Tongue entered his private carriage where his son and daughter were waiting and drove home. But he stopped there only long enough to put off dusty garments for within a half hour he was in his office and at his desk hard at work. Mr. Tongue will not be able to take a summer vacation. He will stay in Oregon till December, giving attention to professional business and looking after those matters of legislation in which the state will be interested at the next session of congress. Hillsboro Independent.

WHY TIMES ARE GOOD.
 Some Points From Bradstreets Which are Patent to all.
 "Bradstreets," which is recognized as a most conservative publication, summarizes the business situation:
 "1. That the crops are good.
 "2. That the price of wheat and oat-tone has so greatly advanced as to pour scores of millions of dollars into the laps of the farmers, while the price of other staples has advanced in sympathy with these.
 "3. That short crops in Europe, India and Argentina assure a command of these high prices during the market season.
 "4. That merchants everywhere are replenishing their stock of goods as they have not done for several years past.
 "5. That in consequence railroad earnings everywhere show improvement.
 "6. That there are already signs of revival in industry, the manufacturers beginning to anticipate the new demand for goods.
 "7. That our exports for the last year have been so enormously in excess of our imports as to make us very heavily a creditor nation—a condition that does not guarantee prosperity but intends strongly to help it.
 "8. That there is everywhere among the farmers a feeling of hopefulness which has not existed for several years past."

Nat Webb left Wednesday for Walla Walla. Nat is much elated over the immense wheat crop and price for same.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Rober, physician and pharmacist of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by Conner & Brock.

THE WATER QUESTION.
 An effort being made to economize in the Water Supply that All May Have Enough.
 The matter of the water supply for Heppner and the duty of the Heppner Light & Water Co. towards the town have been the subject of discussion among our people for some time. The president of the company, Mr. E. V. Gates, being in town, an informal meeting of the council was held on last Wednesday evening at which time Mr. Gates addressed the body.
 Mr. Gates stated that the present shortage of water was entirely unnecessary and was caused by waste, extravagance and abuse of privileges allowed by the company. He said that the company proposed to stop this, and that already such progress had been made as to convince him that every inhabitant, using water legitimately, could have enough for all purposes paid for and allowed by the rules of the company, and that there would be a reserve of water of sufficient quantity to sprinkle the business portion of Main street.

He also discussed the purpose of the company and the relations that they intended to maintain with the town, claiming that this was a mutual matter. Mr. Gates said that during the next year an effort would be made to increase the supply of water so that all legitimate demands could be met.

The import of the remainder of Mr. Gates' talk appears in the following which formed the body of a circular distributed yesterday among the company's patrons:
 The season is very dry. Nearly all sources of water supply are drying up and we find everyone (even those who are not regular patrons) depending on us for their supply at a time when we are exhausting every resource to supply regular and legitimate demands for city and patrons. We are now supplying water at the ratio of 90 gallons per day to each person in the city—a greater amount than is used in any of the commercial cities. This establishes the fact that some of our patrons are abusing the rights and privileges of service. We have enough water for all and will use all we have, but are determined to stop all waste and that consumers shall have just and like treatment. For this purpose the information and instructions herein is supplied. During the season of 1897 the whistle will blow daily at 6 o'clock, p. m., at which time irrigation may begin. It will blow again at 8 o'clock, p. m., when irrigation must cease, except that in the higher district north and along Main street to and west along May street the patrons may use the hours between 6 and 8 a. m., and no other time.

Extravagant waste of water through sink waste pipes for any purpose, or where the evident intention is to water gardens therefrom will be considered sufficient excuse to stop all service.
 The hours designating the period during which water can be used for irrigation do not establish any right for two continuous hours unless the lawn requires it. Every lawn should and must have water to keep it in good order, but to use a sprinkler to run more than five minutes at one place is a waste of water and does injury to a well kept lawn. In paying for use of water on lawn, you pay for what the lawn requires, and not for any specified number of hours' service.

Rule 12 prohibits the use of hose without nozzle, any irrigation except during the specified hours, use of hose for other purposes than irrigation and extravagant use of water.
 Rule 14 prohibits waste of water through leaky fixtures.
 We will strictly enforce these rules and if for abuse water is turned off it will not be again turned on during this season.

In the early spring by advertisement in the Gazette we notified and warned all that water for gardens would be stopped at any time. We cannot any longer permit the use of water for gardens. If, at the end of a short period, we find that by stopping wastes elsewhere we can supply water for gardens, notice of same will be given.

DUTY ON CLONDIKE OUTFITS.
 An interview with a Canadian Official Being Out a Few More Facts.
 J. E. Lathrop, of Pendleton, who is at Dyea, Alaska, and who is inclined to report facts as he finds them, writes to the E. O. of the following:
 "I have interviewed the Canadian customs officer, Mr. McInnis, who is at Skagway, three miles down the bay from here. He tells me positively that the Canadian government will collect a duty averaging 25 per cent on all outfits taken into the Clondyke, and that 180 mounted police will patrol. Clothing worn six months will be exempt. No spirits of any kind can be taken over the line. They will be confiscated. Duty will be collected at Lake Tagish, six miles inland, and the customs officer will accept the bills of any reputable business house in the states as vouchers. Therefore, be sure and have complete statements. Don't try to fool with those Canadian officials. In classical language, "it do not want," but let every Clondyker make a fair open showing and he will receive fair open treatment. At Lake Tagish the British customs house officer will deduct enough to allow for "grab" eaten in getting that far, so the one going in will pay duty only on what he has at Tagish."

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Rober, physician and pharmacist of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by Conner & Brock.

EIGHT MILE NOTES.
 Very hot weather.
 The sound of the header and thresher is heard.
 Mr. White, of Lexington, is threshing on Eight Mile.
 Born to the wife of E. C. Asbaugh, July 8th, a son.
 Squirrels are not so numerous, as they are going into winter quarters.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kahler were visiting on Eight Mile a few days ago.
 Fred Knigthen was hit with a broken singlewood on the arm, inflicting an ugly wound.
 The fruit trees that were stripped of their foliage last season and put out leaves again that season, are not bearing this year.
 Grasshoppers are plentiful in this neighborhood. They are stripping the orchards in some localities of leaves and fruit.
 Some bad cases of Klondike fever on Eight Mile. It is confined to only a few individuals. The disease does not seem to be contagious.
 Mr. H. Leathers and Miss Cramer, of Hardman, were married last Sunday, C. E. Jones, J. P., officiating. May their lives be perpetual sunshine.
