FOR A LONG AND HAPPY LIFE.

Be Well Fed, Well Warm and Well Rested.

Were I asked for a receipt for longevity, beauty and happiness, I would write: "Be well fed, well warmed and well rested." Many people are not well fed, well warmed and well rested. It is just as well to sit down and work on, or that it is a sign of laziness to lie down in the daytime, says the Ladies' Home Journal. There is just such ignorance in the world for ignorance it is of the simplest physical laws. If a woman is observed to rest often she is soon regarded as "lazy." People who are averse to exercise, or lag easily in their work, are sick. When physical exhaustion it is because the physical balance is weakened.

Another odd bit of bigotry stands like a "lion in the way." Our grandfathers and grandmothers did not do so, etc. In this case it is plain that they did not need the amount of rest that is required in these days. They had not a tenth of the distractions of their straight-backed chairs and long hours their progeny might have been blessed with stronger nerves. Therefore, my weary, quick-tempered, cross woman, hasten to be "healthy, wealthy and wise" by going to bed early and often. Also, invest in some sort of comfortable couch, which should be installed in the post of honor in your sitting-room, and then—use it.

ONLY A LITTLE PLAYFUL

The Tenderfoot, However, Didn't Agree with the Owner.

"He ain't vicious, stranger, and ain't got a single mean trait."

So spoke the owner of the mustang to the tenderfoot who was sojourning in the hills of southwestern Missouri, says the Detroit Free Press.

"You just get on and try him and if you don't like him don't buy him. He may be a bit spry and playful, but that's cause he's been in the stable over a week."

The tenderfoot sprang to the saddle and what happened thereafter he only dimly remembered. The horse reared; then he came down on all fours, with his legs as stiff as a sawhorse. Having repeated this operation half a dozen times, he sprang forward and covered a good section of the country at a 2:01 gait, with no running mate. Other, he reared, leaped, pitched and finally made his way back to the starting point, made as if to roll over and then dived for the stable door, leaving the horseman dazed, dumb and limp in a bush near the roadside. The owner helped the would-be purchaser to his feet, straightened him out and jammed his battered hat on his head.

"What kind—kind of a horse do you call that?" gasped the tenderfoot.

"Sho! He's all right. Been in the stable a week, that's all. Feels a bit playful. But he has a right nice gait. What do you think of that single foot of his?"

WORK DONE BY THE SUN.

It Daily Raises 245,000,000,000 Tons of Water.

It has repeatedly been proposed to make use of the enormous power issuing from the sun in the shape of heat rays. What enormous amount of labor is done by the sun on this earth alone is evidenced in part by the circulation of water on the earth's surface. Every day the heat of the sun turns into vapor a large amount of water on all the watery surfaces, and these rising vapors are far above us converted into clouds, which the cool currents of air carry overland to countries which are not blessed with plenty of the fluid element, and upon further condensation the clouds in the shape of rain fall upon the earth. In smaller or larger quantities water streams again toward the sea, and during this course man undertakes to withdraw from the water part of the stored-up power of the sun, using it for industrial purposes. The Paris meteorologist, Prof. Météorich, estimates the quantity of water turned into vapor by the sun in the Mediterranean sea alone on a clear, hot summer day at not less than 5,250,000,000 tons. At that rate the quantity of water taken from the entire globe on one hot day within the limits of the temperate and tropical zones would amount to not less than 245,000,000,000 tons.

Women's Influence of Old.

A writer in Mother's Journal is not of the opinion that women are now, for the first time, of account in society. She writes: "Women are new in literature and journalism. Are they? Only the other day, in a jug dug from the ruins of ancient Greece, was found what must have served for a daily paper in those days, and a woman was one of the writers. Have you any idea that the old Egyptians doubted for one minute the political power of woman as they watched the career of Cleopatra? Was Miriam's music less inspiring to the Hebrew warriors than the song of a woman? Anyone might suppose from the clamor and ado that we were for the first time of account to the world, when, as a matter of fact, we have been a power for good or evil—socially, politically and morally—since the days of Eden."

Potatoes in a Patriotic.

Prep, wash and place six medium-sized potatoes in a saucpan over the fire; cover with cold water; add half tablespoonful salt and cook 'til tender; then drain and wash or press through potato press. Mix with one ounce butter, the yolks of two eggs, season with a quarter teaspoonful salt and the same of nutmeg; lay two butter patties two minutes in boiling water; remove and instantly dip in cold water; take small portions of the potatoes and roll them into round balls the size of a walnut between the butter pats, the same as butter balls are made; dip in beaten egg, roll in grated bread crumbs and fry to a fine golden color in hot fat.—Brooklyn Eagle.

King of Dudes.

The greatest dandy in the world is Prince Albert of Thurn, Germany. This fastidious young man attires himself in a new suit of clothes every day, enough yearly to keep 100 experienced workmen going and to run up a bill of $15,000. Each suit of wearing apparel is highly perfumed with attar of roses at $25 an ounce. He wears no less than 1,500 neckties during a year, being an average of three every day. A laundry weighing 13 people is kept specially for washing his soiled linen, which he never wears more than twice, and his coat-off boots number 250 pairs a year.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ONE SURVIVOR

The Clergyman Who Married President Hayes is Still Living.

Near the close of December, 1852, Rutherford B. Hayes was united in marriage to Lucy Webb. Lucy Webb exerted a wonderful influence over him. She was a refined, religious, fun-loving girl. She was born in Chillicothe, and her father was a physician, who died at Lexington, Ky., in 1833. The widow, her two sons and daughter, came to Delaware because of the educational advantages the town afforded. Here Lucy was instructed preparatory to entering the Wesleyan female college at Cincinnati.

A few evenings ago the writer spent a most pleasant hour with the venerable Dr. L. D. McCabe, vice president of the Ohio Wesleyan University. Dr. McCabe is an uncle of Bishop McCabe, better known as Chaplain McCabe. For half a century Dr. McCabe has been connected with university work in this State. Eighty years he has lived, and the world is better for it. Now he is old and feeble, and the shadows are stretching far toward the east. Sitting in his comfortable home, with a picture of Lucy Webb Hayes hanging on the wall over his chair, he spoke in most glowing terms of her womanly worth. Dr. McCabe performed the marriage ceremony which made Rutherford Hayes and Lucy Webb man and wife, and he also attended their silver wedding, which event took place at the white house in December, 1877. It is also worthy of note that Dr. McCabe journeyed across the state to perform the marriage ceremony for Senator-elect Joseph B. Foraker and wife.

"Lucy Webb was one of the most beautiful characters I have ever been permitted to know," said Dr. McCabe. "Her mother brought her and her brothers here to educate them. At that time girls did not enter the university here, but I was Miss Webb's tutor in preparing her for a female seminary. She was a beautiful young woman, full of fun, and the kind of a girl who would captivate a young man like Hayes. The same qualities of heart she carried with her through life, and no woman, as first lady of the land or in any other position, exerted a wider or better influence.

"I remember well how Hayes and Lucy looked when I married them. Hayes was a splendid looking fellow, and in all my years I never united a handsomer couple."

Dr. McCabe told an incident which occurred one time, when he was visiting the Webb family in Cincinnati. Lucy had a girl friend for a guest, and the two girls were in the kitchen washing dishes when Hayes and a young friend called. There was nothing formal about the call, for the young men were invited into the kitchen, and the work of washing dishes went right on. The doctor thinks, from the sounds which proceeded from the kitchen, that the call was no less enjoyed for being informal. Dr. McCabe is now the only person living who was present at that wedding 44 years ago, but the incidents of that occasion are as fresh in his memory as if they occurred but yesterday.—Toledo Blade.

SPREADS LIKE CHOLERA.

Burgess General Wyman Talks of the Plague of India.

Dr. Walter Wyman, surgeon general of the United States marine hospital service, has been making a special study of the black death, or bubonic plague, now raging in India. The death-plague that was afflicted the infected seamen to Marseilles, France. It has already been brought by an interview he said:

"In general the disease is spread in the same manner as cholera, except that the cholera germ must enter the intestinal tract, while the germ of the plague may attack any part of the mucous membrane, or be conveyed by even the minutest abrasion of the skin. While this germ is so virile and so easily taken into the system, it is one of the most easily killed by disinfection. In the experiments now being carried on in the laboratory of the hospital service it has been found that but one pathogenic organism as easily destroyed by formaldehyde gas as the plague bacillus, namely the staphylococcus pyogenes aureus. One per cent. of quicklime will also destroy it.

"There are known to be two forms of the disease. One is the fulminating form called 'pestus major,' in which form the disease acts very quickly and is very fatal; the other, 'pestus minor,' in which the symptoms are mild, the patient not being confined to the bed; hence this class are called ambulant cases. The period for incubation for the acute cases appears to be pretty well fixed at twenty days, while in the ambulating cases the apparent period of incubation may be very much longer. In other words, ambulating cases may be afflicted for a period of ten or thirty days before the symptoms have developed which call attention to the disease. The acute form of the infection may cause mild attacks, while on the other hand the ambulant cases may cause the acute attacks. The ambulant cases, therefore, are the most to be dreaded."—Chicago Post.

Habit of Doing Well.

Learning to do well is like learning to swim. You wade into the water, but not far, for fear you will drown. You try again, and do a little better. You swallow a good deal of water, but you keep on splashing, and finally can swim. So you must keep on doing well until you learn how. A habit is something which we have. That is what the word means. It often becomes something which has us.—Detroit Free Press.

Reassured.

He—And you say Miss Sitton is your friend? Well, I hope you don't flirt as she does.

She—Oh, indeed I don't. I think her way is horrid!—Brooklyn Life.

Life in Spain.

In Spain constitutional indolence, fertile soil, and a magnificent climate combine to make life one long holiday. In Turkey the natural thrift and industry of the real Turkish population are paralyzed into idleness and apathy by the hopelessness of winning anything worth having which will not be at once stolen by official corruption.

An Odious Custom.

An auditor in a Japanese theater is allowed, for a small fee, to stand up, and the unfortunate individual behind him has no right to renege or to rise and get a peep at the stage. He may hear, but he cannot see.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

LUNG TROUBLES AND CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished chemist, T. A. Slocom, of New York City, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis), bronchial, lung and chest troubles, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discoveries to any afflicted reader of this paper writing for them.

His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patiently experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertion that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate is proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

The dread Consumption, uninterupted, means speedy and certain death. Simply write to T. A. Slocom, M. C., 98 Pine Street, New York, giving postal office and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent direct from his laboratory.

Sufferers should take instant advantage of his generous proposition. Please tell the Doctor that you saw this in the Gazette, published at Heppner, Oregon. July 9-7-1 yr.
