

Scrofula Swelling

On the Neck and Great Weakness Caused by Impure Blood—Was Constantly Growing Worse.

"When my son was 5 years old he was in very poor health and we could get nothing to relieve him. At the age of 7 years he began to complain of soreness on both sides of his neck and soon lumps began to gather on one side and grew to half the size of an egg. We then became more uneasy and began to doctor him for scrofula. He gradually grew worse, however, until at the age of twelve years we had lost all hope of his recovery. He became so weak he could sit up but a few minutes at a time. My wife saw Hood's Sarsaparilla recommended as a great blood purifier and we sent and got a bottle. We began giving our boy the medicine according to directions and it was not long before we saw he was improving. He continued taking it until he was in very good health. He is now 13 years old and is well. We recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for all troubles caused by impure blood." S. M. SILVER, Grouse, Oregon.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists, $1; six for $5. Get only Hood's.

One pan of dirt in Heppner passed out $20 in gold recently. Ben Stevens lost the $20 in a well and it was subsequently recovered.

DEATH FROM UNKNOWN CAUSES.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Case of the Infant Supposed to Have been Murdered.

From the E. O. Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock the coroner's jury in the case of Joe Laobappelle adjourned until 10 a. m. today. The testimony was nearly all in at that time, and the result was left in doubt. There was no positive evidence to convict the accused. The woman, Fannie Poppin, gave the most damaging evidence against him of any other witness, but it was not positive. She "guessed Joe killed it," and that was all. The most interesting feature of the inquest was the conflicting evidence of the man and woman in the case. Which is right, nobody knows. Joe Laobappelle was cool and deliberate in his testimony, and told his story straight. He admitted that he acted wrong in notifying nobody that the child was dead, but claimed he had to bury it himself because the county nor no one else would do so. The marked difference between the statements of the man and woman with reference to the infant's death consists in the fact that she swears he woke her up and told her the child was dead, and he swears she woke him up and told him to take the child, whereupon he discovered it was dead. She swears also that she saw the baby after it was dead and that its eyes were open, while he swears its eyes were closed and he could not open them.

The essential features of the testimony up to the time Laobappelle took the stand were given in Thursday's East Oregonian. This much interested witness swore in substance that he was a resident of Umatilla county and by occupation a hard laborer; that he had known the woman, Mrs. Poppin, about a year; that he conveyed the woman and her infant child from the county hospital to room No. 31 in the Golden Rule hotel on the night of September 20. The infant was apparently well and ate heartily before leaving the hospital. He tried to feed it again before going to bed at about 9 o'clock and it would not eat. He said that he then went to sleep and slept soundly until about 2:30 a. m., when he was awakened by Mrs. Poppin, asking him to attend to the baby, as it would soon be crying. He was lying on the outside of the bed, Mrs. Poppin in the middle and the baby on her arm at the far side of the bed. He got up, turned on the light, procured the milk bottle and took the baby to feed it, when he discovered it was dead, and told the woman he would have to go and bury it, the best way he could, as Mr. Chestnut had told him the county would not bury it if it died.

The woman began crying, and he, after carefully laying the dead baby at the foot of the bed, turned in himself and with the woman discussed ways and means for its disposal. At about 5:30 he got up and dressed, and wrapping the body in a small cloak conveyed it to the end of the Lee street bridge, where he left it until he could get a spade. He procured a spade in a lot on Lee street and went up the gulch and buried the body as best he could. He said that in this he had made his mistake, as he was free to confess, in not informing the authorities. Returning to the hotel he had breakfast, and then procuring a livery team, himself and the woman went to Athens. Returning at night they took a room at the Alta House under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. When asked why he told the woman that he and Chestnut buried the body at the county hospital, he said that he did it to keep the woman quiet.

At 10:30 o'clock this forenoon the jury came to the conclusion that the infant's death was due to unknown causes. The absence of convicting evidence gave rise to this verdict. The prisoner is still in custody, having been arrested originally for lewd cohabitation. He now awaits examination on this charge.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ark., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at Conser & Brook's drug store.

R. E. Cochran, of Monument, was in town Friday last. Judge Jones and Chas. H. Bass were over from Eight Mile Friday last.

John Carmichael and family were in Saturday from their home near Lexington. There is a rumor that some person will start another butcher shop in Heppner this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cupper and little son were over from Grant county on last Saturday and Sunday. Emile Schanno, of The Dalles, who represents the fruit industry for the state of Oregon, is in town.

MRS. CLEVELAND'S WORDS.

The Wife of Conductor Cleveland and Her Experience.

A Remarkable Result—Facts of Much Interest

HOW THE MORTALITY RATE MAY BE LESSEMED.

With scores of people suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, and kindred diseases, it is evident that the following letter, which was published once before in the Gazette did not have their reading.

It certainly is convincing, and if its advice were followed by more, the mortality rate would be materially lessened. Since this letter was printed, a Gazette correspondent has investigated the facts thoroughly and finds that they are vouched for by Mrs. Cleveland's neighbors and friends. Her husband is Conductor Cleveland, who has been with the Central Vermont R. R. for twenty years.

The letter is published in full as received, and strikingly verifies the saying, "Truth is stranger than fiction."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE GAZETTE: I have a marvelous communication to make, and one that I feel it my duty to send to you for publication, much as I dislike seeing my name in print.

For three years I have been able to walk but very little, and it was seldom that I could sit up over half a day at a time. None of the physicians seemed to understand my case, some calling it neuralgia or rheumatism, while others said that my sufferings were caused by ulcers. Any way, none of them helped me, and after spending hundreds of dollars, I became utterly discouraged.

I finally went to New York, where for two months I was under the care of one of the most eminent physicians of that city. But my sickness and helplessness were not bettered. My husband was talking to a friend, Mr. W. H. Greene, station agent of Burlington, Vt., about my unfortunate condition, and Mr. Greene strongly urged him to have me try Paine's celery compound. I used three bottles, and with so much benefit that I continued its use. Today I walked down town, half a mile or more, did some shopping, called upon a friend, and then walked home again. I am doing all my housework, something I have not done before in years.

My restoration to health is solely due to Paine's celery compound. It is this medicine which has changed me from a suffering, helpless woman to my present condition of health and strength. I hope you will publish this letter and spread as widely as possible the knowledge of a means that will bring health and happiness to homes where sickness and suffering make life a burden.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. C. E. CLEVELAND, Rutland, Vt.
