ASSOCIATE JUSTICE STEPHEN J. FIELD, of the supreme court of the United States, has tendered his resignation to take effect Dec. 1st. On the day of his retirement Justice Field will have served 40 years on the judicial bench, a period which will have exceeded that of any of his predecessors.

EVENTS of the last few days in Spain have convinced even the most sensationally inclined scribblers that a great many people have allowed their imaginations to run away with their judgment in discussing the attitude of President McKinley towards both Spain and Cuba. The president has every reason to feel gratified at the visible result of his Cuban policy—the recall of Gen. Weyler by the new Spanish minister—and to expect a still greater result—peace in Cuba.

SECRETARY WILSON, who is widely known as an effective campaigner, because of his straightforward appeals to the common, everyday, horse-sense of his hearers, has gone to Ohio to take the stump for a few days for the republicans. Secretary Wilson has no scruples about a member of the cabinet taking the stump for his party; the issue in Ohio has been made to involve the policy of the national administration, and he thinks it all right for members of the administration to take part in the public discussions.

UNLESS his present plans are changed, President McKinley will go to Ohio just before the election and remain there to cast his vote. He doesn't regard his vote as necessary to the success of the republican ticket, state and legislative, but he believes that casting his vote is a patriotic duty that should never be left undone by any man when it can possibly be done. He has preached this from the stump all over Ohio in the many campaigns in which he has participated, and he wishes to show his Ohio friends that he continues to both preach and practice it. Whether the president will make a speech before the election in Ohio is not yet fully determined. He is somewhat inclined to think that it would not be strictly in accordance with propriety for him to make a partisan speech in a state campaign, but attempts to persuade him to address at least one meeting, at Cincinnati, are still being made, and they may succeed.

A GREAT many who regarded the sending of a commission to Europe to treat with the governments over there on the feasibility of the adoption of international bimetalism as chimerical, when it was first proposed by Senator Wolcott, are now convinced that the commission has really been of some service. It has, for one thing, made the government of Great Britain for the first time give serious consideration to the subject of international bimetalism, instead of curtly dismissing it, as it had always previously done. Of course this doesn't make it certain that Great Britain will eventually agree to international bimetalism, but it is a longer step in that direction than it seemed possible awhile ago to make Great Britain take, and the credit is certainly due to the efforts of Senator Wolcott's commission. Arrangements have just been perfected for a series of conferences between the commission and Ambassador Hay with the British chancellor of the exchequer and other officials, for the purpose of fully discussing the matter in all its bearings.

PROTECTION means increased manufactures at home. Increased manufactures means increased employment. Increased employment means increased earnings. Increased earnings means increased consumption. Increased consumption means increased demand for articles consumed. Increased demand for articles consumed means increased prices. Do you understand now how it is that all articles which the farmer has to sell have advanced in price?

THE earnings of the second month of the Dingley law were greater than those of the second month of the Wilson law, notwithstanding the favorable conditions under which the Wilson law came into existence and the exact reverse with the Dingley law. The officials of the treasury department predict that the revenues of the law when it shall have gotten into normal condition will be ample to meet the expenses of the government.

HAVE the gold bugs captured Colorado? That state, it is now announced, will add $20,000,000 to the gold of the country this year from her own mines, and it is probable that the total gold production of the world in 1897 will aggregate $250,000,000, a sum vastly greater than is needed to keep pace with the growth of population and business of the world.

SHARPS AND FLATS.

BY LUK VERNON.
"The 'Gazette' will take potatoes, cabbage on subscription." Now this is modest. Nothing mean about the "Gazette." Most editors want oranges, bananas, pears, etc., and sometimes money.

No, my son, blotting paper will not blot out your sins. Generally it never blots, just smears.

Some men smoke 15 cent cigars on credit who could not pay for a 5 cent yellow, Missouri, corn-cob pipe.

This is the season of the year when the old rusty stovepipe is dug up and the man commences to blanket-blank-blank the fellow that invented stoves and pipe, with the accent on the "pipe."

The "devil" in a country newspaper office is sometimes a pretty young girl. The paper with the largest circulation on earth—paper of tobacco.

"One half of the world does not know how the other half lives," is an old saying, and it may be added here that they don't care, either.

One touch of nature makes the world say, Haw, what shocking bad lawm.

There are two places where it requires an effort to keep one's balance—on the ice and at the bank.

Ouch, Lucy, he howled.
You love me no more;
You've never worn pins
In your belt before.

Walk right in, dear. Your supper's ready, your slippers are right where you can find them easily, and your pipe and tobacco are on the writing desk and today's "Gazette," all handy for you. All right, Molly, groused the tired, suspicious husband, you can get that new pair of green shoes tomorrow.

"If the people would quarantine against 'yellow journalism' as well as yellow fever it might make a change in business all around.

"There are plenty of kernels in the corn," remarks a southern paper, and it can be truthfully stated here that there is plenty of corn in the colonels down in that country.

He went out on a lark,
So his wife did remark,
And some angry words, too, she did utter:
On a lark he went out,
Of that fact there's no doubt,
But he came in, alas, on a shutter.

P. S. "Save that 25 cents and don't spend it until you get to Tillard's."—Add in paper. He did, and that's the result, with apologies to the shutter.

It's wonderful to think of the progress the world has made. One can't help seeing evidences of progress everywhere. If you walk out on the streets you see electric cars and electric lights. And when I see an electric light I do feel sorry for the poor Romans. How they ever managed to read anything by the light of those splintering candles is more than I can imagine.

Thirty years ago electricity wasn't heard of, yet after experimenting with it and knowing full well what can be accomplished by the use of it, they are still making "light" of it. Thus the band played "Don't bury me deep."

Timber Culture,--Final Proof.
UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT HENRY H. TULLOCH, of Harbison, Oregon, has filed notice of intention to make final proof before J. W. # Rheumatism, Oh the Pain!

The aches and pains of Rheumatism become a constant companion to all who are victims of this disabling disease. Much suffering could be avoided if the first warning pains of Rheumatism were heeded and the proper treatment at once taken. But the people generally are not acquainted with the cause of the disease, though thousands know its tortures. Those who use liniments and ointments cannot understand why they grow worse each winter, and find themselves gradually becoming unable to get around as they once could; yet they know that their trouble came on at first as little aches and pains, which hardly attracted their attention.
Everybody should know more about rheumatism; they should know that it is a peculiar condition of the blood upon which all the liniments in the world can have no effect whatever. The best blood remedy is needed—one which is able to go to the very seat of the disease, and force it out. Swift's Specific (S.S.S.) is the right remedy for Rheumatism, because it is the only blood purifier that cleanses the blood and other minerals which intensify the disease, causing stiffness of the joints and aching of the bones.

Swift's Specific being a real blood remedy never fails to cure Rheumatism. It reaches even the worst cases where the doctors have made cripples with their prescriptions of potash and mercury.
Mr. D. R. Johnson, an extensive lumber dealer of Blackhear, Ga., writes: "My wife was for years a sufferer from Rheumatism and was treated constantly, but could obtain no relief. The pain was first felt in her left shoulder, and extended in all directions, increasing in severity. The doctors said the disease was liable to strike the heart at any time, in which event death would be inevitable.
"Every kind of treatment recommended for Rheumatism was given her, including many blood remedies, but none did her any good. She was growing worse all the while, and was reduced to a mere shadow of her former self."
"It was at this critical period that Swift's Specific was given her; the medicine seemed to reach the disease promptly, and she at once began to improve. One dozen bottles effected a complete cure, and she has had no touch of the disease since."
Every one afflicted with Rheumatism should take a remedy which can reach their trouble. S.S.S. will cure the most aggravated cases of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Cancer, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, or any other blood disease. It is guaranteed.
