LOCAL SQUIBS.

W. J. Leazer is reported to be very low.

H. L. Kincaid came in from Ione yesterday.

Those who believe chronic diarrhoea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Gisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Conser & Brook."

Theodore Durrant, convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont, whose fate depends upon the action of the United States supreme court, is reported to be 'breaking down.'

They Are the "Mustard."

Meadows & Hatten, the pioneer blacksmiths, have made some elegant improvements in their establishment and added a large stock of iron, horseshoes and other materials essential to the happiness of those who need quick repairs on their wagons, buggies or any kind of machinery. They have extended their room so as to accommodate everybody in the country who is in need of repairs. When you want a horse shoe, machine repaired, tire set or anything else in their line, you will find Meadows & Hatten to be the boys that can do it—and do it right—in short order.

J. E. Luckey and W. J. Keller, two neighbors, met on the county road, near Port Townsend, and in a quarrel which ensued Luckey was shot and killed by Keller.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headaches, pale skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills but great regulators. For sale by Conser & Brook.

That the wayfaring man may not be denied they have erected a signboard at John Day, indicating the road to Klondike and giving the distance thereto as 8,400 miles.

Small precautions often prevent great mischiefs. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very small pills in size, but are most effective in preventing the most serious forms of liver trouble and stomach troubles. They cure constipation and headache and regulate the bowels. For sale by Conser & Brook.

Waiteburg, Wash., Times: Prof. J. S. Henry, for some years a member of the faculty in the Oregon Normal school at Weston, is in the city, and thinks strongly of locating here. He is a thorough instructor in vocal and instrumental music.

If you have ever seen a little child in a paroxysm of hooping cough, or if you have been annoyed by a constant tickling in the throat, you can appreciate the value of One Minute Cough Cure, which gives quick relief. Sold by Conser & Brook.

The Dalles T.-M.: Congressman W. R. Ellis and wife are visitors in the city today, having arrived on last evening's train from Portland. Mr. Ellis has been in demand among our local politicians today, but as he is here for pleasure—to attend the district fair—much of his time has been consumed in visiting the pavilion and grounds, consequently he has had little leisure to devote to his friends.

THE OYSTER'S ENEMY.

Great Destruction in the Delaware Bay Beds by the "Borer."

The "borer," a pest about the size of a small strawberry, is working great havoc among the oyster beds in Delaware bay and tributary streams, says the Philadelphia Ledger.

Capt. Moses Veale, of the oyster schooner White Lily, says that the destructive powers of the "borer" have been known to oystermen only a few years. He had followed oyster digging for nearly thirty-five years, and the first "borer" he saw was about ten years ago, but his ravages in the oyster beds were comparatively unnoticed until last year.

Capt. Veale said that "last year the number of dead oysters with holes made by borers in the shell became so great that oystermen were alarmed. This year the work of the borers has become a grave matter, and if it continues many beds will be depopulated of oysters. From one bed we dredged on this trip we got twelve hundred baskets of oysters, but out of these only two hundred were good, the dead oysters having been killed by borers. A peculiar thing about the ravages of the 'borers' is their apparent selection of the best oyster beds. We have found this to be true several times this season. We have found a bed of small oysters almost entirely free from 'borers.' This bed will be separated from another bed of larger oysters by two hundred feet, but this latter bed will be so badly affected by the creatures that it will hardly pay to work it."

"From what I can learn from oystermen the destruction wrought by borers is much more severe in Delaware bay than in other places."

"The work of the borer this year makes a double misfortune, for the oyster beds were badly damaged by the big storm in August and September. Very few people who are not in the oyster dredging business know anything of the methods of the borer. When I first took notice of its work I secured several oysters just after the borer had fastened itself to the shell. When the borer fastens itself it holds on like a leech, and it is with difficulty that it can be removed with the fingers."

"Sometimes the borer fastens itself to the oyster shell near the edge and then the oyster is not killed. When the hole of the borer is made near the center of the shell the oyster is attacked in its vital parts and dies in three or four days after the hole is first made."

Some of the bed-owners near Maurice river have lost large sums of money this year on account of the borer. All oystermen say there can be no way of taking away the borer without destroying the oyster beds.

FUTURE OF ALUMINUM.

Roofs for Houses and Hulls for Vessels Sure to Be Made of It.

Aluminum, which itself possesses a high degree of specific heat, does not really absorb heat itself, and thus is not liable to the chief objection to iron buildings in hot countries. But apart from light decorative purposes, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, such as balconies, cupolas, finials and verandas, it is as a roofing material that aluminum should be most welcome to the builder. In plates or scales, two-thirds lighter than copper, uncorroded by air and undimmed even by the sulphur of London smoke, it should make a roof fit for a palace of romance.

The humbler elements of health and comfort in the house hardly less important than its external defenses against the weather—pipes, cisterns, taps and gutters, now made of iron which rusts, or lead which poisons—would be more enduring and far more healthily if made of this light and clean metal, which might also take the place of all water-holding vessels now made of heavy, brittle earthenware or painted tin. An aluminum bath is among the probable luxuries of the next century. But it is not as a mere accessory to comfort and convenience that real development of the new metal should lie. It is for use at sea that its most marked quality of lightness obviously fits it.

The marine engineer and the naval architect, who are already looking in this direction for a reduction of the weight which is inseparable from loss of efficacy, whether in speed or cargo, cannot neglect the possibilities of a metal, which, when mixed in the proportion of one to fifty, gives to aluminum-bronze a hardness and toughness which makes it almost as reliable as steel, and which, if the proportions could be reversed and the strength preserved, would reduce the weight of ships and machinery alike by two-thirds. That is a problem which awaits the metallurgist for solution. The reduction in cost, judging by analogy, can only be a question of time and research.

The best steel now costs little more than one-half penny per pound, while aluminum is fifty times that price. But aluminum exists in far greater quantities than iron, is more widely distributed, and neither the limits of time nor the history of metallurgy forbid us to conjecture that, as the world has seen its age of stone, its age of bronze and its age of iron, so it may before long have embarked on a new and even more prosperous age of aluminum.

THEY LOST THE WRONG MEN.

It Was Only the Good Sailors Who Deserted the Foreign Boats.

The number of desertions that actually occurred while the foreign ships of war were here has not been published, but since no complaint has been heard from the commanders generally the number cannot have been large. Down at Old Point Comfort, just as the ships were weighing anchor to move up to this city, a reporter of the New York news asked the captain of one of the English ships how many men he lost in Virginia.

"Only four, sir," said the captain, "but they were the wrong four. When we dropped anchor here I called up a number of men that I had had my eyes on for a long time, and I said to them: 'Look here, I said, you're a bad lot. You're always making trouble aboard ship. I'll tell you what I'll do with you. I'll give you five shillings apiece if you'll cut and run when you go ashore here.'"

"That's what I said to them, but they're with me yet. You can't get rid of bad pennies like them. They'd rather stay and stir up mischief. It's the good men that we lost, and more of them take French leave in New York. It's the ambitious, push-ahead fellows who think they'll get to be Viceroyalties if they have half a chance—these are the kind that turn up missing every time."

LUNG TROUBLES AND CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished chemist, T. A. Slocum, of New York City, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis), bronchial, lung and chest troubles, stubborn coughs, asthmal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discoveries to any afflicted reader of this paper writing for them.

His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patiently experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. He has ascertained that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate as proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

The dread Consumption, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death. Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, giving post office and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent direct from his laboratory.

Sufferers should take instant advantage of his generous proposition.
