The Ontlook will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty-seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments The Outlook gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; furnishee cheerful table-talk about men and things; and, in short, sime to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Beginning with the fifty fifth volume the paper will assume the regular magasine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. The Outlook is published every Saturdayfifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month is an Illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages as the ordinary issues, together with a large number of pictures.

The price of The Outlook is three dollars a year in advance, or less than a

McClure's Magazine For 1897 GREAT SER1ALS SEVEN

A New Life of Grant by HAMLIN GARLAND. The first authoritative and adequate Life of Grant ever published. (Begins in December.) Rudyard Kipling's first American serial, "Captains Courageons." (Begun in November.)

Robert Louis Stevenson's "St. Ives." The only novel of Stevenson's still unpublished (Begins in May.)

Charles A. Dana. "Recollections of War Time." Mr. Dana was for three of the most critical years of the Civil War practically a member of Lincoin's Cabinet, and is probably better fitted than any other man living to give an authoritative history of this period from his recollections and correspondence. Portraits of Great Americans. Many of them unpublished. In connection with this series of portraits it is intended to publish special biographical studies under the general title of MAKERS OF THE UNION from Washington to Lincoln.

Pictures of Palestine. Specially taken under the editor's direction.

Stories of Adventure. A serial by CONAN DOYLE, in which he will use his extraordinary talent for mystery and ingenuity which have, in the "Sherlock Holmes" stories, given him a place beside Poe and Gaboriau.

TEN FAMOUS WRITERS

WEEKLY The MONTHLY IAN MACLAREN, All the fiction that he will write during the coming year, with the exception of two contributions to another publication which were engaged from him long ago, will appear in McClurg's Magazing. OEL CHANDLER HARRIS. A series of new animal stories in the Rabbit" and the "Little Mr. Thimblefinger" stories.

RUDYARD KIPLING. Besides "Captains Courageous." Kipling will contribute to McClure's all of the short stories he will write during the coming year. OCTAVE THANET is preparing for the MAGAZINE a series of short stories in which the sam characters will appear, although each will be complete in itself. Bret Harte Robert Barr

Anthony Hope Frank R. Stockton Stanley Weyman Clark Russell will all have stories in McCLURE's for the coming year.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Oregonian devoted a column yesterday to asking Congressman Ellis what he would do if Mexico or Bolivia or the South American states would join the United States in adopting bimetallism. The Oregonian does not want to be answered by Mr. Ellis, because no answer he could make would satisfy it, and the senile drivel it is indulging in is simply unanswerable, because senseless. The only answer Mr. Ellis could make would be that "Upon the happening of any of these pending and threatened events, I would do whatever the Oregonian dictated."-The Dalles Chron-
