SOME OF OUR TROUBLES.

Members of the Craft Must Meet in the Stony Path to Fame.

We have a friend who is somewhat of a joker. A collection against him was placed in the hands of an attorney which was promptly paid. In the course of two or three months the party to whom the secount was owing wrote our friend stating that though he was aware the money had been paid to the attorney yet that the friend proceed to punch up the neglected lawyer. The reply was brief: "Punching up will do so good. I presume that it cost you ten per cent. to make the collection. If you will give TLES (all different) of his New Disme fifteen per cent. I will collect same back for you." He was assured that there was a likelihood of it costing twenty-five per cent. more to collect from him, but that the scribe had $4,000 to $5,000 worth of accounts that he would be glad to give fifteen per cent. if that would insure collection.
