WEEKLY The MONTHLY

Published Every Saturday

13 Astor Place New York

The Outlook will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty-seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments The Outlook gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; furnishes cheerful table-talk about men and things: and, in short, sims to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Beginning with the fifty fifth volume, the paper will assume the regular magaine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. The Outlook is published every Saturdayfifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month is an Illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages as the ordinary issues, together with a large number of pictures,

PRESS COMMENT.

The Lantern, Wm. Chapman's new paper, is taking up the school book question - denouncing the American Book Company. While the average citizen dislikes public monopoly in any form, he does not care to be taxed for the consolation of "downing the monopoly," and if the American Book Company's publications are dispensed with, new books must be purchased. Those now in use give general satisfaction and a "reform" that means cash out to the head of the family will meet with little favor .- Corvalis Gazette.

The East Oregonian is informed by the "Lantern," a weekly paper published in Portland, which does not hide its light, that "General H. B. Compson is spoken of in political circles as the strongest man the democratic party can put forth in the gubernatorial race, and it is a fact that he is being mentioned surprisingly often in relation to that position." Mentioned by whom? Himself and those he prompts. General Compson has the office-seeking disease. He is not fit to be a candidate for governot or deserving of election. No man is who makes a business of feeding from the trough of office.- East Oregonian.

State Superintendent of Schools G M. Irwin, is reported to have been sharply criticised at the meeting of the de partment of school superintendents, in connection with the state teacher's seaociation which recently met in Portland. The wholesale issuing of state diplomas during the last few years is condemned by the superintendents and the office of state superintendent at Salem is referred to as "a diploma grinding machine." The superintendents deserve derful medical discovery of the age, plea are and refreshing to the taste, act goot abuses of the department and condemning the slip-shod methods in vogue G.
