

A REPUBLICAN.

There is much discussion being indulged in at present in certain quarters as to what constitutes a republican, and to one who views the situation from an unbiased standpoint, the bulk of what is being said appears to be the merest rot. A very few, wise in their own conceit, and not, capable of taking a broad view in regard to the matter, say that a man is not a republican and should not be considered as such, unless he stands unequivocally and flat footedly for the gold standard. This is the all in all, the sum total of their idea of what constitutes a republican. While on the other hand there are those who hold that unless a man accepts the free silver idea, in totum, he is not a good republican, and should be kicked from the ranks. Such talk as this is nonsense. The money question is of great importance, and should be speedily and forever settled, but it is only one of the great questions—was only one of the many great principles of the St. Louis platform, and a man's loyalty to the party and his right to be called a republican should not be questioned on this one issue alone.

The Gazette considers a man who voted for Wm. McKinley and accepts the principles of the St. Louis platform, a good republican, and entitled to recognition as such. No man has a right to question his republicanism. The acceptance of the gold standard coupled with free trade does not make a man a republican.

It might not be out of place here to state that the Gazette believes that the members of a legislature are elected to serve the people, and this they can only do by qualifying for the office and taking their seats at the appointed time. We also believe that when a majority of the votes of a legislature are in favor of a certain man for U. S. senator, he should be elected, regardless of politics, and such election should not be prevented or hindered by a mere handful of men who have nothing but their own selfish ends to serve. Some of those men who were elected as republicans, but used their efforts in defeating the desires of the republican party by holding up the legislature last winter, are now making themselves heard in the land, raising a great cry about what constitutes a republican. Some of these fellows may have political aspirations, but should they come before the people, we opine they will be surprised at the number of votes they won't get. They deserve to be put far beneath the clouds of political contempt, there to remain until they have purged themselves of their political trickery and unworthiness.

The nomination of John W. Griggs, of New Jersey, has been confirmed by the senate and that gentleman is now attorney general of the United States.

The populists of Georgia will put up Tom Watson for governor and as they have a pretty good majority in that state, will doubtless elect him, and thus in a small way cause some of the wounds received in the last presidential campaign to be healed.

Rev. C. O. Browns, the preacher who has been before the Bay conference of the Congregational church in California, on trial for immorality, has confessed his guilt of being intimate with Miss Mattie Overman as charged. The conference has dropped him from the roll, but he says he will still continue to preach.

The deadlock in the Maryland legislature was broken Tuesday by the election to the United States senate of Judge Louis E. McComas to succeed A. P. Gorman. It is gratifying to republicans all over the country to know that this legislature, sufficiently republican to elect a senator easily, did not quibble away its time, but at last agreed upon a good man and elected him. It was beginning to look like the opportunity of having a republican represent that state in the U. S. senate was going to be lost because of the apparent impossibility of getting the republicans to unite on a single candidate.

BOSTON'S GREAT PREACHER.

The Rev. J. B. Brady, D. D., Advises His Many Parishioners to Take Paine's Celery Compound.

The Rev. James Boyd Brady, pastor of the People's Temple, in Boston, presides over the destinies of the largest Methodist church in the country. Big, candid, Scotch-Irishman that he is, Dr. Brady has built up the Temple financially and numerically, and today he is the pastor of a flock of 1700. Dr. Brady devotes himself with unflinching courage to anything he undertakes. The chief characteristic of his ministry has been progress, in number, financial condition and moral and spiritual growth. He is a man of plain, but vigorous words. So much has been said and written about Dr. Brady—his work, his progressive methods, his eloquence and his power as a minister, that the following letter from him will be convincing and helpful to many persons besides the large number who are every Sunday influenced for good by his powerful preaching. He writes:

Boston, Sept. 27, 1897. Paine's celery compound, if widely and wisely used, would relieve nervousness, soothe restlessness, reduce sickness, strengthen the body, invigorate the mind, and add years of happiness to life.

James Boyd Brady, Pastor People's Temple. The man or woman who does not take time to get well will sooner or later have to take time to be ill.

DAVID DUNNE, of Portland, has been appointed by the president to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Oregon. A hard fight was made by Senator Wilson, of Washington, to get a man from that state appointed to this important position, and the Oregon delegation are much gratified that a man from our own state has secured the plum.

Well Children that are not very robust need a warming, building and fat-forming food—something to be used for two or three months in the fall—that they may not suffer from cold.

SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda supplies exactly what they want. They will thrive, grow strong and be well all winter on this splendid food tonic. Nearly all of them become very fond of it. For adults who are not very strong, a course of treatment with the Emulsion for a couple of months in the fall will put them through the winter in first-class condition. Ask your doctor about this.

Many live under the needless affliction of indigestion, nervousness, constipation, and general weakness, and endure the consequent loss of health without considering how easily the cause of all this illness might be remedied. Needful nerve and tissue nourishment is at the bottom of all permanent building up of the body.

Paine's celery compound looks out for the insidious weakening of the nervous system through malnutrition. It gives a healthy tone to the stomach, increases the blood supply, quiets and equalizes the irritated nerve action and promptly feeds the tissues when the bodily vigor is at its lowest ebb, and should not be further taxed.

The only cure, therefore, for rheumatism, neuralgia or general debility that is lasting in its good effects must rest on a radical cleansing of the blood and a building up of the nervous tissues. All this is best done by Paine's celery compound, because this remarkable remedy begins at the beginning, wherever there is disease, and establishes the health firmly and beyond any fear of falling back.

The worn-out person who cannot sleep should take Paine's celery compound. It is folly to imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained. Nothing undermines health and energy like loss of sleep. The nervous system suffers as much from lack of sleep as from lack of nourishment. Both may be supplied and a healthy condition insured by using Paine's celery compound. The stay and stiff of sound health is well nourished and well regulated nerves. Sufferers from sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia or headache may be sure that every reservoir of nerve force has been tapped and exhausted by work, worry, too little sleep, or faulty nourishment, because of poor indigestion and assimilation. As soon as such signs of nervous exhaustion are noticed, shaky hands, broken sleep, poor appetite, wasting diseases, neuralgia or dyspepsia, take advantage of the remarkable restorative and regulating action of Paine's celery compound.

Nervous disorders increase in a sort of compound ratio. It is a thousand times easier to put a stop to nervous debility in its earlier stages than later on to correct nerve and brain exhaustion, that may be compounded by heart, kidney or some other organic trouble. Paine's celery compound must not be confounded with any of the plausible sounding, but really temporary make-shifts, whose cures are never permanent nor thorough going, and only bring deferred hopes that make the heart sick.

Paine's celery compound is the greatest nerve and brain invigorator and most reliable blood purifier the world has ever been blessed with.

NOTES FROM SOCIAL RIDGE

The health of the Ridge was never better. A. A. Willis has his wood pile about sawed up. Politics are spoken of occasionally on the Ridge. C. N. Peck's family are now convalescing after a tussle with the measles. The Gazette seems to be the official paper for the coming year. Luck to you Pat. Social Ridge Sabbath school is in good running order with a number of good teachers. Rev. Beach, of North Dakota, will preach at the Eskelson schoolhouse every two weeks. He is a fine speaker. Come out and hear him. Joseph Eskelson is an extensive farmer and wants nine months school now, instead of three months as under the democratic administration. Eph Eskelson has in a big acreage of wheat which is now up and looking fine. Social Ridge has in the largest crop this season of its history and big returns are expected. James Brown and his brother David visited Portland a short time since and while here purchased a complete outfit of blacksmith tools. They now have a nice shop ready for business. Ralph Benge has out a large crop which we are sure looks well. Ralph makes weekly trips into an adjoining neighborhood where he seems to have pressing business, but never fails to reach home for breakfast next morning. We staffer, one of the Ridge's staunch republicans, has lately returned from an extended visit with his mother and other relatives in Nebraska. He disapproved a good many of his friends and neighbors as they expected he would bring a lady friend out with him. However, when he threatens the three or four hundred acres of wheat that is now growing, he may surprise us. The republican club met in Lexington last Saturday and elected officers for another term. Some did not get to join the club that attended the meeting for that purpose, but why we cannot say. As some one that was there, from what we can find out there was a tendency to close the meeting at the first opportunity. W. F. Social Ridge, Jan. 26, '98. Ladies, take the best, if you are troubled with constipation, sallow skin, and a tired feeling, take Karl's Chlores. It is pleasant to take. Sold by Conner & Brook.
