WEEKLY The MONTHLY

Published Every Saturday

New York 13 Astor Place

The Outlook will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments The Rates. Ontlook gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; fornishes cheerful table-talk about men and things; and, in short, aims to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Beginning with the fifty fifth volume, the paper will assume the regular magazine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. The Outlook is published every Saturday fifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month is an Illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages se the ordinary issues, together with a large number of pictures.

The price of The Outlook is three dollars a year in sdvance, or less than a cent a day.

For the purpose of advertising to the world these resources, the above commission has been appointed to devise ways and means to have our state represented at the Trans-Mississippi and

The exposition is primarily intended to embrace the industrial resources of the states west of the Mississippi river, but eastern states, the British colonies, Mexico and Central and South American republics will participate, and many eastern governments will be represented. The buildings and grounds and the arrangements will make the exposition in extent and completeness second only to the World's Columbian vest their accumulated wealth.

Therefore we give briefly the plan which the commission has adopted to accomplish this end, which is as follows: In the absence of a state appropriation for the purpose of making an Oregon exibit at Omaha, the commission must rely upon the voluntary contribution of the public spirited people. The commission has made a careful estimate of the cost of an exhibit, and find that it can be carried successfully with the sum of $20,000. It is a foregone conclusion that the legislature of 1899, with the business sentiment of the state at its back, will it is a struggle for the preservation of redeem these certificates at their face

On this basis the commission will at an early date solicit subscriptions throughout the state. Certificates signed by its officers will be given for the amount subscribed, the total issue of such certificates and the expenditures thereupon not to exceed the When the legislature makes an appropriation to reimburse the subscrip-
