Army and Navy to Co-Operate at Once.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The cabinet at a meeting this afternoon discussed a number of questions all of which involve immediate hostilities. The question of war was considered, but it is understood it is unlikely that any formal declaration will be made at once.

The North Atlantic squadron is officially stated to have sailed for Havana, which harbor will be blockaded immediately. Nothing is ascertainable regarding the flying squadron.

The troops will co-operate with the navy as soon as consentrated. Ten days, it is expected, will be necessary to consentrate the troops at Key West. As soon as congress passes the army bill the president will call for 100,000 men. Eighty thousand will aid the regulars in the Cuban operations, and 20,000 men will man the sea cost artilery.

The navy department is advised that an official note issued at Madrid says the Spanish squadron has left the Cape Verdes to meet the American fleet in Cuban waters.

Both the United States and Spanish governments consider that although war has not been officially declared by either, a state of war some legal matters before the circuit exists, and the opening of hostilities will occur as soon as the hostile court. fleets and armies can be brought together.

In taking this step the United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over the island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination that when that is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people under such free and independent government as they may establish.
