IT ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

Why Some of Our Best Citizens are Interested.

It is said that if you wish to interest a man show him that you have something to sell that will make him money. Then how much greater must be the attraction when you place every individual in possession of a plan that not only makes him money, as an investment, but actually protects the family in case of death. If it is a plan, comprehensive plan over which there is no litigation, and where lawyers and courts can have no opportunity to work thereupon, so much the better.

Col. Walker, formerly of Kentucky, but late of San Francisco, representing the Mutual Life of New York, has just such a proposition as will bond policy, and it is said to be one of the finest plans of insurance ever presented. At least that is the judgment of such citizens as Elias Wright, who has taken $5000. Anon Wright, with $2000. Mr. A. Wright, of Astoria, Frank Gilliam, John M. Day and D. O. Justice and wife, all of whom are investors in the Col.'s gold bond policy. Many others could be added to the list, but this is not necessary.

The Col. will remain in Heppner for a brief period and intends to give all an opportunity to take out one of the new policies. No one will be slighted.

Money Found.

BOTH SIDES REPRESENTED.

Republicans and Fusion Speaking in Heppner on Last Saturday Evening.

Mr. Miles S. Johnson, a young attorney of Portland, campaigned Morrow county last week in the interest of the republican ticket, speaking at Hardman on Friday evening, and at Heppner on Saturday evening. He was greeted by a fair audience at the latter place and was closely listened to throughout his entire address one of hour. It was replete with unanswerable arguments in favor of the republican platform, and was the means of doing good, because Mr. Johnson does not appeal to his audience for applause by soundly abusing the opposition.

Mr. Johnson spoke at Lexington yesterday and at Ione last night, and was greeted with splendid crowds at both places. His audience at Hardman was also of pretty good dimensions, considering the number of voters in the precinct.

Mr. Johnson will probably remain a part of this week and assist the local ticket in their final canvass.

FURIOUS ADDRESS.

Hon. S. S. Howard, of Minnesota, addressed the citizens of Heppner, or at least quite a sprinkling of those who did not attend Mr. Johnson's meeting, in a most eloquent and interesting manner. He listened to attentively but presented nothing out of the ordinary line. He is a good talker and holds a crowd.

After the meeting a number of Mr. Howard's audience dropped in on the republicans and remained until the close of the speaking.

Mr. Howard left on the evening train.

An Ancient Custom.

From Republican Traveler, Arkansas City, Kan. Pilgrimages to some shrine of St. Vitus, to cure the disease known as St. Vitus' dance are no longer made. The modern way of treating this affliction is within reach of everyone, as is shown by the experience of Karl A. Wagner, the eleven-year-old son of Geo. Wagner, of 515 9th St., Arkansas City, Kan. The father tells the story.

"Over a year ago," he says, "Karl was taken with St. Vitus' dance and continued to grow worse during five months he was under a physician's care. His tongue became paralyzed and we could not understand a word he said. He became very thin, lost the use of his right leg and seemed doomed to become a hopeless invalid. We had about given up hope when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to my wife by a lady whose daughter had been cured of a similar affliction by the pills.

"I bought a box of them at once and soon noticed a change for the better in Karl's condition. It was so well pleased that I got more of them, and when he had taken five boxes a hopeless invalid, the disease disappeared.

"That was six months ago and there has been no return of the disease. The cure was efficient and permanent, and I feel satisfied that no other medicine could have produced so marvelous a restoration. We feel rejoiced over the restoration of our son, and cannot help but feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the most remarkable medicine on the market.

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to mankind as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the system, restoring the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

These pills are sold in boxes of 50 cents a box or six boxes for $3.00, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Occur at the Opera House on Last Friday Evening—goodly Number Present.

The commencement exercises at the opera house on last Friday evening, May 27, 1898, were witnessed by a large number of our citizens, representing the parents and friends of the participants.

The programme was excellently arranged, and was very interesting throughout, all participating doing themselves great credit. The Gazette has the honor to state that the merits of the efforts of those who assisted in instrumental and vocal music, or otherwise. Suffice to say, that this is the largest class ever graduated out of the Heppner high school, and it seemed that everything was auspicious for the young people who participated on that evening. Everyone received numerous bouquets from friends or relatives in the audience, and in addition, Willie Smith was the recipient of a splendid diamond ring of which he is justly proud.

Judge Lowell's address was splendidly appreciated, and he has the thanks of every friend of the school for the interest manifested.

The program rendered was as follows: Instrumental solo, "Old Black Joe," Mrs. Herbert Bartholomew. Address, Judge S. A. Lowell. Oration, "The Title of Progression," Dollie Rush. Chorus, "From Sea to Sea," school. Oration, "Cuba," Willie Smith. Oration, "Advertisement," Flora Farnsworth. Male quartette, "The Goblins'll Get You If You Don't Watch Out," Messrs. E. L. Aker, M. B. Aker, W. C. Howard, J. M. Howard, M. B. Halloway. Poem, "The Seven Roads," Ethel Walbridge. Oration, "Beyond the Alps Lies Thine Italy," Mabel Herron. Chorus, "We Come With Songs," Select Orotic. Valedictory, Mamie Farnsworth. Presentation of diplomas, president of board, address to class, W. C. Howard, principal. Class song. Benediction, Rev. Shelley.

THE DECADE OF PROGRESS.

A Few Thoughts That are Suggested by the Modern Use of Medicines.

The last decade of all others has proven to be the banner one of the century. Every department of civilization has made advances that cannot be compared in common percentages. Its proper computation is a mathematical way is entirely out of the question, and the writer or speaker is left to encapsulate the great growth as best he can in words. It is beyond the power of imagination, try the best we can to comprehend it.

The invention or application of steam in locomotion and in the great monsters of energy which drive our factories and mills were wonderful, but the power of steam was known to the ancients, even to the Chinese. The use of electricity, or at least something of its great power, was understood by philosophers of centuries back, and was hatched by Benjamin Franklin as a coachman drives his team by reins, more than a century and one-half ago. And yet its practical value became evident to Edison, Bell and others not more than twenty-five years ago. We see that the rapid progress has been made in the last twenty years.

In the application of medicines, there has been greater progress than in either line above mentioned, because the use and application of modern remedies was little known until comparatively a few years ago. The time was when the patient was dragged to death in experiments. The symptoms were of little value as a guide to the necessary treatment. A diagnosis of a case and the scientific application of medicines was unknown and consequently not used. All physicians now agree that the old methods of "guess" is wrong, but some still adhere to the indiscriminate use of drugs worse than the actual disease.

Dr. Margaret Garcesy uses nature's remedies, medicines made from herbs and plants. If they don't cure they don't kill. But she rarely fails to help and thousands bless her for her good work.

She charges for her medicines, only, and not for any services she might render. She attend only to the country. Office two doors south of the Palace hotel.

To Cure Constipation Forever, She uses the Candy Cathartic. See the ad. It is the only pure, druggists refuse to sell.
