Big Strawberry Shipments.

The strawberry harvest is ended and the grop was better than the average. Prices, so far as returns have been received, are satisfactory, says the Hood River Glacier. At no time during the rush were there pickers enough to pick the patches clean, and the week of hot brought the shipments to a close with thousands of crates of over-ripe berries on the vines. The first part of the season was all that could be wished for, and the fruit was fine. The shipments more than doubled those of any previous year, and would have easily reached 50,-SLEEPERS 000 crates had the weather continued favorable two weeks longer. Shipments for the season were 36,591 crates.
