PAGUES' CROP BULLETIN.

The Hay Crop Throughout the State Continuing Well Under Way.

The following was the report of B. S. Pague, Oregon director of the United States meteorological bureau, for the week ending July 11:

Haying has been in progress during the week in all sections of the state. The weather has been ideal and the greater portion of the hay has been cut; by the close of the current week, practically all the hay will be secured.

Harvesting of fall sown wheat has commenced, and the coming week will find the fall sown grain harvest well advanced, except over the plateau region.

Harvesting of oats, barley and rye is in progress in some sections, and will become general the coming week. Spring sown wheat is making a good and rapid growth.

Many correspondents are of the opinion that spring sown wheat will make as good a crop as the fall sown. The wheat already harvested has a plump berry, the heads are large and well filled.

Wheat aphid is reported from many sections west of the Cascades, but damage from it is not expected. Cherries continue to be plentiful. Early peaches are ripening rapidly and are being shipped in large quantities.

The first ripe peaches this year came from about Blackfoot, Gilliam county, in the Columbia river valley. The fruit prospects continue to be excellent; all reports indicate that the trees are filled to overbearing, and more hand pruning will have to be done.

The summer weather conditions have set in. From now until autumn, when the first winter type appears, the weather will be more likely fair than rainy; showers produced by the great mass of moisture-laden air, moving from the ocean on the southwest and cooling the air over the land, may occasionally occur.

These masses of air, called areas of barometric pressure, move at irregular intervals, usually, however, at intervals of six days. Rain is also probable from thunder storms; such occur more over the plateau region than elsewhere. Rain from storm areas will not occur until autumn.

THE MEAN TEMPERATURE for the week averaged 71 degrees, which is eight higher than the preceding week and seven higher than for the corresponding week of last year.

The highest temperature for the week was 102, Sunday, in the Columbia river valley; in this valley the maximum temperature for the week averaged 90, while over the plateau region it averaged 83.

Saturday thunder storms occurred, giving from .02 to .10 of an inch of rain. The harvest of fall sown wheat has commenced, with yield fully up to the most sanguine expectations; the berry is unusually large and plump. The warm weather has caused the fall sown grain to ripen rapidly. The hot, dry weather has not been favorable to the spring sown and volunteer wheat, though no injury has so far resulted.

Oats and barley are ripening rapidly. The hay harvest has been active and excellent crops obtained. The fall sown grain is now beyond injury; the spring sown can be only slightly injured, and that from hot northerly winds.

Fruit continues to promise large yields. Early peaches are ripening, and are being shipped. Apples, prunes, pears, etc., continue to promise large yields.

There are no adverse reports concerning any products, but all are most favorable, and a successful harvest appears to be assured.

TWO MILLIONS A YEAR. When people buy, try, and buy again, it means they're satisfied. The people of the United States are now buying Cascades Candy Cathartic at the rate of two million boxes a year and it will be three million before New Year's.

It means merit proved that Cascades are the most delightful bowel regulator for everybody the year round. All druggists 10c, 25c, 50c a box, guaranteed.

Robbed the Grease. A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pale continually in back and sides, no appetite--gradually growing weaker day by day."

Fortunately, a friend advised trying "Electric Bitters," and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and now I am well. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at E. J. Sperry's drug store.
