

THE HISTORY OF HEPPNER. The History of Heppner and Morrow County, as issued from the Gazette office yesterday, has received much favorable comment from the business men of this city.

THE NEWS FROM GENERAL MILES continues good. More than half of Porto Rico is already in his possession and he is steadily extending his lines, without fighting.

AS AN additional proof that Americans always keep near the head of the procession, whether they are engaged in fighting with deadly weapons or in the struggle for the almighty dollar, it may be mentioned that applications for authority to establish national banks in the following places have been filed at the treasury department: Honolulu, Havana, San Juan, Porto Rico, and Manila.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY gave the two Cincinnati boys who started the idea of raising, by contributions from school children, the money to buy the finest battleship in the world, for presentation to the United States, and to be named the "American Boy", a letter endorsing their project, and saying: "I am sure the boys and girls will deem it a privilege to be numbered among the contributors to this patriotic undertaking."

THE total amount of subscriptions to the war bonds was $1,365,000,000, and would doubtless have been twice as large had not the certainty that they would not get any prevented many large financial concerns from offering to take big blocks of the bonds. The meaning of this offer of our own citizens to loan the government one billion, three hundred and sixty-five million dollars, at three per cent interest, will be more appreciated in Europe than among ourselves—we required no such proof of the patriotism of our people.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY is so confident from the assurances he has received that the Spanish government will, as soon as it can with safety to itself, formally accept our terms of peace, that he is devoting considerable time to deciding upon just the right man to represent the United States upon the commission that will be charged with the important and delicate duty of negotiating the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain. Notwithstanding his confidence, there is a limit to the time he is willing to give the Spanish government to square itself with the people of Spain. And the French ambassador, who is representing Spain in Washington, has been told that unless the terms of peace are accepted in a given time, they will be withdrawn, and that if they are withdrawn it is intended by this government to carry the war into Spain at once, and that no such magnanimous terms will be again offered.

Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cassell's Candy Cakes clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin today to wash your face, neck, hands, and feet with this beautifying cream, and you will see the difference. It is a popular skin remedy.

SURRENDER OF THE SLAYER

Ollie Puyear, who Killed the Spanish Camp-Tender, Comes to Heppner and Surrenders.

A MILD, BLUE-EYED AMERICAN BOY He in No Manner Displays the Characteristics of a Criminal—Keenly Deplores the Unfortunate Affair.

Yesterday morning, learning that the slayer of the Spanish sheep-camp tender had reached town the evening previous for the purpose of delivering himself up to the authorities, and that he was yet at liberty, the editor of the Gazette succeeded in locating him, and by request repaired to the editorial room of the office.

a touching illustration of the devotion of Americans to each other, in their hour of need. The boy left on the evening train for the home of his sister, where he will remain until he is wanted when the term of court is called, and there is not a man to whom that boy extended his hands in gratitude but what could read in the depths of his honest eyes, the promise that he would lay down his life before he would betray their confidence by not returning at the appointed time.

The coroner's inquest. Coroner Hunlock summoned a jury at Ditch creek, composed of Art Minor, Dave McAtee, W. H. Row, J. H. Richardson, O. Montgomery and Ed. Bartholomew, Wednesday, and going to the head of Alder creek, about one mile south-east of Black Butte, held an inquest over the remains of the dead Spaniard, their verdict being that he came to his death from the effects of a gunshot wound, inflicted by parties unknown to the jury, but supposed to be the self-confessed boy Ollie Puyear. They found the remains in a bad state of decomposition, and after making a satisfactory examination entrusted the responsibility of burial to men who were hired for that purpose. A coffin had been taken from here by Joe Hayes, and after the body had been secured in it a grave was prepared and the remains interred on the spot.

Bold Bad Burglars. "The gray and festive burglar has been lurking around" the town. The last visit on record was paid the saloon owned by Lee Kilburn and Chas. Mattoon. Sometime during Tuesday night a window in the rear was pried open, and the burglars succeeded in opening the safe, extracting therefrom $75.50, making their exit through the back door and leaving it open. The "artist" doing the act seems to be someone who was familiar not only with the premises but the combination of the safe. Since then the combination has been changed, and the proprietors have some curiosity to know whether the "crackerjack" will find it easy or not.

Proof of Prosperity. In just one week's time the Spaulding Manufacturing company, of Grinnell, Iowa, have succeeded in disposing of 34 hawks and 6 bugles in the vicinity of Heppner through their agents, Gage, Stevens, Mason and Able. They came here from Walla Walla, and the Palouse country. In the former place they sold 100 vehicles in three weeks' time, which is conclusive evidence of the farmers' faith in the future.

INTERESTING IONE NEWS. Justice of the Peace W. M. Hagwood accompanied by E. J. Keller, of Ione, paid us a visit Wednesday afternoon. They report their little town a lively berg, with everyone in good spirits, anticipating a season of prosperity heretofore unknown to a majority of the ranchers thereabout.

As the season of harvesting is nearing its close the procession of grain-handlers are beginning to line the county roads leading into the town. The business institutions of the town are already taxed to their utmost.

The hotel of the town has opened up under the new management of Mr. M. H. Hunter and wife of Portland. Mr. Hunter has until recently occupied the position at Troutdale as government inspector of meats, and has for years been identified with the most extensive butcher concerns of the metropolis. Ione is exceedingly fortunate in having Mr. Hunter and family identified as residents, and from the personal knowledge of the editor of the Gazette Mr. Hunter's worth and recognized integrity as a business man will not only win for him the support of his immediate neighborhood, but of the entire county.

A Clever Trick. It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents a bottle at Sloan Drug Co's, E. J. Sloan, manager.

Paris Exposition. President McKinley has a proper appreciation of the importance of having a good representation of the United States products at the Paris exposition, and in favor of expending at least $1,000,000 for that purpose. In the midst of the absorbing duties forced upon him by the war, he still finds time to look after the business interests of the country at large, as his attention to this apparently remote details shows.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Forty Horses Killed. And Portland's Hames Office Will Investigate the Matter. Tuesday morning a trainload of horses arrived at the Linton cannery over the O. R. & N., from which was taken 40 dead animals. The Portland Telegram says: They were all small horses and ponies, who lost their lives either through suffocation or crushing. This incident was reported to Chief of Police McLaughlin, who will cause Hames Office Caswell to investigate it. In the event he can make a case against the shippers or the corporation, it will be prosecuted in the courts.

The Linton cannery finds a market for most of its product in Europe, and it stands to reason that its interest lies in raising nothing but pure meat. Hence the company will also find it advantageous to cause its live stock to be shipped in better condition. Later in the day Hames Office Caswell visited the stockyard. The scene before him was absolutely sickening. The dead horses had wounds of nearly every conceivable nature. From some of them—small colts—the entrails were even protruding. Among the lot he found one yet giving a few spasmodic kicks, and that animal he put out of misery with a pistol shot. These animals, dead and alive, were packed in the cars almost as solidly as sardines in a box. How they managed to breathe or to move so as to injure one another is inexplicable.

The shipper of this lot of horses is T. H. McCarthy, of Huntington. An information against him and a warrant for his arrest was issued in Portland Tuesday afternoon.

State News.

J. B. Mumford, of Warren station, Umatilla county, states that he raised 5,900 bushels of wheat from 215 acres on the B. F. Ogilvie place. That is an average of almost 44 bushels to the acre. Thomas Crawford, a miller, who lives near Canyon City, lost his sight one night last week. When he went to bed his sight was good, and in the morning he was stone blind. It is thought that blindness resulted from overwork during the hot weather.

The Dalles is going to have another fair this fall, and it will be an improvement on all former meetings. The fair grounds have been leased for another season, and the management will arrange for a splendid racing program, while there will be special inducements for agricultural exhibits and pavilion displays.

A meager report was brought to Eugene August 10th by the stage driver of a fatal quarrel among Indians at Florence. Three Indians had been drinking heavily during the day. At night they got into a quarrel, and knives were used freely, with the result that one, Bennett by name, was killed, and another was so badly cut that it is not thought he will live. The other Indian was arrested.

The man named Williams, representing Contractor Gardner, who has an elephant on his hands in the Arlington-Fossil mail route, says the Fossil-Journal. While here he received one bid of $5,000 per annum, but as Gardner has it at $1,717 from the government, the Fossilite bid was not accepted. H. D. Randall, of Olex, took the contract at $2,000.

P. H. Stephenson, of Canby, who was appointed administrator of the estate of John Linn, murdered by Claud Branton, has been at Eugene on business connected with the estate. Linn had 160 acres in Gilliam county, 100 head of horses and a $5,000 policy in the Commercial Woodmen insurance. The Woodmen insurance is payable to Linn's legal heirs. A story is current in Gilliam county that Linn married Claude Branton's mother a short time before he started on the fatal trip, but the report has not been verified.

With the exception of an item of $1,900, which is in dispute, Multnomah county is now about square with the state of Oregon financially. The last of the money due the state from the county from the tax of 1897 was remitted to the state treasurer by County Treasurer Hoyt a few days ago, the total amount of this tax being about $13,000. The item of $1,900 in dispute is the result of an order made by the board of equalization upon the valuation of Multnomah county's taxable property. This rate in the valuation was made after the levy had been made by the county assessor, and collections had commenced. The state, therefore, is endeavoring to collect from the county what the county has not collected.—Telegraph.

Rev. Thomas Cochran, father of Professor I. G. Cochran, of Willamette university, died Wednesday evening at 9:45. Deceased was born in Cambridge, Vt., April 19, 1820. He moved to Northern Ohio when a young man and took up the study and practice of medicine, which he followed for several years before entering the ministry. He died at the age of 77 years.

Lowell, Judge of the above entitled court, made this 12th day of August, 1898, at Heppner, Morrow county, Oregon, July 21, 1898.

Did You Take Scott's Emulsion through the winter? If so, we are sure it quieted your cough, healed the rawness in your throat, increased your weight, gave you more color, and made you feel better in every way. But perhaps your cough has come back again, or you are getting a little thin and pale. Then, why not continue the same helpful remedy right through the summer? It will do you as much good as when the weather is cold. Its persistent use will certainly give you a better appetite and a stronger digestion. It will cure your weak throat and heal your inflamed lungs. It will cure every case of consumption, when a cure is possible. Don't be persuaded to take something they say is just as good.
