

Oh, How Thankful

Pain Was Maddening and Hope Had Been Abandoned—Wonderful Results of Purifying the Blood.

"A very severe pain came in my left knee, which grew worse and worse, and finally a sore broke out above the knee. It discharged a great deal and the pain from my thigh down was maddening. Large, hard, purple spots appeared on my leg. I suffered in this way for years, and gave up all hope of ever being cured. My wife was reading of a case like mine cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she advised me to try it. I began taking it and when I had used a few bottles I found relief from my suffering. Oh, how thankful I am for this relief! I am stronger than I have ever been in my life. I am in the best of health, have a good appetite and am a new man altogether." J. P. MOORS, Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Before going to press Marshal Hager informs us that he was informed that Rev. Beauchamp's horse had been located at the ranch of Williams Bros., one mile south of Ione, where it had been sold by the audacious thief. He was unable to recite the particulars, or the apprehension of the rogue.

Assessor A. C. Pettys made us a call yesterday morning, and reports that his assessment work is about complete, and will be in readiness for his successor, J. F. Willis, who takes office the first of January. He predicts a prosperous year in general for the county, and in his rounds among the harvesters, finds the crops fully up to expectation.

The Marquam Grand, on Morrison street in the Marquam building, is under excellent management and the public will be royally entertained this winter. New companies and new faces will appear from time to time at this popular, first-class theatre of Portland, and when in Portland our devotions should not fail to take in some of the fine dramas that will be presented.

It is our duty to impress our readers with the importance of patronizing home concerns. In other columns are sewly constructed advertisements of our local merchants, who invite a comparison of the classes of goods carried by them, and their prices, with the catalogues, circulars and glaring "ads" of concerns foreign to us who take advantage of distance to catch the unwary.

Dr. Vaughan is again with us, arriving from the interior Wednesday night. While away he met the requirements professionally of Monument, Long Creek, Canyon and Prairie Cities. The latter place he pronounces a beautiful little city, and regrets that the surrounding valley is not adjacent to Heppner. The doctor stands ready to shoulder Uncle Sam's burden, on the first day of next month.

C. W. Treeman, special examiner of the bureau of pensions, was in town recently, endeavoring to ferret out, if any, illegality in the execution of pension vouchers. The department complains bitterly of the illegal, lax, indifferent and perfunctory procedure now extant, and propose to institute criminal proceedings against the parties who indulge in these irregular practices throughout the United States.

Mr. J. H. Ogle came to town from Mount Vernon, on the John Day, to meet his wife and son, who have been spending some time at Yaquina bay. Mrs. Ogle is delighted with the bay as a summer resort. Her mother lives but a short distance inland, with whom she visited a portion of the time. Mr. Ogle makes it a point to do his trading in Heppner, notwithstanding the fact that it takes about a week to make the round trip.

Rev. Father A. H. Servais arrived here on yesterday morning's train from Portland, intending to hold services in the Catholic church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, but last night he received a telegram ordering an immediate return to Portland, which will prove a disappointment to his congregation. Father Servais has received the appointment for the coming year for the mission, which embraces Morrow, Grant and Gilliam counties.

Horse Steals.

From J. M. Beauchamp's barn at Lexington, Wednesday night, a sore mare, of 950 to 1,000 pounds, brand 2 on left hip, white star in forehead, newly shod; also Mr. McMillan's bridle and saddle, made by Cornell & Gentry. Information leading to recovery of the property will be suitably rewarded by Rev. Beauchamp, Lexington, Ore.

Dreadfully Nervous.

Gents:—I was dreadfully nervous, and for relief took your Carl's Clover Root Tea. It quieted my nerves and strengthened my whole nervous system. I was troubled with constipation, kidney and bowel trouble. Your Tea soon cleansed my system so thoroughly that I rapidly regained health and strength. Mrs. S. A. Sweet, Hartford, Conn. Sold by Conser & Warren.

A Serious Mishap.

On Tuesday Dr. McSword was called to Parker's Mill to attend Miss Belle Fuqua, who was thrown from a carriage some time since while enroute to camp-meeting. He found her suffering from a dislocation of the hip, which, owing to neglect, had become set, necessitating a very painful relocation. After resting he left the patient resting easy, and predicts no serious consequences retarding a speedy recovery.

Married in Portland.

Judge Bartholomew, who has just returned from Portland, furnishes us with the item of the marriage of our prominent furniture dealer, Mr. George W. Wells, to Miss Jennie McGregor, at the parsonage of the Grace Methodist church at Portland, the first of this week. While it was generally suspected that Mr. Wells would join the ranks of the benedictine before he returned to Heppner, he made no acknowledgement of his intention, and it is possible to those outside the list of intimate acquaintances, the announcement will prove a surprise. While we were not personally acquainted with the bride, we take into consideration the esteem with which she is held by the community where she, as captain of the Salvation Army, commanded the respect due to one of her intelligence and refinement, endeavoring to fulfill the worthy mission of bettering the condition of unfortunate humanity. The Gazette takes the responsibility of tendering Mr. and Mrs. Wells, in behalf of the community, their best wishes and a cordial welcome home.

An Important Wedding.

A very quiet wedding took place Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the residence of E. J. Slocum, the contracting parties being Mr. Benj. Parker and Miss Ada Jones. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Fleisher, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Meadows, Mrs. A. M. Slocum, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Slocum, Misses Myrtle Horner and Thresa Fleisher. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, and the ceremony was preceded with an appropriate wedding march, by Miss Horner. As husband and wife, the happy couple were escorted to the dining room, where an elegant lunch had been prepared in honor of the occasion, and, surrounded by the friends present, they were brought to a true realization of the happiness in store for them. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Parker drove to their future home at Parker's mill. The bride, a most estimable lady, has endeared herself to the community as a teacher in Heppner's public schools for seven years. Uncle Ben's enterprise and worth to the community is thoroughly recognized, and we all unite in wishing them all the happiness to which they are entitled.

A Prominent Visitor.

State Superintendent of Schools J. H. Ackerman came in on Tuesday morning's stage, and, as chief instructor during the session of the teachers' institute, will remain until Saturday night. The business men of our town and others who contributed to the handsome majority given Professor Ackerman, as they form his acquaintances, are decidedly outspoken in appreciation of his qualification for the position to which they elected him. In addition to his scholarly attainments, the professor's faculty of getting immediately in touch with mankind regardless of their calling or station in life, insures for him a following the good fortune of but few men. Personally, we have known Professor Ackerman for years, in his capacity as principal of the Portland public school, which he was chiefly instrumental in bringing to the front ranks of educational progress, and well know the high estimation in which he is held in that community. His installment takes place with the other state officials, when the legislature meets in January.

Teachers' Institute Session.

The meeting of the teachers' annual session at this place opened yesterday morning with an attendance of twenty, which falls short several of the teachers employed in the county, owing to the fact that many are away in the mountains enjoying recreation whom County Superintendent Shipley was unable to reach with notification. The assistance of State Superintendent of Public Instruction-elect Prof. J. H. Ackerman, who arrived here from Portland Wednesday morning had been secured by Prof. Shipley, and will conduct the institute. The first day's review consisted of the subjects of arithmetic, spelling, reading, geography, theory and practice. Today a number of additional teachers are expected, and as a great deal of interest is manifested the instructors are assured of a very successful session.

Following is the list of teachers in attendance up to time of going to press: W. L. Saling, Anna Balsiger, Isoeria Sigbee, Mrs. Kate Steeves, Miss Tillard, Miss Glascock, Mrs. Shipley, Mrs. Pickard, Miss Eva Briggs, Mrs. Oney, A. W. Skinner, Mrs. Robt. Wetkins, J. A. Balsiger, Ethel Walbridge, Miss Iona White, Miss Nora Barnett, Miss Myrtle Horner, Wm. Howard, Jno. Horner, O. G. Morey and Mrs. Eugene Freeland.

A Horsethief Operating.

Rev. J. M. Beauchamp was in town yesterday endeavoring to trace a clue to the individual who appropriated his horse, advertised in another column. Mr. Beauchamp thinks he has a possible clue, in shape of a man who was in Lexington yesterday, hailing from this direction. The same party doubtless raided Mr. Penland's melon patch Wednesday night, also taking from the barn a saddle belonging to a Mr. McMillan, who was at the time asleep in the barn.

A Permanent Agency in Heppner.

Mr. C. A. McOargar, state agent for the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, while here recently delivering to Mrs. Fred Bartholomew the amount of her husband's policy, appointed the editor of the Gazette special agent for this county. The fact that most of our local business men are carrying policies with this company at a fractional cost of most old-line companies is assurance enough to those who want insurance to call and satisfy themselves as regards the value of this line of insurance. We have abundance of printed matter for distribution clearly setting forth the principles of this mutual association, which we will give out on application. Call at the Gazette office and talk insurance with us.

Yours truly,
C. McOargar,
Special Agent.

The First One.

Wm. A. Fisher, the pioneer of Haystack valley, came in with his first load of watermelons Wednesday, and the verdict of the Gazette office is that his melons, for size and flavor, lay right over the top of any ever raised in California, and if any other man in this county thinks he can show up a bigger one, bring it to the Gazette office and fill up a space his would just go into. We'll back his melons with a year's subscription to the Gazette, and don't you forget it! He sold the biggest one before he reached town, but has more growing every day, and will keep a comin'. His grape crop is his pride, and he has tons of them. Mr. Fisher came to this country in advance of the present management, so it's unnecessary for us to introduce him and his fruit, as you are probably laying in wait for him.
