Oh, How Thankful

Pain Was Maddening and Hope Had Been Abandoned—Wonderful Results of Purifying the Blood.
"A very severe pain came in my left knee, which grew worse and worse, and finally a sore broke out above the knee. It discharged a great deal and the pain from my thigh down was maddening. Large, hard, purple spots appeared on my leg. I suffered in this way for years, and gave up all hope of ever being cured. My wife was reading of a case like mine cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she advised me to try it. I began taking it and when I had used a few bottles I found relief from my suffering. Oh, how thankful I am for this relief! I am stronger than I have ever been in my life. I am in the best of health, have a good appetite and am a new man altogether." J. P. MOON, Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is the best-in fact the One True Blood Purifier.
Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

The Oregon state fair will be the grandest exhibition ever given in Oregon, held from September 22d to 30th, and you can go there for one fare for round trip from any point in Oregon on the Southern Pacific lines. Racing every day. All kinds of free attractions. One fare for round trip.

T. W. Ayers has well advanced toward completion his business building adjoining Noble & Co., which will be occupied by George C. Rome as a fruit and confectionary store, combined with a shooting gallery, which will flourish under the name of "The Oregon." "Remember the Maine!"

Reports reach us that in the vicinity of Butter creek a gang of swindlers are preying on the vicinity. Their methods were not made clear to us. A sample of merchandise is displayed, collection made, and a contract entered into to make deliveries within a certain time, when the operators fail to return.

Mrs. Dr. Marguerite Gernsey, accompanied by her sister, Miss Clara Gernsey, returned to Heppner on this morning's train. Her visit with her mother the past two months at Los Angeles was most enjoyable, but she feels that Heppner, from a business point of view, is most desirable as a permanent location.

Mr. George Gray left The Dalles for Lander, Wyoming, with a carload of thoroughbred sheep for Mr. Bunn yesterday morning. Mr. Gray's came was overlooked in connection with the drive made to Wyoming, in the item in the last issue. Mr. Gray is entrusted with the extensive sheep interests of Bunn & DeWalter in this section.

Several inquiries have been received at the postoffice department as to whether a postmaster may be a candidate for office and retain his position. Mr. Heath, assistant postmaster-general, has replied that there is nothing to prevent this being done, but that postmasters must resign their offices, and not see their positions as a political proposition.

The old Belvedere corner has been re-modeled and newly papered, and under the new ownership is now a place that reflects credit upon its proprietor. The paper-hanging and decorative work was done by S. J. Leezer, who has displayed the thoroughly artistic skill of his profession. The old corner will continue to extend a cordial welcome to those who for years have felt its warmth and good cheer.

Andy Cook, of Butter creek, last week presented Dr. Swinburne with a combination buffalo and bull horn hat rack, which the doctor has placed upon the walls of his office. It is a thing of beauty embracing four sets of points, which are perfect specimens. Andy procured them in Montana recently, of the Indians, who have certainly displayed civilized skill in its arrangement and beauty.

Farmers attention is called to the fact that the Southern Pacific have decided to make the extremely low rate of one fare for the round trip to the Oregon state fair, September 22 to 30, 1908, from any point in Oregon on their lines. There were hundreds of campers last year. Take your summer vacation and camp at the fair and see a grand exhibit of what Oregon can raise. One fare going and returning home.

Mrs. M. Von Odow has rented the rooms in the brick over the Arlington National bank, purchased furniture and fitted them up, to run in connection with the Grand hotel, giving her four nice airy, cool rooms for the traveling public. Mrs. Von Odow, after being in the hotel a short time, found that the trade could not be accommodated without securing more rooms, hence she secured the above mentioned rooms.—Arlington Review.

The new firm of Rhea & Welch introduce themselves to the community at large with a display "ad," directing your attention to the fact that they are, as always, supplied with a complete line of goods meeting the requirements of the fall trader. As in the past, they will continue to insure your confidence with square dealing. They are strictly in line with the times and it goes without saying that their patrons will receive full value in return for their patronage. Value regulates price, and their prices meet all legitimate competition. Their advertisement embodies your needs. Review it carefully.

Those Victimized Heaping Vituperation on the Other Fellow.

During the month of July a combination of smooth workers put in their appearance at Heppner with a car load of buggies and hacks. No printer's ink heralded their coming. They quietly set up their rigs, and trailing to the number of a half dozen, disappeared along the various canyon routes leading from the town into the interior. These processions of canvas-covered vehicles seemed to exert a magic spell over the section through which they travelled. At the expiration of just one week's time these wagons, ag regating not less than $5,000. Now comes the "fireworks." Those over whom these seductive, granger fashioned, smooth old boys exercised their hypnotic influence, have held a council meeting, and after comparing notes, rigs and prices paid, varying from 25 to 50 per cent, they have adjourned until the busy season is a thing of the past, when a commodious hall will be hired and an investment made in a good heavy pair of Klondike boots for the occasion.

The facts of the case are that the responsible dealers of the town, have the very same class of cheap-grade wagons for sale at least 25 per cent less than paid by many who bought of these irresponsible parties. Many offer as an excuse for buying that they have had no opportunity to learn the value of this line of carriages; that the local dealers have made no effort to reach them with a class of information or advertising matter, illustrating and describing of their stock in trade, and that it was their duty to come to the front with prices and quality considerations that would have turned the expended $5,000 into the coffers of those who are the taxpayers and upholders of our local business community. Every dollar that goes to the army of outside representatives and friends, decreases the valuation of business and property interests in our county. We must be equal in enterprise to these sharks or surrender to them, as they are invading every section of the country, where the business men are remaining inactive.

This item of carriage sales is but one of many "fish" that have been and are being worked in this county, and the Gazette feels that its duty to the business community is to raise a vigorous protest against them.

Threshing Outfit Burned.

Last week Milt Morgan's entire threshing outfit was consumed by fire, together with the entire setting of wheat, near Iona. The fire originated in the knuckle of the tumbling shaft from friction, and gained such headway that everything was consumed in spite of their efforts. The grain belonged to Morgan, and we understand was uninsured.

Daniel Boone in Town.

Daniel Boone, now spending his deplorable years as a resident of Lone Rock, is in town among the boys. Pap Simons quotes his age at 179 years, and vouches for him as his playmate in those happy childhood days "way back thar." Daniel Boone will always have a prominent niche in the minds of our young folks for generations to come, as the palface whose "old Kentucky rifle" sent many a redskin to his immortal "happy hunting grounds." Seriously speaking, "Uncle Daniel" is a direct descendant of the original Daniel Boone.

Proposals for Bridge.

Sealed bids will be received for building a bridge over Lone Rock creek, on the Heppner and Lone Rock road, until October 1, 1908, county to furnish all material on the ground. Right reserved to reject any or all bids.

A. G. BARTHOLOMEW,
County Judge.

Cunningham Bucks.

The well known Cunningham bucks, thoroughbred grades and Delain, will be on exhibition and for sale at Heppner on or about October 1st. Prices to suit the times. In charge of

Wm. HOOKER.

Two Millions a Year.

When people buy, try, and buy again, it means they are satisfied. The people of the United States are now buying Casareta Candy Cathartic at the rate of two million boxes a year and it will be three million before New Year's. It means more profit, that Casareta is the most popular candy cathartic in the world.

Deaths of Dr. L. F. Shipley.

Passes Away at His Residence at 12 O'clock Last Night.

Announcement of the death of Dr. L. F. Shipley this morning was not unexpected, as since his severe attack of hemorrhage while coming to town the other day, it has been reported that he was failing in strength and his death was only a matter of a short time.

In his demise Heppner loses her pioneer physician and a resident, who has been instrumental in upbuilding the city and county. Coming to Oregon at an early age he lived in various parts of the state. After graduating at the Williams' estate university, and practicing extensively he came to Heppner in 1880.

At 25 years of age he was married to Emily Williamson, who had recently arrived from Iowa, a young woman, by way of the isthmus of Panama. They had three children, two of which are living, Prof. J. W. Shipley, who is at this time our county superintendent of public instruction and Miss Lottie Shipley, aged 17.

This country in its sparsely settled condition has necessitated a most trying tax on the naturally rugged constitution of the doctor, being compelled to ride continually by day night, and wherever duty called him the faithful physician has ever responded, which at last proved to much for human strength, when the consequent weakness developed, which has finally taken him from this field of work.

Patterned Brothers' Resides.

Orin L. Patterson, the editor and publisher of the Blue Mountain Eagle, came over the first of the week for a visit with Alvah, who has been combining business with a pleasant visit the past three weeks. Thursday morning's train brought Orin to town, since which time the three brothers have been moving about the old-time haunts, and mingling with their many friends. On tonight's train Orin and Alvah return to The Dalles, and after a short visit Alvah will head his way toward Washington, D. C., to be on hand at the opening of Columbian Law University early next month, and also to resume his duties at the Capital City. Orin will return to Long Creek on tomorrow morning's stage, and the Gazette will be left to the tender mercies of the new management and its friends.
