THE TRADE OF THE PACIFIC.

The next great world movements of commerce and civilization are going to center around the Pacific ocean and upon the islands it contains. This much is assured by the outcome of the Spanish-American war. The United States will have a naval station in the Hawaiian islands, another at Manila in the Philippines, and a coaling station on one of the Ladrones islands. Commerce follows the flag. This is the experience of all European nations, and their motive in getting remote territorial possessions has always been to extend their commerce and make new markets for their manufactures.

On the American side of the Pacific the Spanish-American republics are all asleep, and they offer great opportunities for enterprising American business houses. On the Asiatic side there are hundreds of millions of people, steeped in tradition and slow to get into the currents of modern civilization. They admire force, and are eager to trade with the strong nations. When our fleets make frequent visits to their ports, they will get an enlarged conception of the power and enterprise of the American republic, and our merchant ships will follow with cargoes of our goods and machinery. Commodore Perry opened Japan to commerce by a single visit of his fleet, and we shall have new men of his stamp to open China, Korea, Siam and the great Malay Archipelago. The Nicaragua canal will be built by our government, and the short route from Europe to the Orient will be through an American waterway.

The enlarged commercial movement will embrace all the islands of the Pacific as well as the Hawaiian group. It will employ hundreds of ships that will be built upon Puget Sound of the fir and lumber of that region. It will give a great impetus to the growth of all our Pacific coast communities, for they all have something to sell, which the Asiatics and Germans will not long be serious competitors for this new trade, because they are comparatively remote; whereas the United States front upon the waters that wash the shores of Asia.

To our young men of enterprising disposition our Pacific states now offer an inviting field, especially the states of Washington and Oregon, where there are great undeveloped natural resources. The flour and lumber of those states are staples of commerce that will always be in demand on both sides of the Pacific, and they will go to Europe as soon as the Nicaragua canal is opened. Manufactures of all kinds will spring up in the coast towns and cities, and there will come to all those communities a new epoch of activity and prosperity that will realize the old dreams of the coming importance of the Pacific slope of the continent. SENATOR J. W. MORROW.

Wednesday morning's Oregonian honors Senator J. W. Morrow with a portrait, which his friends will recognize by the underlined biographical sketch, which is as follows:

J. W. Morrow, senator-elect of Grant, Harney and Morrow counties, is a native of Washington, having been born in Olympia. At the age of 5 he removed with his family to Oregon, and this state has been his home for the past 33 years. He is a son of Hon. J. L. Morrow, after whom the county of Morrow was named. For a number of years he was engaged in the mercantile business at Heppner with his father. After retiring from the mercantile business he engaged in the stock business for some years just prior to 1890 when he was elected county clerk, which position he has held for the past eight years. Mr. Morrow has long been prominent in Morrow county politics. He is recognized as a leader in democratic councils. He made the race for joint senator at the June election on the fusion ticket against Hon. A. W. Gowen, republican, of Burns. The battle was a close and interesting one, the result being in doubt until the official count was made, when it was found that Mr. Morrow was successful. Mr. Morrow has large interests in Heppner and Morrow counties.

The legislature, which will meet in special session next Monday, is composed of 90 members, whose political complexion is as follows: Republicans—senate 24, house 42; total 66. Unionists—senate 3, house 17; total 20. Democrats—senate 2, house 1; total 3. Populists—senate 1. There is a republican majority of 43.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Washington Republicans Adopt the Following Principles.

TACOMA, Sept. 21.—The republican state convention today adopted the following platform: We, the republicans of the state of Washington, in convention assembled, hereby make the following declaration of principles: We endorse and approve the administration of the president and of his cabinet, and endorse and approve of the course of Hon. John L. Wilson, our republican senator in congress.

We favor the existing gold standard, and oppose the free and unlimited coinage of silver. We endorse the action of the present republican congress, which has re-enacted into law a protective tariff, through the Dingley bill, and restored prosperity to the country.

We favor such reform in our consular service as will put it upon the same basis with that of any other nation in the world. We demand the completion of the Nicaragua canal as a United States waterway, at the earliest practicable time, and pledge our nominees and representatives in congress, when elected, to use their best efforts toward this end.

We are in favor of upholding the American merchant marine and the protection of American rights in every quarter of the world with an adequate navy. We denounce the course of the fusion representatives in congress from this state in their attempt to detract from the achievements of the national administration, and the methods employed by them, perverting the truth.

We recommend a national system of irrigation. We recommend the establishment of a system of postal savings banks. We glory in the achievements of our army and navy in the prosecution of the war with Spain, and especially, in the name of the people of this state, thank the volunteers from the state of Washington for their patriotic action in enlisting in the defense of their country.

We demand the repeal of the forestry reserve order to the extent of reopening for settlement every acre of reserved land in this state which is suitable for agricultural, logging and mining purposes, and we pledge our nominees for congress, when elected, to work to this end.

Firmly believing in the principle of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we recommend to the voters of this state a careful consideration of the proposed constitutional amendment granting equal suffrage.

We favor the construction of the Puget sound, Gray harbor and Columbia canal, and the improvement of the Columbia and Snake rivers, thus uniting all navigable inland seas and rivers in this state with the Pacific ocean.

We recommend a law which will result in a general improvement of the state road system, and particularly in the construction of roads in mining localities, to aid in the development of mines.

We recommend the enactment of a law that will compel common carriers at junctions and terminal points to transfer cars, and denounce the present populist administration of this state for squandering the money appropriated by the last legislature to effect the relief herein demanded and other needed relief in this direction, and we demand the reasonable regulation by the legislature of freight and passenger rates in this state.

We are in favor of the equal taxation of all classes of property upon the basis of value, and we therefore oppose the amendment to the constitution proposed by the late fusion legislature upon the subject of taxation.

We are opposed to the principle of requiring candidates for judicial office to pledge themselves in advance to the carrying out by judicial decision of any party precepts or principles.

We condemn the partisan management by Governor Rogers of the public institutions of the state.

We urge the restoration of the state normal schools, and commend the citizens of this state for their private maintenance of the schools, necessitated by the failure of the last legislature to make proper appropriation.

Spokane Fruit Fair.

Spokane seems to be almost ready for her visitors. Everything in connection with the fruit fair is being pushed along rapidly and will be in readiness ahead of time this year. Most of the districts have chosen the locations which they will have in the big building which will be the same shape as last year.

Yakima county will have the space in the southern wing of the building where the exhibits from Wilbur and from the Northern Pacific stood last year.

Stevens county will have space on the grand boulevard which leads from the entrance on the right as one enters. This space last year was occupied by the Tall & Dice and other exhibits.

Lincoln county has chosen the space in the right wing close to the Whitman county exhibit.

Nez Perce county will have the same space as last year and adjoining it will be the Asotin county exhibit.

The Pullman exhibit will have the space which last year was occupied by the beautiful exhibit from Walla Walla county.

Whitman county will do business at the old stand.

Douglas county will have space on the grand boulevard and so will the exhibit which the ladies of Mount Hope are preparing.

The educational exhibits from the agricultural college at Pullman and from the experiment stations of the University of Idaho and Moscow will be placed either at the main entrance or where the exhibit from Moscow was last year.

Work for the Legislature.

State News.

The two banks in Pendleton have nearly $800,000 on deposit at the present time. With the returns in from the sale of this season's wheat crop their deposits will probably be swelled to $1,000,000.

Mrs. George W. Daley, an engineer in her husband's saw mill at Round Top, Jackson county, the day before last, measures the logs as they are rolled upon the carriage, and superintends the sorting of the lumber. Mr. Daley is head sawyer at the mill.

It is estimated that fully 1,500 miners are laboring in the district tributary to Baker City. Those who ought to know say there has never been a time in Baker county's history when so much capital has sought an investment in the golden mountains as at present.—Baker City Democrat.

Cook county's assessment roll reached the secretary of state's office Saturday. It is the first received this year. Cook county has never been assessed for the past three years. The gross valuation of all property is shown to be $1,585,136; exemptions, $139,930; taxable property, $1,445,206; polls, 410.

The returning Baker City soldier boys, or those who had employment when they enlisted for the war, have found on their return their old positions awaiting them. Without exception they went to work at a higher place and with the kind consideration extended to them by their employers.

While in La Grande last week United States Marshal Houser posted notices of a sale of the La Grande electric light plant to satisfy a judgment of $7,861.30 in favor of the General Electric company, says the Baker City Democrat. The sale will take place September 24th, from the court house door in Union.

La Grande may soon have an iron foundry as well as a best-saw factory. The same town will denote $6,000 to the Union, Cove & Valley railroad, to meet the expense of grading the road from Cove to La Grande. The Grande people will not vote to take the money, but will contribute it as a subsidy.

It is estimated that the twelve counties of Oregon east of the Cascades, commonly known as Eastern Oregon, will this year raise 18,000,000 bushels of wheat, or within 2,000,000 bushels of the yield of the state in 1897. This is 5,150,000 bushels more than last year's output of Eastern Oregon but reports from throughout already done justify the assertion.

We learn that J. Nat. Hudson, formerly of the Sumner News, will soon begin the publication of a weekly newspaper at the Cove, Union county, the material being already on the way. As he has been a successful publisher, we predict that he will turn out a paper of good quality and good live paper which will advertise abroad the resources of that fruitful section and of great benefit to the community, socially as well as in a business way.

Work was begun in Union, August 22nd, on the new railroad to be built from Union to the Seven Devils district in Idaho, to be known as the Union, Cornucopia & Eastern railway. The throwing of the first dirt on the grade was attended with appropriate ceremonies. The road, when completed, will be about 220 miles long and will run through the richest mineral section of Eastern Oregon and Central Idaho, a stretch of some hundred square miles, and the fertile Pine and Snake valleys of Eastern Oregon. The company expects to have the road completed in three years.

A young man by the name of John Buckingham was accidentally killed near Mr. Kelly's place last week. He and another man had been to Douglas with wheat, driving Mr. L. A. Taylor's team. While returning, young Buckingham was in the lead, and in some way the countable manner, fell from the wagon, striking just in front of the hind wheel which ran onto his neck, when his hold on the lines caused the team to stop, choking him to death in the deep dust. The other fellow drove up behind him and stopped to see what was the matter. He was about 17 years old, had a mother and two uncles near Huntington. The body was buried in the Olex cemetery.—Arlington Review.

State Sunday School Convention.

The 13th annual convention of the Oregon State Sunday School association will be held in the First Baptist church in Portland, October 4th, 5th and 6th. The plans to be presented and the work to be done will make this convention, without question, the most important ever held in our state, not only for our Sunday schools but for the state at large, owing to this, large numbers from all portions of the state are expected.

The Oregon Industrial Exposition will be complete and in full running order at this time, and all rates made by the various transportation companies for this exposition will be also good for this convention. In addition to these rates, the O. R. & N. Co. will make a special round trip rate of fare and one-third from all points on its rail lines within the state, good going from October 31 to October 6th, and returning on or before October 8th. Delegates must pay full fare going, take a receipt from the agent and have it countersigned at the convention by the secretary.

The Southern Pacific company will provide a special train, leaving Ashland early on the morning of October 30, arriving in Portland the same evening, making a daylight excursion. Tickets for this train will be sold for one fare for the round trip, from all stations, Ashland and north, and will be good for seven days. Tickets will also be sold on this date from all other points on the lines of the Southern Pacific at same rate and time limit.

On October 5th the Southern Pacific company will sell round trip tickets from all points on its rail lines within the state, and one-third for the round trip, good for four days.

Delegates to this convention must pay their own expenses while in Portland, and first-class entertainment will be furnished at not to exceed $1 per day, but to secure this, names must be sent to the secretary, A. A. Morse, 214 Weidner street, Portland, at once.

A SHORT SERMON ON SHOES.

The Length of the Foot Should Be That of the Forearm.

Many reasons have been given for the preference shown by women generally for high heels, says the Philadelphia Times. One is that the practice adds height to the body; another that it adds gracefulness to the carriage. To the latter one might take exception, for it may do so as long as the wearers stand still, but when they move about it imparts what can best be described as a wobbling motion, which is the reverse of graceful. Tight shoes, again, are worn with the object of making the feet look smaller, but, as a matter of fact, the better shaped a foot is the smaller it will look, but in the disproportionately small foot there is always involved an awkward gait. The foot of a tall woman should be larger than the foot of a small woman. The foot in length should be the length of the arm, a bone in the forearm, which extends from a protuberance in the outer portion of the wrist to the elbow. Of course, the arm is longer in tall people and is graceful the foot should be, also. Many people may be surprised that the foot should be as long as the forearm, and might be inclined to dispute the fact unless proven by demonstration.

Consumption

Will SCOTT'S EMULSION cure consumption? Yes and no. Will it cure every case? No. What cases will it cure then? Those in their earlier stages, especially in young people. We make no exaggerated claims, but we have positive evidence that the early use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda in these cases results in a positive cure to a large number. In advanced cases, however, where a cure is impossible, this well-known remedy should be relied upon to prolong life surprisingly.

LATEST TELEGRAPH.

Brief War News, Telegraphic News Notes, Etc., Etc.

MADRID, Sept. 15.—The Queen Regent pays daily visits to the sick soldiers who have returned from the colonies. She has ordered that the convalescents be conveyed in the royal carriages to the Casa del Campo, in the royal park, and is paying from her own purse for proper food for the invalids. The correspondent here of the Associated Press has conversed with officers, invalids and others who have returned from Santiago. They all extol the goodness of the Americans after the surrender. They do not display the slightest animosity against the Americans, but entertain bitter feelings against the Cubans. The steamer Leo XIII has arrived at Vigo with General Toral and 2478 soldiers and officers from Santiago de Cuba.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20.—A special to the Star from Jacksonville, Fla., says: Colonel William Jennings Bryan, of the Third Nebraska volunteers will shortly resign his commission in the United States army and resume the discussion of public questions. Bryan, however, when asked to refuse himself, said: "You can say I refuse to discuss any matters connected with politics, the army or myself, except I see no reason to change my views in regard to expanding the territory of the United States. I am not so enamored with army life as to apply for a commission after the war is over." The Third Nebraska regiment will soon go to Cuba.

PORTLAND, Sept. 20.—Charles Waters, watchman at Penney's mill, was run down by a narrow-gauge train at the foot of Harrison street about midnight last night. Both of his legs were severed near the thigh, and he died from the shock and loss of blood about 20 minutes after the accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—News has been received here of a dastardly attempt to sink the whaling bark Northern Light, which sailed from here in last May for Kotzebue sound. The bark had been transformed into a passenger vessel and she took away 152 men bound for the mythical land of gold. The vessel was commanded by Captain Whiteide. On May 12th, when only a few days out, it was discovered that the Northern Light was making water at a rapid rate. The pumps were manned, but the water still came up rapidly. A search was instituted and the leak was located in the bow. Further search showed that four anger holes had been bored through the timbers, going clear through the side to the water. Three of the holes were plugged up, but it was impossible to reach the fourth. The pumps had been going until Kotzebue sound was reached.

VIGO, Spain, Sept. 16.—About 700 people besieged the house of General Toral today, demand that the troops which arrived here yesterday from Santiago de Cuba on board the Spanish steamer Leo XIII be immediately landed. When they saw the soldiers landing barefooted and nearly naked, they became infuriated and surrounded Toral's house, shouting, hissing and stoning the building. Eventually the Spanish general succeeded in escaping to the Leo XIII. On learning this, the mob gathered on the dock and stoned the steamer for half an hour, smashing the cabin windows. The Leo was obliged to leave the place where she was anchored. Five steamers were ready to transport the retreating Spanish soldiers and civil officers with the archives and munitions of war from Cuba, but it is believed it will take four months and cost eighty million pesetas to bring the troops back to Spain.

PENDLETON, Sept. 19.—The case of C. O. Cunningham, murderer of Oliver Young, is peculiar. Cunningham was here all day Saturday before committing the crime, and seemed rational to all with whom he came in contact. Now, when questioned by the officers regarding his movements Saturday, he appears to have forgotten all about the crime, retaining no remembrance of anything connected with it. Sheriff Blakely says Cunningham continually asks why he failed to get away from Pendleton on the evening train, and why he is in jail now. The case is creating interest among local physicians and all who know about it.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 20.—The Odd Fellows and Sisters of Rebekah, in annual session here, divided the day between business and pleasure. The sovereign grand lodge devoted this morning to a business session, as did the Rebekah assembly. The statistical reports presented at the two sessions show that the membership of the I. O. O. F. has passed considerably beyond the million mark, while that of the Sisters of Rebekah has reached the neighborhood of 800,000.

TACOMA, Sept. 20.—The exposition building, the largest structure of its kind in the Northwest, was completely destroyed by fire this afternoon. Flames were discovered breaking out of the building at 1:30 o'clock. In 15 minutes the vast structure was a seething mass of fire, so hot and so fierce that no one could approach within 300 feet of it. The bridge crossing a deep ravine on Tacoma avenue was also burned. The building was owned by the Tacoma Land company and was not insured. The loss is in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Hood's Pills

Are gaining favor rapidly. Business men and travelers carry them in vest pockets, ladies carry them in purses, housekeepers keep them in medicine chests, friends recommend them to friends. 25c

OMAHA, Sept. 20.—The captive balloons used by Shafter's army in the advance upon Santiago have reached the exposition grounds, and the officers of the United States signal corps are getting them ready for daily ascensions. These balloons are of the size of rising 2,000 feet, and at that distance telephone communication is held with the station below the balloons. The balloon carries four people, the capacity being 12,000 cubic feet. It is said that President McKinley intends to make an ascension during his visit to the exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—An order was issued today by First Assistant Postmaster General Heath which authorizes postmasters to issue money orders payable to their own offices. This practice has not heretofore been followed and the new departure is for the accommodation of people who not having an account with a bank, desire to follow this economical and absolutely safe method in payment of bills, etc.

PORTLAND, Sept. 20.—Charles Waters, watchman at Penney's mill, was run down by a narrow-gauge train at the foot of Harrison street about midnight last night. Both of his legs were severed near the thigh, and he died from the shock and loss of blood about 20 minutes after the accident.
