Poor and Weak

Catarrh and Bronchial Trouble—Had no Appetite—Now Better in Every Way—A Delicate Child.

"Some time since I took a sudden cold and could not get rid of it. Being subject to catarrh and bronchial trouble I coughed terribly. I lost my appetite and grew poor and weak and I did not feel like work. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time the cough disappeared, I slept well, had a good appetite and I was better in every way. Last spring I was not feeling well, I had no appetite and no strength. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon felt more like work. My little nephew was a delicate child and had a humor which troubled him so he could not rest at night. He has taken a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he has a good appetite and is able to sleep." MISS ABRIE J. FREEMAN, South Duxbury, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the One True Blood Purifier. All druggists. Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, aid digestion. 25c.

Jayne has returned from the McDuffie springs, where he has been seeking relief from attack of rheumatism. His condition is much improved, and he thinks that the springs with time will completely route it. W. O. Allison, who has been mining on the Job Day during the summer was in town today making preparations to go to the Green Horn mountains to prospect this winter. He reports mines in general doing quite well. Now, that the warm season is about over, fresh candies are in order, and James Hart will devote his time to the manufacture of the choicest delicacies in the line of creams, taffy, etc. In fact, all kinds of confectionary are to be found there. 86 tf Dr. John W. Rasma, of the "Red-light," ever on the alert for something new, can furnish you the finest cocktails in the land—Manhattan, Jersey, Vermont or Gin—made by an artist in the business. Drop in and take the taste out of your mouth. 17 Commencing September 21st on every Wednesday night, including October 19th, the O. R. & N. Co. will sell round-trip tickets for the Portland Industrial Exposition at the rate of $9.00, including two admissions to the exposition. Passengers returning will leave the following Monday night. 17 The Marquam Grand, on Morrison street in the Marquam building, is under excellent management and the public will be royally entertained this winter. New companies and new faces will appear from time to time at this popular, first-class theatre of Portland, and when in Portland our denizens should not fail to take in some of the fine dramas that will be presented. 17 Professor J. M. Garrison, who has been associated with the Pacific University at Forest Grove for the past fifteen years, arrived in Heppner Saturday, and is organizing a class in penmanship. The professor comes here highly recommended as an instructor, and those appreciating the requirement of a legible, rapid and uniform hand-writing to aid them along life's journey should avail themselves of this opportunity. A jolly birthday party was given at the home of Mr. Bishop a few evenings since, in honor of his little son's birthday. The following were those present: Mrs. Hart, Gertrude Bishop, Elsie Ayers, Nettie Shelby, Lulu Hager, Anna Mc Bride, Grace Hager, Edna Mallory, Dolie Raab, Thressa Fleisher Bertha Adkins and Meak Rash, Dockey Matlock, Percie Hughes, Willie Dutton, Heppner Blackman, Willie Ball, Willie Smith, Jesse Shelby, George Vinson, Charlie Hornor and Oscar Borg. Did you go to the show last night? Well, wasn't it a caution? Fun was what you paid for, and you got a barrel of it. The "old girl" didn't do a thing to the boys. Buckley is all right in a tug-of-war team. Then those boys who gave away on the "mashing" score. She was not slow when it came to reading futures. One popular young man is fixed for the future—24 is his turning post. The dependence of another was prophesied in "Come a seven"—that darkey's trouble took wings right then. And last, but not least, was when "papa" was led to the "cannon"—how the boys cried that farewell career.

Personal.

Jack Matlock spent Sunday in town. Andrew Neel and wife, of Lone Rock, are in town. Elmer Willis, Dr. McSwains reports as very much better. Ben King, of Ione, came up Monday for medical treatment. John Spencer came in from the mountain sheep camp yesterday. A brother of David and Luther Hamilton arrived here today from California. J. F. Johnson, L. Hlatt and E. Hlatt, of Butter creek, are registered at the Palace. Ad Matteson left Saturday for Southern Oregon, where he contemplates spending the winter. The young man named Sprowles who has been seriously ill with malarial fever has about recovered. County Clerk Crawford is having quite a siege of sickness being absent from his post most of the week. Mrs. James Jones and daughter, Bertha, arrived home from the East Saturday morning after a most enjoyable visit. Homer Warmoth came in today from Redding Cal., where he has been for some time and where his parents now reside. Lee Matlock, with his family, is expected in from Tom Matlock's place today to remain permanently. Mr. Matlock, we understand, will accept a position in the Palace hotel. Art Minor went to Portland for a time yesterday morning. And as that melon on exhibition so long in his window disappeared with him it is presumed he carried it off in his vest pocket. Art expressed the opinion that the influence of that melon was responsible for the tingling round of those colored boys. Dr. Art Shulse, son of the Rev. J. M. Shulse, formerly a Heppner boy returned to this place Sunday morning after an absence of six years, and will remain during the winter. Mr. Shulse, while studying medicine, overcame his strength, and last winter experienced a severe siege of sickness. During the past summer he has improved very much in health and believes that a winter in this climate will fully restore him to his normal condition.

CONGRESSMAN ELLIS IN PORTLAND.

He is in Favor of the Legislature Providing a Registration Law. Representative Ellis, of the Second congressional district, who has been spending a few days in Portland, says the Oregonian, is of the opinion that there is a very general demand throughout the state for a registration law, and he is inclined to the belief that such a bill will be introduced at the special session of the legislature. He says he has no means of knowing just what features the measure will contain, some advocating a law that shall apply only to the cities and larger towns, while others want it to be effective in the country precincts as well. "I think the people would like a general registration law," said he, "one that would require registration a sufficient time in advance of election to prevent 'colonization' for voting. Perhaps a law modeled after that of California would be satisfactory. The list should be open to public inspection and provision should be made for removing names found to be improperly registered, so that when election day should come the registration lists would contain all the names of those entitled to vote. The fact that a man's name was on the list would be sufficient evidence that he was a legal voter, and there would be no occasion for quibbling. "As to the railroad commission, think most of the people of Eastern Oregon are in favor of abolishing it. Some express a preference for a single railroad commissioner with greater powers than the present commission have, and I think that the better plan. There are a lot of people, however, who don't want to bother any longer with any sort of railroad commission or commissioner, and they will insist on the repeal of the present law as soon as they can get at it. Mr. Ellis smiled and shook his head in a non-committal sort of way when the United States senatorship was mentioned. He said he had heard of only the one avowed candidate, and he guessed that was all there was. "However," he said, "I suppose there is time for others to get in the field between now and Monday. But as to whether others will enter the race, I know nothing." About the middle of October Mr. Ellis will leave for the East. He will spend some time with relatives in the middle west before going to Washington, where he will arrive in ample time for the opening of the coming session of congress. Military for lease. Miss Myrtle Smith, representing Campbell & Wilson, military firm of Pendleton and The Dalles, will show a complete and stylish line of military at Ione from October 6th to October 10, 1928. Returned From Klondike.

Barnes Enaley, the first party from this section to return from the land of gold, arrived in town Saturday morning. He came out from Dawson City by way of St. Michaels making a remarkably quick trip. Remaining in town over Sunday he took Monday morning's stage for Hardman. In an interview with Mr. Gilliam he narrated his interesting experiences. With his son they succeeded in reaching Dawson ahead of the rush, getting established on a good claim, which, as far as worked, has yielded good returns. Seeing an opportunity he came out to spend the winter expecting to return in the early spring. While the reports are true that tons of gold are being taken from some sections, owing to the pocket nature of Alaska, it is a very ancestral country to mine in. Where one man has struck it rich, thousands are struggling hopelessly. In Dawson, from survey and dysentery the ravages of death are equal to a yellow fever epidemic. Bill Radio, who left Long Creek with 100 head of cattle, reached Dawson with 99, and has opened a butcher shop and is retailing the meat at $1.50 per pound, from which he will realize a fortune. Chas. Jones is working in a restaurant at Dawson, and sends word to his many friends that he is doing well. Rex Mairis working on the claim with young Enaley. Bill Radio is supposed to be on his way home by this time, as he expected to start 30 days later than Mr. Enaley. Heaps of Trouble. The members of the colored combination, which has been a serious menace to the peace of our village for the past two weeks, were brought together in the justice court last Thursday, the husband trying to sustain serious charges against his wife, but for insufficient evidence the case was thrown out. Up to this time they seem to be "resting on their oars," but at any minute the coroner is liable to be in demand, as all sorts of rumors are afloat as to the intention of the two whose wives have been alienated. The manly-looking member of the combine seems most dejected, and rumor has it is about to shuffle off the "mortal coil" through the agency of poison. To the vigilance of the town marshal is credited the term of peace so far. In all probability their interest and energy will wear off, and, like the Arabs, "will silently fold their tents and steal away."

High School Notes.

The beautiful flag, which was purchased by the school last term, has been considerably damaged by the high winds which are prevalent. The members of the high school are learning the words of our three national songs, "America," "Star Spangled Banner," and "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." Our library opened Friday for the first time this term. Each room, except the primary, has a day to get books. All books taken from the library must be returned in two weeks. The high school is enjoying "Jo's Boys," which is the daily reading of our scholars. In the future those who are tardy may expect to see their names appear on the board, under these words which the principal has written: "A little more sleep and a little more folding of the hands." Misses Floss and Mamie Farnsworth, graduates of last term, left last Thursday night for Portland where they will attend school. They were accompanied as far as Portland by their sister, Miss Emma, who will spend a few days at the exposition. The teachers spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. Ben Parker, near Hardman. All report an enjoyable time. Mr. J. M. Garrison, professor of penmanship in the Forest Grove university for the last twenty years, is here to get up a class in penmanship. Who? Jack's Mail. A spectacular fit for a king was witnessed by many of our citizens Friday evening. Jack Clark came to town with his mules, and, bearing the hospitality of "The Central", proceeded to help himself. Inside the door a lantern hung. The mule reached for it, hung it on the beam; reached again, and the fireworks began. The oil spread over the surface of his tank, ignited, and, as good fortune was in store for Wm. Gordon, his first plunge landed him in the street, and for a few minutes a "pinwheel" exhibit was not in it. The poor brute soon surrendered to the "hot rider", and, bracing himself for the ordeal, stood unflinching until the blaze had exhausted itself. His injuries were scarcely noticeable until the next morning, when a blister the size of a saddle blanket developed. Had the mule circled the interior of the barn the chances are that Heppner would now be on the list of "destroyed by fire", as the evening was favorable for the "destructive feud".

Letter From E. L. Barratt.

Carson City, Nev., Sept. 22, 1898.—Editor Gazette: I thank you for the paper you sent me some time ago. All the boys are out on 30 days' furlough. About 35 are left to guard the camp. I did not care to go on furlough, so I am on guard duty. About 300 of the boys left Carson City for the Reno fair, and they have 40 in jail. A large number got robbed of all they had. There was a hot time in the old town for a while. They will be well tanned before they get back. I send you a picture I had taken while in heavy marching order. Yours truly, E. L. BARRATT, Co. D. New Military Firm Coming. Miss Myrtle Smith, representing the military firm of Campbell & Wilson, of both Pendleton and The Dalles, will be at Heppner, Monday, Oct. 3, 1928, with a complete and stylish line of fall and winter military, and will remain four or five days. Ladies will do well to see our line before purchasing elsewhere. 87-2t FOR SALE OR RENT. An Honest "Red" Indian.

An Indian in the Lewiston vicinity who is widely known as Jim Shlok-Poo has been engaged in several desperate encounters in the past. On one occasion he struck the city marshal of Lewiston with a bowie knife and cut a gash across his breast 10 inches long. The officer did not desecrate him. On another occasion Jim Shlok-Poo stole a horse from some cowboys almost before their eyes. He mounted the horse and fled toward the reservation. The cowboys pursued him, roped him and then dragged him by the neck until he was senseless. They reported him dead to the officers, but the Indian soon recovered. He was so honorable that he returned to the cowboys the rope with which they had strangled him.—Walla Walla Statesman. Cunningham Bucks.
