FROM FOOT TO KNEE

Ohio Woman Suffered Great Agony From a Terrible Sore—Her Story of the Case, and Her Cure.

"For many years I was afflicted with a milk leg, and a few years ago it broke out in a sore and spread from my foot to my knee. I suffered great agony. It would burn and itch all the time and discharge a great deal. My health was good with the exception of this sore. I tried a great many kinds of salve, but some would irritate the sore so that I could hardly stand the pain. I could not go near the fire without suffering intensely. Someone sent me papers containing testimonials of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I told my husband I would like to try this medicine. He got me a bottle and I found it helped me. I kept on taking it until my limb was completely healed. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough for the great benefit it has been to me. It cleanses the blood of all impurities and leaves it rich and pure." MRS. ANNA E. EAKEN, Whitesley, Ohio.

You can buy Hood's Sarsaparilla of all druggists. Be sure to get only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family cathartic. Price 25c.

HYPNOTIST HOLBROOK.

Mind Reading Easily Accomplished— Astonishing the Audiences.

Last night the opera house was filled with an appreciative audience to witness the mysterious science of Professor Holbrook, and the house was a tumult of excitement from beginning to close of the entertainment. After a thorough test of mind reading, satisfying a committee of representative men that no collusion or trickery was resorted to. The professor after finding and distributing numerous articles, blindfolded among the audience, organized a class for hypnotic antics. To begin with a disposition was shown by some of the young "Americans" to defy his influence, but he soon had them under control, and then began the amusing scenes which kept the audience in a roar of laughter. The crimsoned-cheeked, blushing and naturally modest boys made a "show" of themselves, and in the strawberry patch, milking scene, dog fight and preparations for a bath, simply turned the audience into a frenzy of laughter.

The professor used discretion in selecting one of his own experienced boys for the cataplectic subject, whose rigid, lifeless appearance, so amazed the audience in short order. We predict had he selected the loved one of some of the gentler sex in the audience, during the anxious moments of reanimation, she would have been wrecking vengeance at a furious rate. In fact, a number of the audience were exceedingly anxious about the revival of the young man.

Peacefully sleeping in Rhea & Welch's large display window was a young man placed there by the professor this forenoon. Groups of people gathered about during the day gazing in wonder at the youthful countenance. To all appearance, save an indication of regular breathing, he was dead.

Many who were liberal in their explanation of his science are being persuaded to take the chairs specially reserved for them this evening, and it remains to be seen whether they will "lose the mark." It is safe to predict a full house for the hypnotic professor during his stay. In fact he already has a big majority of our population under the mysterious influence.

THE NEW FIRM

Of Brown & Hughes, Successors to Brown & Stewart.

Appreciating the season's prosperity, have placed in stock a full line of staple groceries, in addition to their stock of dry goods, clothing, boots, shoes, hats and caps, blankets, quilts and winter supplies in general.

Already we have gained the confidence of the public through the exceptional values we are offering at prices much below those formerly paid. We have adopted as our motto, "Quick sales and small profits," which we feel that the times justify. Our many friends are earnestly requested to call and we will take pleasure in quoting prices and showing goods, which are positive revelations to you.

We appreciate the fact that conditions of trade are shaping on different lines than those pursued by the old pioneer concerns, and, after experience and careful study, take up new methods of doing business, which are demanded by the intelligent public. Guaranteeing to give satisfaction in all business transactions, we are,

Yours respectfully,
BROWN & HUGHES.

N. B.—We request your attention to this space in next issue, which will contain a "leader" for our new departure.

WHAT THE THUMB REVEALS.

To the Palmist it Betrays the Weakness or Strength of the Whole Character.

"It is the thumb that betrays the weakness or strength of the whole character," writes Blanche W. Fischer on "Easy Reading of the Hand," in the November Ladies' Home Journal. "With a weak thumb a hand that otherwise shows great possibilities will be nervous, unsuccessfull, and remain undeveloped. With a large, strong thumb whatever faults or virtues the subject may have he will never be petty; he may be either good or bad, he will never be ordinary. A large thumb indicates one who is independent in both thought and action, who is ready to take the consequences of his own wrong doings, who is swayed only by reason, and is only disgusted and hardened by a display of emotion. The combination of a large thumb with a broad palm shows courage to the point of rashness; with a long, clear head line, absolute lack of fear and great calmness and decision in the moment of danger. A small thumb always indicates a sentimental, impressionable nature, incapable of forming any very high aims, or of executing work of any value. The opinions of subjects are formed for him, never by him, although he will believe himself to have thought them all out, and will quote them as his own. A thumb easily bent back shows extravagance of thought and adaptability, and a tendency to 'fad.' The flat, or called, phalanx of the humb represents will power; the second joint, logic. If the first is long and the second short the subject will be self-willed and violent, having no restraint whatever over his passions. If the second is long and the first short he will be logical, calculating, and will rule every action by reason; but the energy and desire for action will be materially decreased. To have a really good thumb the two phalanges should be of equal length; then reason and will combine, and the highest results for a happy future should be forthcoming."

There are many incidents of the late war—little anecdotes showing the conduct of our officers and soldiers in the field—which seem with interest and are full of meaning to every thoughtful American. "Don't shoot at retreating men," was the noble command of Colonel Wood. "Don't cheer, boys, the fellows are lying," said Captain Philip of the Texas. A splendid characterization of the stuff the American sailor is made of is found in Captain Bob Evans' eloquent words: "So long as the enemy showed his flag, they fought like American women; but when the flag came down, they were as gentle and tender as American women." These words should live.
