HIS BODY FOR SALE Means by Which a San Francisco Mar

Hopes to Prolong His Life. There is a man in San Francisco willing to barter his body to pay his debts a man so honest that the duns of his landlord drive him to desperation. Recently he tried to sell his body to the board of health that he might be able to live decently and honestly until the time for delivery.

The man's name is Wilhelm Opper mann, and he is 61 years old. He has lived in San Francisco 13 years, and in America 31. He first saw the light in Hanover, and something of the fatherland speech still lingers on his tongue.

The body he wishes to sell is handsome and healthy, and many a millionaire, who has not lived as well, would be glad to pay ten times the price, could the transfer take place immediately. Oppermann has never been ill, but he is willing to sell the body that has served him so well on condition that his soul be allowed to retain his mortal part as long as it likes. Afterward the purchaser of the body can do what he likes with it. By profession Oppermann is a composer and teacher of music, his instruno pay for the teacher.

offer his body for sale. So he approached the board of health and asked them to buy. Taken back by his proposition, one of the members told him to put his petition in due form and present it on Wednesday. The old man is hoping that the proposition will be ac-

If not, he is going to the medical colleges to ask them to buy a fine, stalwart old body, to be delivered to them when the owner is through with it. In this way the mind that owns the clay hopes to get another start in this slippery world of ours .- San Francisco Chron-

"Another extraordinary popular belief is that respecting the nature of a common cold. You will hear the most intelligent men saying that it is due to an excess of cold inside your body, and they will advise you to use a mustard plaster 'to draw out the cold.' In reality the cold is simply an excess of heat inside, and the mustard plaster is intended to draw out the heat. What happens when you get a cold is that the cooling of the outside of the body squeezes the blood vessels and forces a lot more blood into the lungs than can be accommodated. LUBRICATING A WATCH.

o Other Piece of Machinery Will Rus So Long After a Single Oiling. Very few of the millions of people who carry watches realize to what a powerful extent lubrication is developed, and what an extraordinary number of turns the balance wheel makes with one oiling, says the Philadelphia Record. A Chestnut street watchmaker, whose knowledge of these wonderful pieces of mechanism is not exceeded by any man in this city, has made up an interesting table of comparison to show the perfection of lubrication in a watch.

A watch will run on one oiling from a year to a year and a half. Every minute the balance wheel turns on its axis 450 times, and 27,000 times in an hour. Accepting the year as the time the ordinary watch will run with one oiling, he finds that if the driver of a locomotive was as well oiled as a balance wheel of a watch, it ought to run 60 miles an hour day and night for 648 days, or well on to two years, with one oiling. In that time it would traverse a distance equal to nearly four times the circumference of the earth.

In view of the fact that in reality few locomotives will run one day without reoiling, he maintains that the
