FRIDAY, Dec. 2, 1898.

All intelligent oponions during the past month have been in confirmation of the view that the only salvation for the Philippine archipelago lies in the full estabilishment there of American authority. The Spanish forces would be wholly unable to quell the rebels under Aguinaldo and other leaders. But, on the other hand, the rebels themselves are not sufficiently unified in leadership and purpose to establish peace and order. If left to themselves they would break into warring factions at once, Manila may be looted, all foreign and commercial interests would be sacrificed, and anarchy would pre- rounding it. vail. French influence predominates in Spain; and France and Russia would by no means be willing to see Germany installed at Manilla. Germany and England, on the other band, would assuredly not be willing to see France and Russia fall heir to the islands. The continental powers, in a group, would protest against an English solution of the Philippine question. The Japanese, undoubtely, would be glad to take the islands, but neither Europe, on one hand, nor the Filipinos, on the other, would about 7 o'clock in the lane near Dr. tolerate that. ## NEW DEPARTURE!

Semi-Weekly Gazette Merges Into a Weekly with This Issue.

FRIDAY NEXT IT SPREADS ITS WINGS.

At the conclusion of five months' association with the Gazette, as editor and publisher, we feel satisfied that it is to the best interests of the county in general to double the volume of reading matter, and issue ce each week instead of twice, as heretofore.

This departure is at the suggestion of many of our conservative advertising patrons and subscribers, who have shown their appreciation of our efforts to publish a local paper to the best of our ability.

Our purpose is to be fair in consideration of all matters, public and private, making no pretense we cannot conscientiously and consistently carry out.

We shall stand "first, last and all the time" for the interests of the county as a whole, realizing that the county seat, as a "hub," is entirely dependent upon the strength and prosperity of the country sur-As always, our political preference is the principles of the Republican party, waiving them only when we conscientiously believe our local interests can be better served by a chosen representative best qualified Spain would, of course, endeavor to fulfill the requirements of his office to our mutual welfare.

Believing we can publish a weekly more interesting and valuable to a majority of our taxpayers, regardless of political preferences, we await their verdict.

Respectfully yours,

CORLIES MERRITT. Editor and publisher of the Weekly Gazette.
