MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE.

Sentence to Be Passed by Judge Lowell on Tuesday. Here is the verdict as returned at 11:30 this forenoon in the Cunningham murder trial.

It was at 11:30 o'clock that word came to Judge Lowell that the Cunningham jury, of which the members were: Geo. D. Pebler, foreman; Z. W. Lockwood, M. M. Myrick, Angus Cameron, W. H. Sayree, L. A. Christopher, Julius Henderson, Frank E. Sherman, A. A. Crawford, J. B. Kennedy, A. T. Perkins and J. S. Manning, had agreed on a verdict.

At that time, then, Judge Lowell will summon C. C. Cunningham into court and, for the killing of Oliver Q. King, on September 17, 1898, sentence him for life to the penitentiary of the State of Oregon, at Salem.

Every one was on the "qui vive" to hear the verdict and it was rather remarkable that there was almost universal acquiescence in the decision of the jury.

OREGON WOOLGROWERS MEET.

A Large Attendance and Much Interest in the Grazing Question. The Dalles Chronicle January 25th. The Oregon Wool Growers Association met in a special meeting this morning in the Club rooms.

Mr. A. R. Thompson, of this city, was chosen temporary chairman and a telegram from Capt. S. B. Ormsby, special forestry agent of the department of the interior, Capt. Ormsby had written that the department had called upon him for a report as to the best plan to regulate the summer grazing of sheep in the Cascade Reserve and before making his report he wished to learn the views and suggestions of the sheep owners whose bands graze in the Cascade mountains.

Among the topics discussed were inquiring whether it would be better to allot the range in several or issue permits to the sheepmen to occupy at large those portions of the reserve which have been thrown open for grazing; what charge would be a reasonable one to exact from stockmen as rental for the grazing lands; whether it would be better to let the range at auction to the highest bidder or allow those who occupied the different territories last season to have the preference in obtaining the respective portions again during the coming summer.

Various opinions were expressed by the members present, but all wished to learn from Captain Ormsby what the intentions of the government are before taking a decided action.

A letter from State Representative A. S. Roberts, who is now in Salem, was read expressing his regret at not being able to attend the convention, and expressing the hope that the association would prepare some memorial asking that the national congress take some action which would determine upon the leasing system and which would state the rights of the government and the lessees so that they would be fixed and certain.

Many wool buyers from different points were present, though there is no change in the tone of the market.

Among the members present were: H. C. Rooper, Ridgeway; F. N. Jones, M. J. Leuder, J. M. Davis, Sherar's Bridge; J. C. O'Leary, Rutledge; J. H. Smith, J. V. O'Leary, Grass Valley; Frank Gable, Wapinitia; A. A. Bonney, Tygh; C. A. Rhea, Heppner; A. M. Kelsay, J. W. Lewis, A. S. McAllister, D. M. French, A. R. Thompson, F. W. Wilson, The Dalles.

Interest in the association is steadily increasing, and the following new names were added to the list today: D. P. Ketchum, Robt. Mays, The Dalles; C. P. Ragsdale, Moro; K. R. Hinton, Bakedown; P. J. Walsh, Antelope; Horatio Fargher, Owen Jones, Nansene; John Karlen, Grass Valley; W. E. Hunt, Antelope; Frank Lee, Heppner; C. C. O'Neal, Donald McLennan, Antelope.

NEARLY HALF A MILLION BOUGHT. Wheat having touched the desired 60-cent mark, many farmers have let go during the past two days.

Wheat having touched the desired 60-cent mark, many farmers have let go during the past two days. Buyers estimate the purchases in Umattilla county at from 400,000 to 500,000 bushels, of which total, probably one-half was bought in Pendleton.

All sales were on a 50-cent basis for club, bluestem bringing the usual premium over the standard grade of 3 cents. Purchases have been made at Pendleton, Athens, and Weston, and all the buyers have been in on the big deals.

Judging from the statements of the buyers, the buys have been not particularly ill contracts, but merely because the buyers and sellers could at last come to an agreement on the demanded 50-cent basis, and, hence, trades resulted. Merchants in the towns mentioned will feel the effects at once. A quarter million dollars have been thus loosened up and the business cannot but be benefited by it.

PORTLAND'S FAIRYLAND.

Delightful Evening Spent at the Great Irish Fair. Evening Telegram. Visiting the Irish fair is like exploring fairyland. Delightful surprises are met with at every turn.

Nor less interesting are the lights and shadows of human nature as depicted by the various members of the moving throng; the flashes of wit from the fair ones in charge of the bubbling humor of those not schooled in restraining their feelings.

Then, too, there are special musical programs, as well as a variety of other attractions, each evening and afternoon. The increased attendance shows that the public is beginning to appreciate the fair. Portland people may be slow in taking hold of anything, for the reason that they are critical in their judgment, but once a favorable verdict is given, from that time the success of any enterprise is certain.

Saturday evening the attendance was larger than that of any other since the opening.

For one price of admission the visitor can see enough for a solid evening's entertainment, and for a dollar he can see everything in the building and have several dollars' worth of fun. The truth of the matter is that people are furnished amusement for contributing to charity.

One of the features Saturday evening was the singing of the "Volunteer's Farewell," by Walter Craig, the well-known Scottish baritone. The song made a decided hit, as it has every time it has been sung in Portland or elsewhere. It is now being sung in Chicago and New York, and Mr. Gibson, the local composer, is receiving a great deal of attention in consequence. He accompanied Mr. Craig on the piano Saturday evening. After each verse the singer was applauded and upon concluding recalled for an encore. Mr. Craig sang the "Volunteer's Return," another one of Mr. Gibson's pieces.

GRANT COUNTY NEWS. From the Long Creek Eagle. Jake Cunningham, who has been ill at the Monumental hotel for some time, was removed to the McDuffie hot springs last week, where he has hopes of regaining his health.

Clem Blackwell, a resident of this valley, has sold his ranch near the Middle Fork to James M. Shields. Mr. Blackwell will hereafter turn his attention to the sheep business.

John Kelly, who has been in ill health at the Monumental hotel in this city, is able to be out again. He is troubled with a gunshot wound which he received during the civil war.

It is reported that Thos. McEwen has sub-contracted the Austin-Susanneville mail route, and has purchased the ranch of Rasmus Nelson of Susanneville. He will erect a large feed barn at Susanneville in the spring.

Word was received here in Long Creek that at the famous Bonanza mine, last week, the mill operators took $1000 from the plates each hour for 15 successive hours. The ledge from which this ore is mined is eight feet wide. One chunk of ore weighing over a ton, was worth $2 per pound.

Columbus Sewell, an old-time resident of Canyon City, died at his home on Tuesday, January 17, of pneumonia. Mr. Sewell came to Canyon City in the early 50's, where he has since resided. His life has been one of an upright, honest citizen, and even though he belonged to the colored race, there is not a person in all his acquaintances who can justly say anything of him detrimental to his character.

Free to Teachers and Scholars. In 1897 we had thousands of requests from teachers and scholars for Wonderland '97. The edition—a large one—was exhausted long before the end of the year. Wonderland '98 cannot only be supplied to those unable to secure the former but also to others. It is entirely different however, from the first named book. It has a chapter on the Agricultural Northwest, cramed full of valuable information; one on Yellowstone Park, written especially for teachers; another on Alaska and Klondike, and one on a canoe lake trip, that will be of interest to schools. The book has a high art cover designed by Layendecker, and it is profusely illustrated from new photographs. The Northern Pacific railway will send the book and a revised folder map of Yellowstone Park, upon receipt of six cents in stamps or postal order. Send to Chas. S. Fee, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn. Write address plainly and state where you saw the advertisement.

For La Grippe. Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash av., corner Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a gripe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of the gripe to result in pneumonia.
