Poor and Weak

Catarrh and Bronchial Trouble— Had no Appetite—Now Better in Every Way—A Delicate Child.

"Some time since I took a sudden cold and could not get rid of it. Being subject to catarrh and bronchial trouble I coughed terribly. I lost my appetite and grew poor and weak and I did not feel like work. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time the cough disappeared, I slept well, had a good appetite and I was better in every way. Last spring I was not feeling well, I had no appetite and no strength. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon felt more like work. My little nephew was a delicate child and had a humor which troubled him so he could not rest at night. He has taken a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he has a good appetite and is able to sleep." Miss ANNE J. FREEMAN, South Duxbury, Mass.

The Northwest Herald, a seven-column, eight-page illustrated paper, published by George L. Hutchin, at Portland, and intended as a family journal, presents itself. It is well printed and profusely illustrated, and will doubtless become a popular journal.

As a result of the enforcement of ordinance No. 70, Marshal Thornton has three head of stock in the pound, and he promises a protection for our gardens and lawns this summer. It will work a hardship on the representative's burlesque bovine, whose accomplishment of gate-opening meant for her many a midnight raid.

J. I. Carson left Heppner by rail with 11,000 head of sheep this week. He carried his "laurels" up his sleeve, and as he expressed himself, "had them other fellows kept away, he would have had 50,000 head within three day's time." He surely started the sheep deal in this section, which at once developed prices satisfactory to the majority of our sheep raisers.

Frank H. Johnson, representing Sillerman Bros., is again doing a lively business in this field, paying the top prices for wool. This week he secured the clips of Jas. Jones, D. O. Justus, Oscar Shafer and Herb Bartholomew. He will operate here and in the Dalles during the season, remaining in Heppner Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week.

The Honser & Haines Mfg. Co., of Stockton, California, employ a force of 120 men and are working day and night, rushing shipments of their combined harvesters to California points in order to make room for their two-wheel side-hill machines for the Oregon and Washington trade. The demand for their machines this season is showing the popularity of the celebrated Haines-Honsers combine harvesters.

A telegram was received by Deputy Sheriff Matlock from Leslie that his father's condition had been diagnosed by Chicago's famous physicians, and their conclusion was that he might return home, where treatment would prove as beneficial as in Chicago, so they started immediately on their return and will reach here Saturday. Further particulars will appear in next week's edition of the Gazette.

Jess T. Stewart launches out on the world next week a full-fledged buccaro. "Counter-hopping" with him is a thing of the past, and possible distant future. He has purchased 100 head of good-sized horses of Otis Welch, and with the assistance of Mart Smith, O. Berkeley and Jack Eies, will test the Oregonian and Heppner Gazette's report of a good horse market in Southern Oregon. When he returns to Heppner he will devote the proceeds of the sale to raising garden truck and settling down.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by Conser & Warren.

Another interesting and valuable article in this number of McClure's is an account of negotiations between Admiral Dewey and the Spanish commanders that led to the final surrender of Manila practically without any fighting between the land forces. It is written by Oscar King Davis, Manila correspondent of the New York Sun, from the diary of M. Edward Andre, the Belgian consul at Manila, through whom the negotiations were conducted. It is, therefore, authoritative; and it is a story that has never before been fully told. It gives new illustration of the rare tact and sagacity of the American admiral.

From a copy of the Columbus Advocate, published at Columbus, Kansas, and handed us by Mrs. A. T. McNair, we clip the following: "The Advocate family is highly pleased at receiving an invitation to attend graduating exercises in the opera hall, Heppner, Oregon, May 26, 1899, at 8 p. m. One of the graduates of the class is Lillian F. McNay, niece of the editor of this paper, and one he has always been very proud of. In 1885, when a mere baby girl, but bright as a new silver, republican dollar, she left Manhattan, Kan., with her parents for a good girl and a grand life for her father, A. T., and we will rejoice with him in that happy hour as he listens to the oration of his daughter on the subject, "The Marble Waiteth," and sorry we cannot be by his side during the evening, as he has been a brother in every sense of the word."

Disolution Notice.
The firm of M. Lichtenthal & Co. has this day, May 31, 1899, been dissolved by mutual consent, S. P. Devin retiring from the firm, and M. Lichtenthal continuing the business, who will collect all bills due the old firm and pay all indebtedness.

Mrs. I. N. Hughes of Wagner was seriously ill this week, requiring the services of Dr. Swinburne who reports her much improved. On his return trip from there he removed a tumor from the neck of Mr. Sam Cox, of Cox Brook, at Hardman.

Harry Phillips, equipped suitable for a wagon tour of the continent, with his entire family pulled out of Heppner today, after almost twenty years' continuous residence here, seeking a new home further north, along the frontier line. Many were his friends who watched his caravan as it passed down the street with a sad and reluctant, their mind turning back to their pleasant associations with him and his family. He has the best wishes of the community at large for his success in a new country.

Mrs. Herb Bartholomew, accompanied by her son and daughter, started for an eastern trip three months Tuesday morning. From here to the Junction she was accompanied by a party of young society folks, who saw her safely start on her journey over the O. R. & N. via Salt Lake City, thence along the Rio Grande to Denver. From there she will be met by her first visiting party. Herb, during her absence, will be under control of the city authorities. In his new fashionable spring suits, patent shoes and new "Dunlap" hat, ordered by telegraph, he will draw an increased salary as a fashion plate for Rhea & Welch's clothing department.

COUNTY ROADS.

Suggestions For Work on Them Are Now in Order.

We feel it our duty to start the annual road-work agitation. A committee should be appointed at once by the business men of Heppner to make a careful inspection of all roads leading into the town, and active work begun. Washouts and slides, as a result of the last storm, menace teamsters on all our county roads. Now that wool sales are being made at a lively rate, hauling begins, and a reward is in store for our business men's united efforts to induce trade in this direction "Procrastination is the thief of time."

Lee Cantwell made a trip to Long Creek and other points last week and reports the roads as almost impassable in many places, and at Long Creek learned that Pendleton had two men constantly at work on the roads between Ukiah and Pendleton and other points, spring no expense in their efforts to gain Long Creek, John Day and Susanville trade. This year will be a lively one in these sections, and Heppner's energy must be stirred accordingly.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The corner-stone laying of the All Saints' church last Friday attracted many of our people. Bishop Morris, assisting in a very impressive manner, officiated by the Rev. W. E. Potwin. Members of the choir of other churches assisted in singing, adding much to the interest of the occasion. Rev. Bishop Morris, in his remarks, recited his experience in raising the funds necessary to build this church, which is to be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The Episcopal church is gaining in strength the world over, and it is a great consolation to the members of this community to be able to worship in a church of their own.

Dress Making.

Mrs. M. C. Denny has opened dress-making parlors at the Mountain house, and solicits patronage, guaranteeing entire satisfaction.

Fly's Squirrel Poison

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

A Packed House, and Interesting Program Thoroughly Enjoyed.

Friday night the opera house was completely packed, the entire town and adjacent country seeming to have turned out in honor of the graduating class of twenty.

Those fortunate in being members of this distinguished class of graduates were: Misses Charlotte Shipley, Nellie Phillips, Gertrude Bishop, Pearl Wells, Elsie Ayers, Vera Hart, Lena Glascock, Anna McBride, Estella A. Rhea, Bertha A. Adkins, Lillian McNay, Anna Smith, Lula M. Hager, Emmaline E. Farnsworth, Lizzie Howard, and Jennie Kirk, and Messrs. Louis Balsiger, B. F. Matlock, Hansen Hughes, and Heppner Blackman.

The program was introduced with the graduating class and honored teachers and guests in procession, marching through the aisles to the stage accompanied by Mrs. Brown on the piano.

Miss Gertrude Bishop played the opening piece, "Dance Bretonne," a piano solo, by G. Bachmann, in a very creditable manner.

Professor Howard's request for the ladies to remove their hats was gracefully responded to.

Seated on the stage in a semi-circle surrounded with the beautiful decorations of their class colors, and in the foreground an ocean of flowers, it was truly an inspiring picture, which brought the parents to a satisfactory appreciation of the reward for their patience in at last covering their loved ones with a garland of bright intelligence.

In the necessitated absence of Rev. Shelly, Rev. Lindsey addressed the assemblage in prayer.

Miss Anna Smith's salutarian address on "Leadership," delivered in good voice, without hesitation, was a most encouraging example of those to follow.

Miss Estella A. Rhea's beautiful oration of "Night Brings Out the Stars," was enthusiastically received.

Miss Elsie Ayers, at the piano, accompanied the ladies' quartet class, in "Kentucky Babe," its sweet melody charming the audience.

"Our Flag," by Miss Anna McBride, stirred the enthusiasm of her listeners, and won for her a vigorous applause.

Miss Lula M. Hager, in her essay, on "Woman's Place," absorbed the attention of all lovers of home.

A vocal solo, by Miss Elsie I. Ayers, with Heppner Blackman as piano accompanist, was thoroughly enjoyed.

"The Marble Waiteth," was delivered by Miss Lillian McNay, with all the force and dignity, of which she is possessed, and was listened to with admiration.

The "History of the Class," read by Miss Emmaline E. Farnsworth, was a very ingenious and witty recital of the battle fought, during the ten long months.

"Regeneration of Cuba," by Louis Balsiger, in his original style, was listened to with interest.

"Every Man Builds Himself," the subject of Miss Bertha A. Adkins' essay, was listened to with profit.

Heppner Blackman's "Prophecy," was delivered with exceptional talent, and proved amusement for all hands.

Miss Charlotte Shipley, closed the class recitations, with the valdicatorian, "Commercial Advancement," which she rendered in an exceptional manner. She displayed a strong mind, and a thorough comprehension of her subject, which would have held the attention of a legislative body.

Professor Howard then introduced Professor O. A. Hauerbach, of Whitman college, ranked as one of the brightest young intellects and orators of the present generation. His subject, "The New Knighthood," was illustrative of the possibilities of our public school and college graduates, and he handled his subj. so as to reach the comprehension of every listener.

Judge A. G. Bartholomew was then called upon for the presentation of diplomas. His remarks were directly to the point, and embodied advice, which, if adhered to, make life's journey what it should be.

Principal Howard followed next, reviewing his association with the pupils, justly proud of the results of his efforts, as displayed in the body of graduates. His words inspired a feeling not only with his pupils, but with their parents, that he had labored with an ambition for the success of his pupils.

As an appreciation of the pupils' gratitude both Professor Howard and Miss Balsiger were presented by Miss Pearl Wells, in an appropriate speech, valuable tokens of their esteem.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, the pupils, their parents and a few invited guests repaired to a banquet hall, where a feast was enjoyed, and appropriate toasts offered by the honorable Ex-Congressman Ellis, as toast master, and numerous others.

The flower girls, Flossie Whiteis, Ruth Hart, Nettie Shelley and Thresha Fischer, are entitled to very creditable mention.

OFF For Wyoming.

Dr. J. M. Wilson left Heppner Monday morning for this season, having secured and started over the trail for Huntington 30,000 head of sheep. From there he will ship to Douglas, Wyoming.

"Doc" will meet the sheep at Huntington. In outfitting he left fully $4,000 with our merchants, which is an important item. He predicts no trouble in getting through Grant and Baker counties with his sheep. Among his trailing crew were: C. W. Carrico, foreman, and H. H. Ellensberg, Frank Bardick and Wm. Coals.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten millions trial bottles of this great medicine and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of Lungs cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are entirely cured by it. Call on E. J. Slocum, druggist, and get a trial bottle free, regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Narrow Escape for a Party of Young People From Sand Hollow.

Sunday a party of prominent young people from Sand Hollow drove to town, and at the conclusion of a pleasant evening's visit at Judge Bartholomew's, repaired to their hack accompanied by a number of young folks, and in the excitement of a jolly farewell the driver, Ernest Edwards, had fastened the lines to a shadow, while either assisting his fair lady to a seat in the hack or devoting a few seconds to the girl he "was to leave behind," when the team, under inspiration of a feed of oats, started for the hunchgrass regions of home at a killing pace. Ernest, Milt Morgan and Earl Kirkpatrick were left speechless, riveted to the spot. Recovering themselves darkness and the runaway. Near the Palace the sole occupant, Miss Edwards, had been deposited on the sidewalk unceremoniously, escaping with numerous severe bruises. The speed of the team was next interrupted by the corner of the engine house and jail, and it was a question which had come out first best. The corner of the building, including a panel door, was smashed into kindling, while the hack and harness was next to a heap of ruins. The horses said nothing, but it is safe to venture an opinion that no charge of the city marshal will ever bump up against that jail door with more bruises than those they had. It is not the bill of expense in store for the young men, in buggy repairs, etc., that hurts them, but the thoughts they let go of the lines. Our advice to them is never to tie to a shadow, but pass the lines over to the ladies.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the slightest fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars, and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by Conser & Warren.

SHIPMENT OF SHEEP.

The O. R. & N. to the Trailers' Home—Special Rates.

Mr. J. C. Millie, the general livestock agent of the O. R. & N., left Heppner the first of the week, after having installed the first shipment of sheep over their line to Huntington from this point. The company feel the importance of this new departure and are granting a special rate which they estimate at a saving of not less than six cents a head, over the cost of trailing them, besides saving much time and trouble. Within eighteen hours' time the sheep will reach Huntington. Grant county's disposition toward our trailers is a serious menace to buyers, and the O. R. & N., coming to our rescue at a reasonable transportation rate, will surely revolutionize the sheep industry, and make Heppner one of the most important shipping points on their system.

$100 REWARD!

Will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing cattle branded "WH" connected on the left side. Waddie on the nose. PRYCE HUGHES.

HORSEMAN NOTICE.

The imported running stallion Calburnus will make the season of 1899 at B. F. Swaggart's farm, 10 miles north of Heppner. Good pasture will be furnished free, but will not be responsible for accidents, or cares getting away, although particular care will be taken to prevent the same. Two Kentucky Jacks will also make the season there. A few good milk cows for sale.

LOOK AT THIS!

Those who are indebted to The Patterson Publishing Co. will take notice that the old firm has dissolved and gone out of business. However, there is yet owing the old firm a large amount of money, long past due. Those indebted must settle up without delay. The old books of the company may be found at the Gazette office, where money will be received and receipts given.
