Oh, How Thankful

Pain Was Maddening and Hope Had Been Abandoned—Wonderful Results of Purifying the Blood.

"A very severe pain came in my left knee, which grew worse and worse, and finally a sore broke out above the knee. It discharged a great deal and the pain from my thigh down was maddening. Large, hard, purple spots appeared on my leg. I suffered in this way for years, and gave up all hope of ever being cured. My wife was reading of a case like mine cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she advised me to try it. I began taking it and when I had used a few bottles I found relief from my suffering. Oh, how thankful I am for this relief! I am stronger than I have ever been in my life. I am in the best of health, have a good appetite and am a new man altogether." J. P. MOORE, Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.
Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

THE FAIR

A MODEL APOTHECARY SHOP.

Patterson and Son are to be congratulated upon being the proprietors of one of the best and most artistically arranged drug stores in the Northwest, now that their rooms have been given their final finish. The extension to the sidewalks afford them a frontage with display windows, that envy of every business house in our prosperous little city. The interior is a veritable palace, the beautiful showcases arranged in a manner striking to the beholder. Within these cases are a stock of goods, the latest and finest in finish and quality, setting aside the ambition of the most fastidious to seek the great metropolitan centers for a selection to excite the admiration of their "folks at home." It is this kind of enterprise that marks the progress of American merchants, which today as tomorrow the world and "drives competition to the wall." Their shelves are filled with Whitall, Tatam's artistic bottles, containing every essential drug. Their stock comprises complete lines of:
The famous Howard brushes, full bristle and solid backs.
In rubber goods, the latest and finest lines ever introduced outside the fashionable cities, such as water bottles, atomizers, syringes, etc.
Toilet articles of every description, including lovely hand mirrors for dressing cases.
Toilet soaps, of the highest standard, from all the leading manufacturers.
Stationery, in wedding and parchment bonds, exceedingly swell.
Eye glasses and spectacles to suit everybody.
Sundry drugs and patent medicines of every description.
The finest medicinal whiskeys, wines, etc.
Perfumes, embracing Seely's Admiral Dewey (the latest), Crown Violet and Crabapple, besides the choicest makes of Roger & Gallet and Lushorg. Kodaak supplies of all kinds. Mr. Patterson classes as an expert photographer, and is versed in all kinds of cameras, and is ever ready to explain their intricacies and merits, and supply a person's preference.
In fact everything kept in a well regulated drug establishment.
The store is equipped with Tramer's counter and prescription scales, the most accurate in use.
Mr. B. R. Patterson, returns to Heppner a graduate pharmacist with a degree of Ph. G. from the well known Buffalo college of Pharmacy of New York state, and having spent two years as leading prescription clerk in leading drug stores throughout the different states, his latest position being with the Perry Drug Co., of Ellensburg Wash., which guarantees his efficiency. His prescription laboratory is faultlessly arranged and open to the inspection of all.

"HEPPNER AGGRIEVED"

Under the above heading, after quoting the Gazette in detail in its criticism of the interview of Dr. Blalock, as published in the Walla Walla Union, the Walla Walla Statesman defends the doctor in the following vigorous manner: "It gives the Statesman great pleasure to inform the Gazette that Dr. Blalock gave a correct statement to the Union, which they garbled in publication; that when the doctor saw the Union had misrepresented the condition, he immediately demanded a correction, that the correction was promised, but has never been forthcoming. Dr. Blalock was rather indignant that a report so unjust to Heppner should go out through the looseness of the Union's methods, and he also had a right to be indignant that he should be made responsible for the misrepresentation. He stated that he raised the quarantine on the town and on some of the houses, and declared to the Heppnerites that there was no danger in communicating with them.
"It was bad enough that the morning paper should so flagrantly misrepresent and injure our sister town; but it was far worse to call down on Dr. Blalock, who deserves only the highest credit and praise from all this Northwest country, the blame of a town to which he had done a great service, as well as the criticism of other places which were not aware of the true circumstances.
"The Statesman is glad to set this matter right, and advise the Union to be more careful in the future."
Dr. Blalock considerably writes the Gazette a most satisfactory explanation embracing the sentiment expressed in the Statesman's comment. In view of the necessary sacrifice subsequent to the announcement of the three mild cases by our business men in general, we naturally took exception to untrue details of the situation.

Home Enterprise.

Geo. Whitehead made a trip to Portland this week buying extensively for The Fair. Mr. Whitehead is proving himself a wide-awake business man, and through his energy, the outside business conducted, which found Morrow county a fruitful field for their catalogue dealing, are more than alarmed, and will meet with a deserved routing. The farmers and property owners in general are beginning to realize that every dollar sent outside their own county for goods that can be obtained here is working the destruction of their own property values and increasing their taxation. The business men of Heppner, appreciating the unjust competition from the outside are doubling their vigilance, and are united in their efforts to accommodate the trade of their county. The Fair this week will start a "swell team" for the interior with their special "New Home" sewing machine in charge of a thorough sewing machine man, and it is safe to predict that he will meet with encouragement, as he deserves, at every farm house. His team comes from the famous Matlock ranges, and later on will be matched in a way that attention will be attracted to them.

VOLUNTEERS ARRIVE

Since going to press the Oregon volunteers have arrived in Portland. The city is wild in its excitement. Never in the history of the city has excitement run so high. Oregon lined the railroad tracks as they passed along, deafening with their yells of welcome, the screaming of the locomotive's shrill whistle.

ASTORIA RAILROAD.

In another column will be seen the advertisement of the Astoria & Columbia River Railway Co., which carries the public to the beach in four hours, thus avoiding a day's tedious journey. Those going to the coast hurriedly always take this quick service, thus enjoying as much as possible of the sea's exhilarating influence. Read the ad carefully.

THE STATE FAIR.

The Gazette acknowledges the receipt of a season ticket for the state fair to convene at Salem, September 15th and continuing until the 22d. Oregon's prosperity insures a success of this fair. Railroads will give special rates. It is the duty of every Oregonian to take an interest in this annual exhibit of its products, where people from different agricultural and stockraising sections have an opportunity to meet, compare notes and perpetuate their interest in each other.

NEW HAY DERICK.

In the rear of Park Garrigue's is erected a hay derick, the invention of Mr. Stubbstedt of Echo, which is attracting a great deal of attention. Mr. Stubbstedt will have it patented at once. In the judgment of practical men it has the best thing of its kind. Call and examine it.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

The personal and brevity columns of the Gazette, registering the influx of farmers and stockmen to our city since last Saturday in evidence enough of the exaggerated report of smallpox here, and the fact that the false alarm in the country is at an end. A majority of lone's business men have been with us and our streets have been well lined with teams from John Day, Canyon City and Long Creek. Among those loading freight for these points were Browning, Frye, Vegas, Histon and Tip Williams. As many express it, "the country in general is loyal to Heppner, and the presence of Pendleton, Baker City and other points watching most of out trade is all talk. As long as Heppner has the goods and prices, she will hold the trade she is entitled to."

LOST HORSE.

Bay horse, weight about 1300, branded HF connected on the right stifle. Strayed from Ellis creek. Suitable reward will be paid for information or delivery of animal at Joe Luckman's ranch on Little Butter creek. Any one detaining said horse after this time will be prosecuted.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR FLUX.

Mr. John Mathias, a well known stock dealer of Pulaski, Ky., says: "After suffering for over a week with flux, and my physician having failed to relieve me, I was advised to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and have the pleasure of stating that the half of one bottle cured me." For sale by Conser & Warren.
