C. H. and James Hams, of Hardman, were in this week.
The Heppner Transfer Co. will always serve the people right.

Drill and gangplows for sale at A. M. Gunn's blacksmith shop.
Geo. Parker, editor of the Lone Post, spent Tuesday night in Heppner.

Frank C. Patterson, of Lone, is now in the employ of Swaggart & McAttee.
Don't forget Dickson at the lone stable when you want your team cared for.

The First National Bank now has its headquarters in the Palace Hotel office.
Seed Rye for sale at the Morrow County Land and Trust Co's warehouse.

Mike Kinney and Tom Gillfill came in to attend the K. of P. Lodge Wednesday.
Kinney canyon now prides itself on as handsome a residence as Morrow county affords.

Mr. Berkeley and Thos. Gillfill were the builders. Mike Kenney and family will enjoy it and their friends will find the latch string hanging on the outside for them.
Hon. Phil Metschan, in connection with Mr. C. W. Knowles, has taken charge of the Imperial Hotel, of Portland.

The reputation of these gentlemen insures the success of the enterprise. The diningroom is excellently managed and is unsurpassed.

The O. R. & N. Co's fare to Portland and return during the Industrial fair will be one fare with 50 cents added for two admission coupons to the exposition, making a total of $8.30.

The day of ticket sale is on Mondays, and tickets expire on the following Monday.
Messrs. Noble & Stewart, of Beaver creek, Crook county, delivered 150 head of beef cattle on board cars here Monday.

en route to Fryan & Bruan, Seattle. The same train carried out three carloads shipped by Chas. Royce for the Union Meat Co., at Troutdale, making a total of nine cars.
The subjects at the M. E. church next Sunday will be "The Supreme Life" in the morning, and "The Commercial Value of Christianity" in the evening.

A special invitation is given to the young men and women to be present at the evening service.
C. D. NICKELSEN, Pastor.

The work of destruction is progressing satisfactory to Geo. Conser, and the interior of the bank is a complete wreck. George promises us that in the remodeling and artistic decorations he will pattern after the world's famous architects and Heppnerites will have a banking institution appropriate to the town.
John Spencer returned from the vicinity of Prineville the first of the week, having secured 450 head of Rambouillet, Delaine and half-bred Lincoln bucks, which he shipped from here Tuesday morning for Rawlins, Wyo., from where he will drive them to Lost Cabin, their final stopping point. These bucks were secured of the Prineville Land and Livestock Co.

Last Friday evening a delightful surprise party was given Myra Yeager by her numerous friends at her home. Those present were: Cora and Dora Prater, Mand Creswell, Nellie Lahue, Lillie Cochran, Edna Mallory, Essie Leezer, Bessie Sutton, Elsie Driskill, Percy Johnson, Charlie Hornor, Harry and Forest Brians, Elmer Willis, John Vaughan and Ralph Thompson.

The 300,000 pounds of wool bought of Henry Heppner by Frank Johnson, Silberman's buyer, is now baled and in Heppner's warehouse awaiting shipment. The baling press was pushed with vigor and its delay in shipment is causing Mr. Johnson a great deal of annoyance and expense. The railroad failing to furnish him with the necessary cars is responsible for the delay.
County Judge Calk, of Multnomah, who is Grand Chancellor of the K. of P., honored Heppner with his presence from Tuesday until this morning. His business here was to pay the lodge a visit, and the attention given him by its members was significant of their appreciation of his visit. Being familiar with the judge's social, political and business career in Portland we have no hesitancy in pronouncing him one of the bright, shining lights of the metropolis, whose future we will all doubtless have an opportunity to shape. An introduction to him means a lasting friendship.

It amuses us to see some of our exchanges squirm in an attempt to offend nobody. The newspaper that can be published in a way to not offend any one is a jewel, and the editor is entitled to a pair of golden wings. Human nature is so constituted that some like scandals, while others don't; some like to see others "ripped up the back," others don't; some like to have the truth told about them, others don't; some like to take a paper six or eight years and never miss an issue nor pay a cent a day and stop their paper when they get a statement of their account, others don't. It is not in the province of a newspaper to please every one, and the editor can extract consolation from the fact that the Lord himself failed to please everybody when on earth.—Exchange.

Welcome to the services at the M. E. church, South, next Sunday. At 11 a. m., "Woe"; at 7:30 p. m., "Righteousness vs. Sin." Sabbath school at 3 p. m. League at 7 p. m.

Mr. Bailey, of McCallum & Bailey, of John Day, passed through here last Saturday with his family enroute home after several weeks of pleasure in Portland and on Puget Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Rhea, Mr. and Mrs. Will Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Farnsworth and Judge Dutton and wife are among those who went to Portland this week to visit the exposition.

Mrs. Theodore Nelson, a highly cultured and estimable lady, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Leta, arrived here last week from Chicago, and will be the guests of Mrs. Herb Bartholomew for several weeks.

Mrs. L. J. Estes and little daughter, accompanied by her niece, who will spend the winter with her, returned from Portland last week with an extensive stock of late millinery, and is now holding her fall opening.

The Wasp, San Francisco's leading illustrated magazine, received this week, contains a series of illustrations of the Oregon volunteers, which are intensely interesting to those who were denied the pleasure of their reception.

George Wells is erecting an office building at the rear of his store, which will be occupied by Attorney Redfield and Dr. McSwords. Attorney Redfield's extensive library and office fixtures have already been removed to it.

The Sunday school at the South M. E. church, under the enthusiastic management of P. M. Howard, is growing very rapidly. He puts life, vim and snap into everything, especially the singing. The teachers are much encouraged at the outlook.

Hon. Phil Metschan, in connection with Mr. C. W. Knowles, has taken charge of the Imperial Hotel, of Portland. The reputation of these gentlemen insures the success of the enterprise. The diningroom is excellently managed and is unsurpassed.

LOW TILLARD DEAD.

His Untimely End Came by Accident on Wednesday Night.

Engineer Patterson brought the news to Heppner last night from the Junction that Low Tillard, who left here the morning previous on a cattle train, had fallen from the trestle north of the station, a distance of 30 feet and was seriously injured. This morning a dispatch from The Dalles announced his death at 4 o'clock a. m. Particulars obtained are that the incoming passenger train stopped on the trestle and the brakeman bearing groans beneath gave the alarm. Engineer Patterson and members of the stock train crew, who were switched there, went below and found Low badly hurt and unable to explain how the accident happened, although answering other questions. Carrying him to the depot he was placed on the passenger train and at Arlington a physician taken aboard the train carrying them to The Dalles, from whence came the announcement of his death without details.

Engineer Patterson's supposition was that he got off the stock train on the trestle to inspect the cattle and the train starting up he was knocked off.

The day previous Mr. Tillard disposed of his business to Cass Matlock, and being offered this opportunity on the stock train to go to Portland unfortunately took it.

Low was a man genial and kind in disposition, under the best appreciation and friendship of those who knew him best, and this sad end gave them all a shock. When business was successful he was liberal to a fault. Married, he was devoted to his mother and sisters, and his earnings went to their support. In his death the mother loses a devoted son and his sisters a loving brother whose place will never be filled.

Less Matlock and Frank R. barts, who always stand ready in the hour of need, took this morning's train for The Dalles to bring the remains home for burial.

DR. MARGUERITE GARNSEY DEPARTS.

After Two Years Successful Practice in our Midst.

About two years ago Dr. Marguerite Garnsey settled in Heppner at the conclusion of an interior trip and announced her herb remedies as curative of many ills flesh is heir to. On the grounds of her not being a licensed practitioner her legal rights were tested in the courts and she came out victorious, which naturally won the sympathy of the public, and, as a consequence her business developed lucrative proportions and she numbered many influential and wealthy citizens of this section.

Being a woman of striking appearance, strong character and exceptional executive ability she has been chosen a leader of the Maccabees, and Rebecca and her influence has contributed materially to the social enjoyments of our little inland city. In leaving here she parts with many devoted friends who earnestly wish for her success in alleviating distress and brightening the lives of those with whom she comes in contact. Flattering eastern inducements are offered her which she hopes to take advantage of.

Oscar Minor's Shorthorns Holding Their Own on the Circuit.

From the Rural Spirit and various correspondents we glean the following concerning the welfare of Oscar Minor and his herd of Shorthorns with which he began the circuit at Salem. His victories last year over the Ladd herd resulted in Mr. Ladd's scouring both the United States and Canada for blue-ribbon material, and the first prizes announced below indicate that he was successful.

Mr. Minor's list in comparison doubtless affords him a great deal of satisfaction from the fact that he was competing with a business man of Mr. Ladd's character, with the thousands of dollars he put into his blue-ribbon contest, satisfying him that he has but little to fear from the world's competition:
Shorthorns.—Chas. E. Ladd, 1st on bull, 2 year and under 3; 1st on bull, 1 year and under 2; 1st on cow or heifer, 3 years and over; 1st on cow or heifer, 2 years and under 3; 1st on cow or heifer, 1 year and under 2; 1st on bull calf, 1 year and under 1 year; 1st on herd of 5 animals to consist of 1 bull and 4 cows or heifers of any age; diplomas on bull of any age; diplomas on cow of any age; 1st on bull, 2 year and over; 1st on cow or heifer, 2 years.

W. O. Minor, 1st on bull, 3 years and over; 2nd on bull, 1 year and under 2; 2nd on cow or heifer, 2 years and under 3; 2nd on cow or heifer, 1 year and under 2; 1st on heifer calf, under 1 year; 1st on cow or heifer, 3 years and over; 1st on heifer calf under 1 year; 2nd on herd of 5 animals to consist of 1 bull and 4 cows or heifers of any age; 2nd on bull of any age; 2nd on bull under 2 years; 2nd on heifer under 2 years; 2nd on four animals the get of one bull, (4 sheep); diplomas on 4 animals the get of one bull.

At North Yakima the prizes went chiefly to Oscar's herd, and it consequently feels additional pride.
He is now in Spokane and at the conclusion of the fair we hope to be able to give further details of his victories. Mrs. Minor received his prize ribbon from Salem, which was held the pleasure of examining.

HEPPNER REVIVES.

The past week marks an era of prosperity for our town. Business has assumed its normal condition, the unfortunate, distorted smallpox epidemic has been wiped out, and both business men and citizens in general have recovered their equilibrium and seem determined to unite in wresting from sections, which have taken advantage of our disorganization, the trade war we are justly entitled to. The stockholders of the Heppner Flouring Mill have aroused themselves and in a business way announce to the public their determination to no longer submit to the underhanded methods of outside mills in "milking them to the cross." As business men they fully realize the importance of this industry to not only our town, but to our county, and are in the fight to win, if money and good products can bring about the desired end. Local opposition to honest efforts in the success of this milling industry is nothing short of treason to this entire community. The damnable proposition of compelling wheat growers to export wheat at 50 cents per bushel and pay $30 per ton for flour and almost $17 per ton for feed must be stopped. In justice to themselves the business men should unite at once and form a commercial club where meetings could be held and discuss these vital points. The fact cannot be disputed that Heppner is failing to keep pace with the times, and in consequence the surrounding country is passing us by. Crossroads on each side of us are rivaling our business concerns, and it is time to wake up.

Teachers Meeting.
On Monday evening the members of the teachers meeting club will hold their regular session at the home of Mr. E. L. Frelund. These meetings are proving decidedly interesting and instructive, and are not confined to teachers alone, affording others who are literarily inclined an opportunity for study. The literary part of the program is under the supervision of Mrs. Steever while the psychological features are directed by County Superintendent Shipley. Prof. Sibray is programmed for a select reading. The rollcall will be answered with memory gems.

Cunningham Bucks.
The well-known Cunningham Bucks, thoroughbred grades and Delain, will be on exhibition and for sale at Heppner on or about October 1st. Prices to suit the times. In charge of Wm. Hughes.

$50 REWARD.
Will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing horses branded on left shoulder with shield under bar.

Respectfully submitted,
J. W. SHIPLEY, Superintendent.

One Prosperous.
The Lone Post speaks of Lone's future thus: Trade conditions in love are looking up. With the return of open, clear weather the outlook of crops are insured. While the yield will not be so good as that of last year the quality is great, there is yet a large amount of wheat in Morrow county, so as No. 1 and very little of less than No. 2. Harvest will soon be over and the wheat in the warehouses. All that remains is to wait for suitable prices. No wheat to speak of has been sold. The farmers are in much better spirits than they were a week ago. The surplus as well as the rains is over and they are sure of what they have. Whatever the price may be there are many dollars in sight and all that is necessary is to give the word and the wheat turns to gold. The prospects are also in much better spirits and they have substantial reason for it, too. Not only are the prospects good for large sales and good collections, but the sales have actually begun in a very creditable manner. Where the merchants were idle two weeks ago, they are busy now. The business atmosphere of the town in general is better and more activity is seen on every hand.

THE HEPPNER GAZETTE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT ALL outstanding Morrow county warrants for interest prior to and including May 1, 1899, will be paid upon presentation at the office of the treasurer of said county. Interest ceases after the date of this notice.
Date at Heppner, Or., October 2, 1899.
M. LICHTENSTAL,
Treasurer of Morrow County.
