On Tuesday night Joe Luckman returned after a five months visit to his old home in England, from which he had been absent 29 years. While he found the country familiar to him the city of Manchester had underwent such a change that it seemed entirely new to him. While his visit was most enjoyable to him he feels that Morrow county has attractions enough for him. Before going to press we hoped to have a detailed report of his trip, but failed owing to his going to his ranch the next morning.
Left For Olympia.
Mrs. Rev. Shelley, with her daughter Miss Nettie and two young boys, took her departure on Wednesday morning's train for Olympia to join her husband, who, with George French, is conducting a prosperous "Fair" store business. Many are the regrets we hear expressed on every hand that this estimable family have been induced to other fields. They have the earnest wishes of all for a happy future.
A New Physician.
This week introduced to our community a bright young physician and surgeon, Dr. Wm. House, who arrived on Tuesday night's train direct from Buffalo, New York, where he has been practicing. He is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Buffalo, and afterwards served fifteen months as resident surgeon of the Erie County Hospital in Buffalo, also three months in the cholera-infantum hospital at Buffalo, and then one and one-half years in the Manhattan State hospital, of New York City, as assistant surgeon, and now holds the honor of being the lecturer on anatomy in the medical department of the University of Buffalo. The severity of New York's climate necessitated a change with him, and he feels that he is in the country to reside.

A MUSICAL TREAT.
Geo. W. Allan, the up-to-date piano representative of the popular Wiley B. Allen Co., whose pianos are favorite with Heppner musicians, made his first appearance in Heppner last evening at the operahouse before a packed audience, introducing one of the highest-priced graphophones in existence, and the piano, the wonder of the age, the first ever brought to this section. These late scientific productions were a marvel to the audience, and for nearly three hours it was delightfully entertained. This evening as well as tomorrow evening an entirely new program has been arranged, at which an elegant musical instrument will be given away. On Saturday evening he has enlisted the co-operation of Mrs. Herb Bartholomew, Miss Lena Nelson, the famous Chicago violinist, Miss Julia Hart, and Miss Emma a Welob, besides others, and a musical entertainment will be given the public eclipsing anything of its nature ever presented an audience in Heppner. His entire arsenal of instruments will be placed on the stage, and the $900 Knabe will be at the disposal of the musical ladies, with which they can do themselves justice, and it is safe for us to predict that standing room in the operahouse will be at a premium. This entertainment will afford everyone an opportunity of listening to the best class of musical instruments in existence in the hands of those who are equal to many professionals now holding the music lovers spellbound in our largest musical centers. Do not miss this entertainment. An admission of 25 and 50 cents will be charged, with tickets on sale at Couser & Warrens, beginning Friday noon.
FAREWELL PARTY.
Given in Honor of Misses Nettie Shelley and Vera Hart.
On Monday evening a farewell party was given Miss Nettie Shelley, who left for her new Olympia, Wash., home Wednesday morning and Miss Vera Hart, who will leave with her parents for Billgard, Wash. in the very near future, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop. The popularity of these young ladies assembled a throng of young people who are recognized the life of our social events. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner. At 12 o'clock the company dispersed wishing the young ladies a happy future.
Those attending the party were: Mrs. Herb Bartholomew, Mrs. Nelson, Misses Lena Nelson, Edna Van Dusen, Edith Vaughn, Grace Hager, Mable Ayers, Anna Smith, Pearl Wells, Elsie Bartholomew, Maud Flaughter, Myrtle Bryant, May Bailey, Nettie Shelley, Vera Hart, Gertrude Bishop, and Messrs. Will Smith, Will Bell, Will Dutton, T. M. Johnson, Louis Campbell, Louis Babee, Bert Bryant, Garfield Crawford, Osmar Hager, Oscar Borg, Archie Matthews, Hanson Hughes, Percy Garrigues, Nelson Bartholomew and Ralph Bishop.
Sad Misfortune.
Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Vincent, of Butter creek, have the heartfelt sympathy of not only those in their immediate neighborhood, but of the entire community in the untimely death of their lovely little 2-year-old daughter. It seems that in their childlike amusement a sister, aged 4 years, gained possession of a bottle of carbolic acid and a spoon and, playing doctor, gave her little sister a spoonful, with fatal results. Discovering it at once the parents made every effort to save the little one's life, and sent a messenger to town for additional remedies, but the little one had succumbed to its deadly effect before the return of the messenger.
Back From the Races.
Jas. Jones and Dave McAtee returned yesterday from Prineville, where they went to attend the races. They report a very interesting meeting, everything going off in a most satisfactory and orderly manner. The horses taken over by Bennett and Parker failed to win any races. Penland Buttes proved so stubborn that after several attempts to start he was given up. Paul Jones ran second to Bronco, an imported eastern horse, and a very fast one. Paul was slightly lame in his cut foot, which proved unfortunate, as he is beyond a doubt a very fast animal, and Mr. Jones yet has confidence in his recovering to some day upset the talent Harry Bennett took the animals to Antelope where a fair is to be held this week after which he will return here with them. Will Tillard also stopped at Antelope.
